THE PROPOSITION OF JEFF. DAVIS TO EUROPEAN POWERS.

VERITAR.

[Correspondence of the New York Tribune.

Washington, July 30.

The Government, I am told, has received further information on the subject of the recent propositions made by Jeff. Davis to the crowned hends of Europe—propositions of which a Democratic newspaper of New York has already given a brief summary, and to which you have alluded in your own columns.

According to the information, it would appear that on the 4th of July last, a Cabinet council was held at Richmond, in which it was decided to obtain from some European Power an interest equivalent to a protectorate. To that effect inducements of the strongest kind were deliberately proposed and assented to by all the members of the rebel Government. These inducements were not offered to Loois Napoleon alone, but to England and Spain also. Although identical as to the results to be brought about, they were different in their nature and character, so as to be suited to the peculiar views and interests of the nation to which they were to be offered.

Not one, as it has been said, but thrue bearcers of dispatches were sent from Richmond to Europe, each of them carrying with him a copy of the three messages to England. France and Spain. This was done as a prudential measure, so that if any one of the dispatch bearers had been arrested, the others might have escaped, and delivered to Mason or Slidell the three separate instructions respectively addressed by Jeff. Davis to the three Governments alluded to. Two of these bearers of dispatches went through Baltimore to New York, where they halted a couple of days, during which they saw several of your prominent Democratic politicians. The other, who started a week afterward, made direct for Buston, where he took the steamer for Europe. I do not helieve the Government has received any procise knowledge of the contents of the new instructions sent to Europe by these messengers. One thing, however, is certain—Jeff. Davis has made no concessions concerning slavery, for this simple reason, that he could make none.

A year ago Louis Napoleon, in a conversation wi to excite our apprehension—it is the acceptance of it. Will Louis Napoleon accept the alliance proposed to him by the South? Here is the dauger, and here lies the whole question. All the rebel Government may do does not affect us in the least, unless its policy is attended with success.

with success.

In this instance the probabilities are that it In this instance the probabilities are that it will not succeed. Louis Napoleon is too shrewd a politician to burden himself with an alliance in which he would give everything and receive nothing. In what can an alliance with the South possibly be of any advantage to him? Guarantee Mexico? He will tell Jeff. Davis: Guarantee Mexico? He will tell Jeff. Davis:
"You cannot guarantee your own frontiers;
how can you propose to guarantee mine? You will give me a mortgage on Texas? But that mortgage I can take myself without your leave.
Your alliance gives me no army, no mavy, no
money, nothing which can benefit in any way
my policy in the New World, and it exposes ine to a war with the North. You have everything to gain and I have everything to lose.
The burgain is not even, and I cannot accept
it."

This is, in all probability, the answer which the propositions of Jeff. Davis to Louis Napoleon will receive, at least for the present. This knowledge of the position, as well as the cautious and moderate views of the Emperor of the French on American affairs, make our Government believe that the fears arising on the subject of an alliance of the South with France are groundless, and that Louis Napoleon can in no way enter into an agreement of this kind.

this kind.

ENORMOUS FRAUDS UPON THE GOVERN-MEST.—At Harrisburg, Pa., considerable excitement has been created by the discovery of enormous frauds upon the Government during the recent army movements in that region, consequent on the rebel foray. The amounts are stated at millions of dollars. A number of prominent State politicians have been placed under arrest, and the subject will receive the most searching investigation by the War Department. The most corrupt practices have prevailed in horse contracts and in clothing and subsistence supplies. They throw the "shoddy" operators at Harrisburg in the Summer of 1861 entirely into the shade. Many of the same parties are implicated, and the gangs who have infected the State capital of Pennsylvania in the Winter have reaped a rich Summer harrest. It is reported that the State troops were in almost a starving condition, while one heavy operator in a single week cleared half a million of dollars.
