Since the present rebellion began, about 200,000 soldiers, after entering service, have been discharged on surgeon's certificate of disability. It is probable that at least one-half of them were unfit for service when received. It may sufely be said that at least $40,000,000 was uselessly expended in bringing them into the field to say nothing of their subsequent expense to the government. in great Britain, under the system of volume

In great Britain, under the system of voluntary chilatments, the rejections average over 27 per cest. In France, from 1831 to 1842, the number of exemptions annually was 94.860; so that, to secure the contingent of 80.000 men. 174.800 conscripts were annually examined.

Of the recruits who presented themselves for enlistment in our regular army in 1855, 70 per cent, were rejected for physical infirmities, exclusive of age or stature. Between the 1st of January and 1st of July last, more than one-half were rejected. These were men who desired to be accepted. These proportions are of interest in connection with the fact that less than one-third of the drafted men who desire not to be accepted, have been exempted on ac-than one-third of the drafted men who desire not to be accepted, have been exempted on account of physical unitness.

There have been but few cases of incompetency, fraud, neglect or abuse, in the examination of drafted men. These men have, however, in many ways been swindled by rogues having no connection with the Boards of enrollment, as for example, the fact that certain drafted men were physically unfit for service, has become known to these sharpers, when it was, perhaus, not known to the men themselves. drafted men were physically unfit for service, has become known to these sharpers, when it was, perhaps not known to the men themselves, and they have so far imposed upon the credulity of the drafted men as to get from them sums of money, to secure an exemption to which the regnes knew they were entitled and would surely receive, and the drafted men finding themselves exempted as promised have sometimes thought and given out that they secured exemption by bribery of drafting officers, whereas, they were legally entitled to exemption, and have themselves be a swindled by thereor.

tion, and have themselves be n swindled by sharpers.

All has been done that seemed proper under existing laws to check these evils, and to meet properly the few cases of criminality and in competency which have occurred among the the officers of this Bureau.

All the expenses up to this time on account of this Bureau, including the euroliment, d. aft and pay of officers and persons connected with it, are but little over $1.200,000. These expenditures include all made on account of the machinery which has produced the arrest and roturn of 20,000 deserters.

The amount of money received from the draft up to this date is sheat ten times as great as all the expenses incurred on account of the enrollment act; those resulting from the New York riots are not, however, included in this statement, as they are more properly attributable to other causes and other persons than to the, draft, or the officers of this Bureau.

I am, very respirity, your o'd't a'v't.

The sound of the Idaho's whistle had soarcely died away when the boat landing was taronged by an immense assemblage of people eager to get a glimpse of the murderers.—
They were soon led forth under an escort of twenty soldiers of the 9th Infantry, commanded by Lieut. Hand, of the Oregon cavalry.—
These were then joined by a detachment of cavalry from Fort Dalles, and, thus guarded, the prisoners were marched to the fort, where they were securely manacled and guarded during the following night.

THE UNRETURNING BRAVE.

The awallows build beneath the caves, As in the days agone: The wheaten fields are still ablaze. And in and out the west wind plays Amid the tasseled corn.

The sonshine falls as warm and bright,
The clover fields are red;
The wild bird wakes his simple song.
As jorfally the whole ay long.
As if he were not dead!

The thoughtful skies, with mother care, Their rains and sanshine send;
And, standing in the farm house door,
I see, dotting the landscape o'er,
The flocks he used to tend.

The wild rose and the jessumine blow Beside the window sill: Their tender unoan is in the air, For the dear hands that placed them there Are lying crossed and still.

About the hills the aummer folds
Her wealth of golden light:
And, past the willow's silvery gloum,
I enter the glimmer of the stream,
And lities cool and white. The sanshine and the bloom;
The voice whose kind and loving words
Were sweeter than the song of birds,
Is silent in the tomb.

How can the summer fall so gay About our farm house door, When all the quiet ways he trod— Through leafy wood or bloomy sod— Shall know him nevermore!

For the present the war rolls and thunders on ad may God defend the right. - [Richmond Euquirer In that case, very little help you-will get .-Your helpers are different characters alto
