IF We should be sorry to believe that the for gs expressed by one Adams, Collector of Customs at Astoria, Oregon, towards these Col-onies, are entertained by any very large portion of the American people. Who or what this Adams is, we do not care to know; but we can tell him what he is not—a gentleman; or he could not have penned the following in rela-tion to the Beef Embargo. The extract is from a letter written to Victor Smith: "I have per-emptorily shut down on the expertation of all kinds of 'live stock' to Victoria, even to b'ood hounds, or anything of the foor legged animal kind that a British soldier, or one of Jeff's ragmuffin cut throats, could either eat, ride, or hiss on the track of a Union man. I should have been glad to have enforced an order prohibit-ing the shipment of even a pint of beans or peck of bran to our secession flag-raising neighors." - Victoria Chronicle.

The Chronicle has guessed very accurately what this "one Adams" is not. The Chronicle would not have missed the mark a hair's breadth if it had also guessed that this "one Adams" is not anything but a billingsgate babbler, and a conceited, arrogant, pestilent abolition fanatic, who, dressed in a little brief authority, imagines himself a man instead of a

In the third place, we presume "one Adams" had been kicked in Victoria, and felt rather spiteful toward the Victorians. In the fourth place, he was "glad" to enforce the order, and would have been glad to enforce an order prohibiting the exportation of even a pint of beans, because destroying an important trade of our people and stirring up feuds with our neighbors give natural play to his roling passion-excessive meanness.

The people of Oregon will, no doubt, duly appreciate Billy-goat's benevolent good will toward their pecuniary relations with the British provinces.

A CAT UNDER THE MEAL.

The radical rats have got themselves into a furor about a supposed "cat under the meal" in General Meade's tub. Radical journals cannot excuse the failure and from "a sense of duty," cannot concen'- from the public, the public disappointmen.z. Meade is already charged with "incompetence" and an "inexplicable tardiness."-The N. Y. Tribune says:

The disloyal press of this city scizes on the fault of General Meade as the justification of the far more inexcusable and unaccountable blunder of General McClellau, by which the half-beaten rebel army was suffered to escape after the battle of Antietam. Annihilation of the rebel army was the measure of the radical demand, without regard to possibilities, and that being onaccomplished, the splendid victories that preceded Lee's departure for the sacred soil, went for nothing. There is a marked difference between the treatment by the radicals of Burn.

Scrofula, or king's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a correption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes virtated, week, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out its disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofusions taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venercal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the red of Him who says, "I will visit the inquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of cercupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubescles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, cruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perich by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleame it from the system we must removate the blood by an alternive medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in Compound Extract of Sarsaparille, the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed as the care of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Eurermand Skin Diseases, Sr. Annicon's First, Rose, or Envirences, Phiples, Pustles, Richems Blains and Bolls, Tenons, Thermand Sair Rubem, Scald Hears, Ringman, Rardan, Drove Drepersa, Dennity, and, indeed, all Complain Ausing from Vittath on Indust. Complain and in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaprilla is to purify and regenerate this vital flui without which sound health is impossible in cultaminated constitutions.

Fever and Ague is not alone the consequence of the miasmatic poison. A great variety of disorders arise from its irritation, among which are Neurolpia, Rhamatism, Gout, Headuche, Blindness, Toethache, Excache, Calarrh, Asthma, Falpitation, Painful Affection of the Spieza, Hysterice, Pain in the Bouch, Cole. Paratysis and Deraugement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause, put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "Cum" expels the poison from the blood, and consequently cures them all alike. It is an invaluable protection to immigrants and persons travelling or temporarily residing in the scalarious districts. If taken occasionally or daily while exposed to the infection, that will be excreted from the system, and cannot accumulate in sufficient quantity to ripen into disease. Hence it is even more valuable for protection than cure, and few will ever suffer from Internittents if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.
