As the story goes—and it is well vouched for—the prisoner lay down and went to sleep at night, and then next morting, waking up rather chilly, he went to one corner of the institution, shoved out one end of a log,crawled through, raised up the other corner and took the log out bodily. He then proceeded to shoulder it and must not to the next to the next to the log to make a fire, by which he wared himself, and then went in, ato his breakfast, and immediately retraced his steps to the jail, crawled in where he came out, and went to bed. All this soon became known in the village, whereupon the jail was pronounced safe and sufficient. The institution was shortly afterwards burned down, which gave rise to the necessity of building the present "paying institution" at Portland.

In 1853, Pratt, being a man of "thrift," and enterprise and having learned the foregoing facts, conceived the magnificent project of raising the aforesaid sum, with interest, out of the territorial treasury and depositing it comfortably with his own "little means." The next winter, he succeeded, through some of his friends, in connectsaid newly-named half-breed with the proposition to remove the capital from Salem to Corvallis, and so it got through. The next summer, the benevelent Pratt, who only wanted to "obtain justice" for the "poor Indian" and "be vindicated," brought his suit and produced in court the depositions of sundry other half-breeds or other respectable persons, said by him to be living in Cellifornia and altogether, unknown in Oregon.

Scrofula, or King's Evil.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitared, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destray. The corour loss taint is variously caused by mineurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing view, and, above all, by the venerial infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is terused tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, crupitions or seres. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrafulous constitutions not only suffer from served has everaliants, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, nithough not scrafulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination, and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alternative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
