

MOULDS AND SLAVES.

The question of the propriety of the... The object of this article is to...

Mr. Douglas asserts that Congress has no power under the constitution to legislate for the territories...

Each has defended his position with great ability... The constitution of 1787, was in force at the time of the adoption of the constitution...

But it is worthy of note as we go along that the exercise of this power by Congress was made discretionary...

Very little is said here about politics. It seems to be self-evident that the Lane society will have their own way in this country...

Mr. Douglas's principle of "squatter sovereignty" is, however, in accordance with the theory of our republican institutions...

LETTER FROM JUDGE STRATTON.

You seem to felicitate yourself on the assumption that Dr. Wood's answer proves nothing. I do not so interpret it...

As a public officer, I hold myself amenable to the public eye, and I am sure that for every official act, as well as for my private conduct...

Dear Statesman—We have just returned from a prospecting tour on "Gold Hill" and vicinity. All the seemingly fabulous tales that have been told and published with reference to that region...

Dear Statesman—The Statesman of this week only reached Portland this morning. Your numerous subscribers and readers were disappointed in not getting the Statesman at the usual time...

Dr. W. H. R. Wood, Sacramento, Cal.—Sir: About the first of December last I addressed a letter to you upon a subject which I supposed fair and legitimate...

Permit me to believe that such principles do not flourish in the soil of California. I am sure that you are quite open to the suggestion that you do Oregon...

Touching rumors of your conduct at Washington, you very coolly ask if I have not been guilty of partisanship in publishing the slander against you? Well, and what sense have I been a publisher? I wrote a private and confidential letter, making no charges...

LETTER FROM ALBANY.

I do not know why Delusion should make such a fuss over that list of stockholders. He need not be ashamed of them. He is trying to get out of being associated with Lane and Chapman and Adair...
