Private and Chronic Diseases, and the suppression of quackery.

Dr. J. L. CZAPKAY, late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician in the 20th Regiment of Honveds, chief surgeon to the military hospital at Pesth, Hungary, and late lecturer on Diseases of Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, would most respectfully inform the public of Oregon and California that he has opened an Institute for the cure of Chronic Diseases of the lungs, liver, kidneys, heart, blood, brain and the horrid consequences of self-abuse, and he hopes that his long experience and successful practice of many years, will insure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, and during the Hungarian war and campaigns, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no Mercury—charges moderate—treats his patient in a correct and honorable way—has references of unquestionable veracity from men of known respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him by letter, or otherwise, will receive the best and gentlest treatment, and implicit secrecy. The Dr.'s affices are on Sacramento st., below Montgomery, San Francisco, California.

SPERMATORRHEA OR LOCAL WEAKNESS.
Dr. L. J. Czapkay would call public attention to spermatorrhea or local weakness. There is not in the catalogue of human muladies one more to be deprecated than this, as well because of present distress, as the altimate results. The tone of the system under its indicence is either impaired or entirely destroyed, and a class of symptoms superinduced that undits must for the performance of any of the ordinary daties of life. The injuries done to the physical part of man is truly lamentable, but trilling when compared to those of the censorium, the great nervous center, and to the nervous system generally. This disease, which is too often consequent upon that solitary vice, self-shuse, involves nathological conditions beyond the comprehension of theminitiated, but which are well understood by the regular practitioner. Among the symptoms must conspicuous are the following: Love of solitade, aversion to business and society, distressing timidity, nervous excitement from slight causes, loss of memory, confusion of ideas, inshifty to reason carrectly. low spirits and lassitade, dullness of apprehension and misanthropy.—These being functional derancements, are often the hardingers of horrid organic lesions of the brain, which roduce fataity, dementia and death.

For the cure of this and all kindred diseases, Dr. Zankay has established his lastinate, where all may rely with perfect confidence upon that skill which long sperience and thorough devotion to his profession has given.

Scoret Diseases.—Dr. L. J. Czapkays extraordinary success in the treatment of secret diseases in the primary and other stages, induces him to all public attention to the fact that of the great namers who have made daily application to him, there is not one who has not been effectually and permanently sured. In recent cases of private diseases, the Dr. guaranties a perfect cure in a few days without hindrance to besidess or other incomence. The Dr.'s method of treating these malades, combines the improvements made by the medical faculty with discoveries of his own that are unknown to any one else, and which, when applied, prevent the possibility of cvil after consequences.

Secondary syphilis, which is so deatractive of health, producing alterations of the throat, destroying the soft parts, and having the hones exposed, which mortify, separate and come away, disfiguring the sufferer most partially, as well as impairing his general health, and or ellipsesing to consumption, the Dr. treats in the most act in and ellicient manner. Also, painful swellings pion the buses, disfiguring splitches upon the skin, are splingles, and all other consequences of private liseases he guaranties to cure or asks no compensation.

Dr. C. would especially call the attention of these who have failed to obtain relief from others, many of whom we has already carred, and many are still under treatment. The Dr. makes no charge for conscitation, and many are still under treatment. The Dr. makes no charge for conscitation, and many are still under treatment. That they can be prevented by proper agents, is as well an established fact as that they can be cared after their establishment. This principle, which is now universally recognized, was received even before the days of Jenner, the discoverre of vaccination, in 1796, and its multiplied benefits ever since have received as they deserred, the attention of the Medical faculty. It was in pursuit of this branch of the medical science that Dr. L. J. Czapkay fortunately made the discovery of his Prophylacticum, which, for the camernos and entanous discreters, stands unrivalled by any agent in the Pharmacopeas. The modus operands of this medicine is explained upon the hypothesis that secret poisons possess chemical properties which are neutralized by reing brought in contact with this prophylatic, as acids are known to neutralize alkalies, destroying entirely their original properties, and rendering them inert.—The effect of this agent is immediate, and removes the possibility of a contraction of disease. If, however, the disease has been contracted, it is useful in neutralizing the poisonous secretions, which by absorption, produce the consequences known as secondary disease. In cancerous and gangerous ulcers, in fortid discharges and in cutanous diseases where the secretions are exceriating, it acts upon the same principle and is one of the most effectual remedies for the purpose now known. Where Besase is once established it should be used in connection with other remedies, and when so used never fails of success. It has been administered by the Dector in namy thousand cases, and he has yet to find the first in which it has failed to subserve the purpose for which it was administered. Price, $

To the Ladies of Origion and California.—L. J. Caapkay, M. D., physician surgeon and accoucher, invites the attention of the sick and afflicted females laboring under any of the various forms of diseases of the scain, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, womb, blood, kidneys, and all diseases peculiar to their sex. The Doctor is effecting more permanent cares than any other physician in Oregon or California. Let no false delicacy prevent you but apply inmediately, and save yourself from painful suffering and promature death. All married ladies, whose delicate health or other circumstances to not allow to have an increase in their families should write or call at Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Medical Institute Armory Hall, corner of Surramento and Montgomery directs, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's Offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without molestation.
