

Our regular correspondent from the Boise mines writes that not a number of the Statesman has reached Bannock City. We have sent several copies regularly for several months. Stealing newspapers out of the mails and expressing between here and the mines, has become an intolerable nuisance. Out of hundreds sent, probably only ten arrive at their destination. Why will not the very efficient Postal Agent pay that region a visit!

Parties from Cariboo, represent that the mining season is closed, snow having already commenced falling. About 2,000 men had been at work on Williams' creek this summer. Laborers' wages had been $10 per day.

The Oregonian has been shown some raspberries, the second crop this season from a stalk of this year's growth.

Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne is playing a very successful engagement at the Willamette Theater, Portland.

The Grand Lodge of Masons of Oregon held its annual session in Salem last week. The following officers were elected and installed:

John McCracken, Grand Master; S. F. Chadwick, Deputy Grand Master; A. A. Smith, Senior Grand Warden; Josiah Myrick, Junior Grand Warden; A. M. Bell, Grand Treasurer; W. S. Caldwell, Grand Secretary; C. H. Lewis, Chairman, Board of Education.

Drowned.—Edward L. son of Wm. P. Bruce, aged about two years, was drowned by accident, falling into a spring on his father's ranch, on Touchet, on the 5th inst.—Lewiston Age.

THE BILLS ALONG THE COLUMBIA.—Mr. Lewis Day informs us that the miners on the Columbia at White Bluffs and above, believe that the gold they obtain there has never come down the river. They have prospected in the banks and found a large distance from the river, and after digging some distance from the surface, they came to a gravel mixed with clay in which they find prospects nearly as good as those they obtain on the bars.—W. H. Statesman.

The Mountaineer states that Geo. E. Cole, Congressman elect for Washington Territory, has left for Washington City.

Discoveries of gold bearing quartz continue to be made on the head waters of the Santiam. Over a dozen have already been found.

Peaches and potatoes are each selling at Jacksonville at one dollar per bushel.

The fall races over the Rybee course in Jackson county, have been postponed from the 15th to the 22d of October.

Rogue River Valley is producing large quantities of the choicest apples, pears, plums, peaches, and nectarines. It will be useless for fruit growers in the Willamette Valley to attempt sending fruit to this valley, expecting to compete with those who produce it here.—Intelligencer.

The receipts of the State Fair were somewhat over estimated by us last week. The Treasurer states them at $1,000.

Articles of incorporation were filed last week by the "Union mining company," capital $457,500. This company is organized for the purpose of working the newly discovered quartz lodes on the Santiam river. It consists of some of the most thorough going business men in this county. We understand that an arastra is to be at once erected, for the purpose of fully testing the richness of the lodes.

One night this week, the dwelling house of F. Hirshey, situated on the north side of Rogue river, about three miles below J. B. White's, was robbed of all its contents, bedding, clothing, flour, bacon, rice, shot-gun, ammunition, etc. No clue as to who the operating party was.—Intelligencer, 19th.

A man named William Hunter was thrown from a horse at Portland last week, and his neck broken.

$315,000 of treasure was shipped from Portland on the Brother Jonathan, last week.

Late discoveries of gold bearing quartz leads have been made in several places in the Cascade range of mountains, and in the Blue mountains—nearly all of them rich, far beyond the average.

It is stated by the Oregonian that Captain Medorum Crawford's emigrant escort arrived at Bannock City on the 7th inst., where he disembarked his company and sold his stock.

The circuit court for this county begins its fall session two weeks from to-day. The county court, next Monday.

John Loudon, Jr., of Linn county was accidentally drowned in the Santiam river a short distance below Lebanon, on Wednesday, the 16th.

The full extent of the mishaps to one of our farms, last week, was not stated. Among other matter destroyed, were a great number of advertisements, some of them legal notices, which may occasion the necessity of parties to them, to not be at any additional expense of the advertisers. All the advertisements paid will be reset, and will appear as usual in this and the next issue.

Last Wednesday, the 23d, was the Israelitish day of atonement, and was observed by fasting and prayer.

The Times publishes a statement of the total amounts of U. S. Revenue taxes assessed in Oregon, for the year ending September 1st, 1863, from which we extract the following table:

Table with 2 columns: Division No. and Amount. Includes Clatsop, Columbia, and Tillamook counties.

This amounts to nearly $2 per head for the entire population, as returned by the last census.

The following gentlemen have been appointed enrolling officers by the Provost Marshal: Wm. Porter, of Marion; A. R. McCool, Benton; Capt. John Smith, Linn; Wm. Grant, Polk; S. W. Gillette, Clatsop; C. H. Davidson, Tillamook; Nathan Olson, Wasco; W. H. Haley, Lane; C. W. Savage, Jackson.

A letter in the Oregonian reports the arrival at the mines of the last of the emigration, a train of eighty wagons, with Capt. Crawford's escort.

Diphtheria is very prevalent and fatal at Portland. The cases of mortality are mostly among children.

A train of 40 wagons with German families, arrived at the Dalles on the 18th. They were bound to Astoria, in this county. The more, the better, if they are as valuable citizens as those already there.

In FUNGUS.—The Paymaster was arrested on Thursday last, and paid the Infantry company stationed at Fort Dalles, as also the company of cavalry camped on Five Mile Creek.—Dalles Mountaineer.

Louis Brightbecher, near Jefferson, accidentally shot himself about a week ago, in the arm so severely that amputation became necessary.

At a republican convention held at Bannock City on the 16th inst., Gov. Wallace of Idaho was nominated for Delegate to Congress. Another convention is to be held at the Mountain House on the 29th. There are likely to be several candidates in the field. The Governor is absent in respect of nomination, if not in the color of his merchandise.

Money seems to be rather scarce over our State. Perhaps it is because his pig didn't take a premium.

EASTERN NEWS.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE STATESMAN.

BY SUNDAY'S STAGE.

The Battle Continues—Rosencrans opposes the Armies of Lee and Bragg—Great Slaughter—Rosencrans falls back on Chattanooga.

CHICAGO, 22. The battle of Saturday 19th resulted well for us, we having had our own as established on the left and concentrated our forces, and on Sunday morning the rebels were driven back on a ridge of hills and our left protected by rude works drawn up during the night on each side of Rossville and Lafayette road 4 miles south of Knoxville.

In the night of Saturday we lost about 600 killed and 2,000 wounded, and were ahead 3 pieces of artillery. The fight was resumed at 9 o'clock on the morning of Sunday the 20th by attempt of the rebels to storm Thomas and the front; they were several times seriously repulsed with heavy loss, and but little loss to us. The fight lasted one hour and a half and was the most terrific of the war, continuous fire of musketry and artillery being kept up with deadly effect. During this time our right and center not being engaged skinned their rifles, and were busy in finding their assaults in vain unmaneuvered to the left with the intention of throwing their force on the Rossville road and attack Thomas on the left flank. At this juncture Thomas ordered Bragg to stop with one brigade in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

THE BATTLE CONTINUES—ROSENCRANS OPPOSES THE ARMIES OF LEE AND BRAGG—GREAT SLAUGHTER—ROSENCRANS FALLS BACK ON CHATTANOOGA.

CHICAGO, 22.

The battle of Saturday 19th resulted well for us, we having had our own as established on the left and concentrated our forces, and on Sunday morning the rebels were driven back on a ridge of hills and our left protected by rude works drawn up during the night on each side of Rossville and Lafayette road 4 miles south of Knoxville.

In the night of Saturday we lost about 600 killed and 2,000 wounded, and were ahead 3 pieces of artillery. The fight was resumed at 9 o'clock on the morning of Sunday the 20th by attempt of the rebels to storm Thomas and the front; they were several times seriously repulsed with heavy loss, and but little loss to us. The fight lasted one hour and a half and was the most terrific of the war, continuous fire of musketry and artillery being kept up with deadly effect. During this time our right and center not being engaged skinned their rifles, and were busy in finding their assaults in vain unmaneuvered to the left with the intention of throwing their force on the Rossville road and attack Thomas on the left flank. At this juncture Thomas ordered Bragg to stop with one brigade in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left of the line and protect the flanks.

Gen. Rosencrans at the same time sent Gen. Davis and two brigades in front, and two with Reynolds, who was holding the key of a position which was on Thomas' right, to move to the left