ED. Statesman: You are doubtless favored with numerous fine stories of the richness and extent of the placer and quartz mines in this Territory. It is quite probable, too, that all you have heard is not only true, but infinitely short of the "whole truth." This is flattering indeed to the just pride of the greatest people on the face of the whole earth, just emerging successfully from the most dreadful ordeal through which any nation from the beginning of time to the momentous present was ever called to pass, to know that not only no part of our immense domain is not productive, and the following marking the proposed the Senate.

So immensely rich is this region in gold and silver, and so extensive are those mines that no one is stupid enough to ever think of fig-ures that may indicate their ultimate yield. With the above all true, is it not wonderful that farmers, mechanics and business means all. the above all frue, is it not wondernit that tarmers, mechanics, and business men generally don't drop their various callings, leave their families and those dependent upon them for support, to take care of themselves as best they can, or perish if they mass, while they rush here to secure for themtheir various callings, only their chainess and streams and the second of the second o

Resolved. By this Convention, that we are really in favor of what the late Abolition State "Lebanon," on the Driggs lode—the only one that has been prospected to any extent, and it is found that the lode increases as they go down, both in width and richness. Most of these specimens can be seen in the Union Company's show case, at the store of J. H. & I. R.

The mammoth tin lode is located about six niles west of the Santiam District, and from assays is thought to be very rich in tip. A large company has lately been organized with a view to having it worked and tested. Rich specimens of lend ore, and "indications" of copper and cinnabar are also found. There is really in favor of what the late Abolition State Convention prelended to favor, namely: the exemption of miners and mining claims from special taxation, and we will use our influence said to be a mineral belt, about fifteen miles wide, running with the Cascade range, which is continue such exemption.

Mr. Caton moved to strike out the 3d resoluselieved to extend from one end of the State to the other.

The lodes all bear the same general direcon and insert: The lodes all hear the same general direction, S.S.E., and N.N.W., with a slight dip to the West. The rock obtained from the Driggs lode—and probably from the others when the croppings are removed—is a bluist quartz, full of pyrite of iron, and very much resembling, in appearance, the rock from the "Comstock Ledge" in Nevada.

We ship is a second of the control of Resolved, That this Union has not been dissolved, and that whenever the rebellion in any secoded State shall be put down and subdued, either by force of Federal arms or by the voluntary submission of such State to the authority of the Constitution, then such State shall be restored to all its rights and privileges as a Ledge" in Nevada.

We think it may be safely said that there is no longer any doubt of the existence of rich mineral deposits in that region. It will require considerable time and a large amount of capital to work and develop them, but they will doubtless prove of more lasting benefit to the country than the rich placer diggings where fortangs could be made in a day with the pan or the rocker.
