House.—Judge Boise administered the oath of office to to the Governor of the State, whereupon he delivered to the two houses the following inaugural address:

Gentlemen of the Senate, and House of Representatives, and Fellow Citizens of Oregon:—

You are assembled here to-day under the provisions of the fundamental law of the State—the people, by their own act, called a convention—that convention framed a constitution, the people ratified it and to-day we put on the habiliments of the full grown man, and emerge from territorial vassalage into State sovereignty. It is worthty of note, that while the people of Oregon were preparing for a State organization, the government of the United States was menaced and greatly imperiled by the acts of a sister Territory while framing for itself a constitution, preparatory to entering the Union. It is a matter of gratification, that no such lawless conduct and violation of rights characterized the people of our young and fair State, while preparing to become one of the members of this great confederacy, and it is attributable to the fact that Oregon was peopled by a high order of citizens—a people possessing a due sense of their moral and political duties to themselves, and a spirit of forbearance one toward another.

The transition from a Territorial existence to that of State sovereignty is always attended with more or less disorder and delay, but when we consider the changes that Oregon has passed through—the people, when but a handful, organized and successfully maintained a provisional government, which government was superceded by an organic act, and Gen. Lane sent here as our first Governor, the people readily accommodated themselves to the government and to his authority; and now they declare that they are ready for another change, and assume State sovereignty.

Oregon goes into the Union under the most favorable auspices—a democratic administration at Washington, standing by the constitution and the Union—a full and hearty endorsement of that administration by the government and people of this State—a Representative (elect) in Congress, fully committed to the policy of that administration—and Senators known to be ardent in their support of the same, we feel warranted in saying that the interests of our State will be ably and successfully represented in the Congress of the United States.

It is much to be regretted that our people have suffered so long by the supineness and tardy action of Congress in relation to our war debt. And I regard it as one of the immediate advantages to be derived from our admission into the Union as an independent State, that through the influence of our members in Congress, the minds of members of that body will be more effectually disabused, and speedy action be had, and an appropriation made by which our citizens shall receive a full recompense for their property sold and services rendered.

Oregon is probably one of the most attractive portions of the North American continent, at once beautiful and picturesque, with a healthy and salubrious climate, well adapted to the production of all the cereals and most of the other grains common to the United States—a sea-board of some three hundred miles, with numerous harbors, and inexhaustable fisheries—arable land sufficient to supply three millions of souls with bread—grazing land sufficient to supply twice that number with meats—probably no country better adapted to the production of wool, flax and hemp, and it is admitted that Oregon excels in her growth of fruit—her mountains are covered with the finest of timber and underlaid with gold, and recent discoveries show that we are not without a goodly supply of lime and coal—her streams affording some of the best water privileges in the world and her rivers are navigable for steamboats at all times of the year.

Oregon ought and might be an extensive exporting country, yet on the contrary she imports many articles that might be manufactured in the country, thereby increasing her prosperity, growth and importance.

When our people become a manufacturing people—when they produce those articles of necessity, for which they are so eminently capable—when our exports shall equal or overbalance our imports, then, and not until then, will Oregon become truly great.

The act of Congress by which we are admitted into the Union is, in my opinion, sufficiently generous to recommend itself to the favorable consideration of the people of Oregon. The grant of the 16th and 36th sections of land for school purposes is merely a continuation of a provision contained in the organic act. Seventy-two sections are set apart for the use of a State University—ten sections are granted, to be applied to the erection of public buildings, and twelve salt springs, together with seventy-two sections, are given to the State, to be disposed of in such a manner as the Legislature shall provide; and the usual per-centage on the net proceeds from the sale of public lands within our limits, making in the aggregate, ninety-eight thousand five hundred and sixty acres of land, exclusive of the 16th and 36th sections; forty-five thousand and eighty acres of which is to be applied to educational purposes. Although this grant appears liberal and generous, yet, it may be difficult to find lands in any of the valleys, west of the Cascade range of mountains, of a desirable quality, unoccupied, subject to be located under the provisions of this bill.

I may be expected to say something in relation to the course I may pursue while in the discharge of the duties of the place assigned me by the partiality of my fellow-citizens.

I enter upon the discharge of the duties of the office of Governor with diffidence and misgivings as to my ability to discharge the duties of so high and responsible an office in a manner to subserve and advance the best interests of the State; but, shall be governed strictly by the constitution, trusting much to the wisdom, intelligence and patriotism of the Legislature and the people, endeavoring to discharge the duties of the office faithfully, impartially and to the best of my ability for common good of all.

I shall endeavor to keep politics as far removed from my official acts as may be consistent with the circumstances which brought about my election. It is the doctrine of all parties that the agents of the party in power should be selected from that party which is responsible for the manner in which the government is administered, and my administration will form no exception to the general rule. Much as I should regret to exercise that privilege under the constitution, wherein the Governor is clothed with a negative power on all subjects of legislation, yet I shall never shrink from the exercise of the veto power when, in my opinion, my oath, or the public good demand it.

I desire, gentlemen, at this time to offer my thanks to the people of Oregon for their confidence, as expressed by their selection of myself as the head of the executive department of the State, pledging myself against the abuse of that confidence, offering you the assurance that whatever ability I may possess shall be brought to the discharge of the duties of my position.

I congratulate you on the happy and prosperous condition of our country—our people enjoy health and prosperity. Under divine providence we are blessed with abundant harvests and it is fitting that we, at this time, commend our infant State to the protection of an all wise being.

The joint convention dissolved, and the bill relating to courts passed.

The bill levying a State tax of three mills was taken up, in committee of the Whole, Mr. Harding in the chair.

Mr. Slater moved to reduce to two mills.

Mr. Dryer opposed the reduction. We had extraordinary expenses at the start of the State of Government. We ought to pay the expenses of the Constitutional Convention, and we ought to pay other extra expenses. The credit system was niggardly economy. Three mills would raise not over $60,000, all of which we should need for the first year.

Mr. Cruzan moved 2½ mills—accepted.

Mr. Lassater supported the three mills.—If we intended to pay the expenses of the Constitutional Convention, it was not too much. If it was not, it was. But, as he understood it was intended to pay the expenses of the Constitutional Convention, he should go for three mills.

Two-and-a-half mills was adopted.

Mr. T'Vault moved to amend he said so as to avoid a Constitutional difficulty. Mr. T'Vault spoke at length.

Mr. Tichenor said he could not tell which side Mr. T'Vaut was on. He had argued both sides, and then went back to where he began. He was in favor of 2½ mills to meet the expenses of the State, and did not know what was meant by "gradating the revenue."

Mr. Harding regretted the reduction to 2½ mills. It was the duty of the State to pay the expenses of the Constitutional Convention—the first expense of he State. He preferred three mills which would pay all expenses, but should be compelled to vote for 2½, or leave the State without revenue.

Mr. Tichenor introduced a bill legalizing an informal vote locating the county seat of Curry county.

Mr. Tichenor explained the bill—to establish the county seat at mouth of Rogue River. Bill passed.

The Yamhill contested election case was discussed, but resolution not taken up.

Mr. Wait offered a resolution, providing for adjournment to-morrow. Adjourned.

Friday, July 9, 1858.

Senate.—The revenue bills passed, and some other business transacted. Adjourned sine die.

Friday, July 9, 1858.

House.—Mr. Barch offered a resolution directing the Secretary of State to procure rooms and furniture for the legislature, Governor and Secretary—adopted.

Mr. Nelson, of Yamhill, resigned his seat.

Mr. Stevens offered a resolution declaring the seat vacant—adopted.

The 2½ mill tax bill passed. Adjourned.

Afternoon.—Mr. Dryer offered humbug preamble and resolutions declaring war against Vancouver's Island, &c., which were postponed until September, the country being unable to go to war until after harvest.

Adjourned sine die.

Territorial Legislature—1858-'9.

House of Representatives.

Below is a list of the members of the Territorial legislature. It is not unlikely that the bill to admit the State failed in the House, and that therefore the usual session of the Territorial Assembly will have to be held in the months of December and January:

Democrats. All not marked with a star () are black republicans.

†In Marion county, at the late election Samuel Parker was voted for for Councilman in some precincts, upon supposition that Edward Sheil, the Councilman of last year, had removed from the district. If he has left only temporarily, without intention of changing his residence, the seat was not vacated. If he had changed his residence, the seat was vacant, and Mr. Parker will be the successor. Both are democrats.

☞ The style of getting the dollar will insure the true method of its use. The fortune meanly gained will be meanly spent; for the plain reason that a man who degraded himself to obtain his money, unless he becomes a better man, will continue to act from the same low level, and scourge the community worse in the use than in the getting of his wealth.

A CARD.

Dr. J. L. Coombe, Eye Surgeon, Corvallis, has furnished a building upon the plan of a common boarding-house, except in the adaptation to treatment of persons affected by diseases of the eye. The operating and consulting rooms are in the same building—one part of which is occupied by a gentlemen and his wife, who perform the duty of steward and cook. Well qualified attendants are provided for those patients who are blind or otherwise helpless. The terms will be the same as in ordinary boarding houses.

The fact being obvious that diet and habits of patients being under immediate supervision of the Surgeon, greater success must attend his practice, and that this, and only this has given celebrity to California physicians over those of Oregon. He would respectfully suggest to those of our physicians who do not possess these facilities to commend an institution of this character in our midst, in preference to those of Cal.
June 23, 1858. 1y15

☞ Let no false delicacy prevent the invalid from seeking medical relief—the card of Dr. L. J. Czapkay, to be found in another column indicates where to obtain a reliable and competent physician. It is seldom that we are called upon to bear testimony in favor of the skill of a physician, but a sense of duty as well as justice demands that we should not pass Dr. Czapkay by, without something more than a mere mention. Unlike the greater portion of those who thrust themselves and their nostrums before the public, whose practices are empirical, Dr. Czapkay is a gentleman of rare medical and scientific attainments, having held the position of chief surgeon of the liberating army during the late Hungarian revolution, and is possessed of all the requisite experiences and skill for the successfull practice of his profession. It is to the care and advice of such a physician we would command all suffering from the effects of sexual or private disease, feeling assured that in all such complaints, whether arising from infection, indiscretion, self-abuse, or loss of virility, he can guarantee, from his extensive practice, a speedy and permanent cure. To those suffering from the effects of physical and mental debility, we would say let common sense take the place of false modesty, and seek such advice as will save you from an untimely grave and lead you back again to pristine health, consult Dr. Czapkay, whom we cheerfully endorse as a skillful and tried physician, capable of coping with and successfully eradicating those self-inflicted miseries, the evils of empirical practice and all diseases of a private nature. Dr. Czapkay's rooms are on Sacramento, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Office, San Francisco.

Hostetter's Bitters.—Dyspeptics! If you would be well, try a bottle of Hostetter's Bitters. It acts like a charm in giving a healthy tone to the digestive organs and in strengthening the nervous system. Especially is its utility as a tonic and a preventitive of languor of the highest value, when the whole nervous and muscular system relaxes, and effects a condition which permits the approach of diseases. There is not a single instance known of its failure to do good, where it has been used according to directions. Try it. For sale by druggists and at saloons generally. San Francisco, May, 1858. 3m12

Dr. L. J. Czapkay's Surgical and Medical Institute is so extensively known in this Territory that any notice of it, or of him, might seem superfluous. Yet fearing that there are those who heretofore having no need of medical aid, have neglected to ascertain the proper sources of relief in cases of misfortunes. To those we beg leave to direct attention to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, who is certainly a Physician of great skill and wonderful success in his profession. The Dr. has devoted much attention to the treatment of chronic and private diseases, and stands unrivalled in his management of them. To those who need such assistance we cheerfully recommend Dr. L. J. Czapkay; it would be well at all events to consult him, as he makes no charge for consultation, and much good might result from it. The Dr. guarantees a cure in all cases or asks no compensation.

Being located in Salem, for the summer, he will be prepared to leave the first of the fall for any point on the river, where lumber is wanted.

And having made arrangements with the steamers plying on the upper Willamette, he will be prepared to send dressed, tongued & grooved lumber, to any point on the river where the steamers stop.

All orders for lumber of every description will receive prompt attention and quick dispatch.

London Club House Gin.
TO THE PUBLIC.

THIS celebrated Gin—pretending to nothing but what it is, viz: a pure and unadulterated article, and assuming no artificial merits of what it is not, as some of its rival imitators do—after eight years of public approval and very extensive sales, in the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Boston, and the Western cities, has been pronounced by the public, as well as by the best medical and scientific authorities of the U. S. and the Canadas, to be superior, not only a beverage of general use, to any other article competing against it, but is unequalled in its medicinal efficiency in all classes of complaints. To persons traveling in these days of rapid transit from East to West, North and South, and more particularly to those crossing the Isthmus, and who are constantly changing their water as well as climate—who are drinking, indeed, a dozen kinds of water in every twenty-four hours, and each draught containing some property acting in chemical antagonism to the preceding one, thereby causing an unnatural degree of excitement to the stomach—it is positively and absolutely necessary to use a counteracting agent. From the fact that this article is prepared expressly to meet such exigencies, and to act, as we know it will act, as an antidote, we confidently prescribe it as the very best article in the country. The name of Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps has never been attached in any way to this article.

THE LONDON CLUB HOUSE GIN

Requires none of the usual "caution to the public" to beware of counterfeits, it being, like all other genuine articles, beyond the base art of counterfeiting.

The London Club House Gin is an antidote to the horrible adulteration to which everything alcoholic is submitted—the noxious poisons made up and sold as AROMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, &c., &c.

The London Club House Gin requires no "word of advice," no "caution to the public." Those who once drink it, find the security in its virtues against the vicious temptations of drinking any of its vile imitations even under "advice;" while those who "caution the public" against counterfeiters, have themselves been cautioned by the public to beware of any but The London Club House Gin.
WILLIAM H. DALY.
Sole Importer, New York.

Notice.—The unexampled success of

THE LONDON CLUB HOUSE GIN

Has induced a host of imitators, who are putting up an inferior article, under similar titles. Purchasers will please notice the fac-simile of the signature of the undersigned on the label.
