

AGENCY—MERRILL, J. P. & Co., Portland, will receive and transmit for advertisement to the Statesman.

IMPROVEMENTS OF THE WILLAMETTE—Capt. Anthony's new steamer, Eolo, is running regularly in the upper Willamette river trade, and meets the expectations of her owners.

WE learn that the People's Transportation Company have commenced to construct a "boat bus" at Oregon City, so as to bring the boats above the Falls and those below the Falls into each other's arms.

A DEMOCRATIC BALLY.—We learn by private letter that the "Jeff Davis" folks arrived at their father's ranch Eugene City on Saturday.

GREAT FIRE AT WALLA WALLA.—The town on the Pacific coast are subject to fires. Within the last few months there have been destructive fires in Walla Walla, Idaho City burned out, and now Walla Walla goes in for a loss of over $300,000.

CHARGE.—The Astoria Marine Gazette has passed out of the hands of the "Printing and Publishing Company," and is now published by Mr. W. W. Parker.

SAD ACCIDENT.—By telegraph we learn that Mr. Henry Pease, a highly respected and one of the wealthiest citizens of Lane county, was killed on the morning of the 8th inst.

LANE CO.—The exhibit of the County Clerk shows that the total receipts during the year have been $16,770.38, total expenditures, $15,574—leaving a balance on the treasury of $2,196.38 and $97,900 in notes.

A HANDSOME PORTER.—We have received from E. M. Waine, Secretary of the Agricultural Society, the "Landing Porter" of the Fair.

BOO'S MEXICANITE AND MESSINA.—This exhibition is now circulating through the State, and from those who have visited it we learn that it is worthy of patronage.

BARREL FACTORY.—The Oregonian reports that a company of Eastern men are about to start a barrel factory six miles below Portland which, when in operation, will employ sixty men.

RE-APPOINTED.—The Hon. W. L. Adams has been re-appointed Collector of Customs for the district of Oregon. This appointment is the best evidence that he has faithfully and impartially discharged the duties of that office during the past four years.

WILL APPEAR NEXT WEEK.—The long deferred article of our agricultural man in reply to "Fair Play" of the Oregonian. The article will be read with interest by all farmers, and others interested in the production of wool.

THE MOUNTAINER thinks Capt. John Smith of Lane county will be appointed to the Indian agency made vacant by the loss of Col. Loran.

RELINQUISH.—The Baptist Church in this city has extended to Rev. W. F. Boykin a call to settle among them, and he has accepted the same for a period of at least one year.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The Eighth Annual Fair of the Lane County Agricultural Society will be held at Boston on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 17th and 18th.

THE Lane county officials have removed into the new Court House for that county.

THE new brick block is rapidly approaching completion, and makes a handsome and imposing appearance for a city factory building.

N. O. Parrish & Co. are selling out their stock of Boots and Shoes at cost—positively.

THE Stage Office in Salem has been removed from the Boston House, to Smith's new Hotel building.

WE are under obligations to Dr. A. S. Hughes, of Mounton, for copies of late Maritime papers.

JOE FRANKLIN—Peters, Hamilton, Pennington, Crocker, Programmes, Books, etc., are nearly and expeditiously printed at the Statesman Job Office, on reasonable terms.

PROFIT AND LOSS.—The Republic (Richmond) has a calculation which may be roughly outlined thus: The official valuation of the fifteen slave States, by the census of 1860, footed up seven thousand millions of dollars, while their losses since may be estimated thus: Slaves freed, worth $2,500,000,000; Losses by devaluation, 900,000,000; Loss of four crops of Southern staples, 900,000,000; Rebel debt, nominally $4,000,000,000, really 500,000,000; Southern share of Union debt 1,000,000,000.

TOTAL loss by the war, $3,800,000,000. This would reduce the total actual value of what is left of the States to $1,200,000,000, or barely a sixth of what it was in 1860. And yet we feel confident that the soil and buildings of the South could not be bought to-day for the full seven thousand millions which she was reported to be worth in 1860. A few, who are hard pressed, or punitively vexed at the result of our late struggle, are anxious to sell out cheap—some of them to get out of the country; others to supply the urgent wants, but the great mass will stay where they are, and only sell at higher prices than they would have taken in 1860. Five years hence the South will look back with wonder on her blind persistence through generations in a policy which left her masses poor and ignorant, her cities small and rude, her ruins sponged, her forests valueless and her water-power useless.

WE are confident of the prediction that the valuation of the fifteen States of 1860 will, by the census of 1880, exceed seven thousand millions, and by that of 1880 will be not less than that amount.

THE CASE STATED.—The following from the Stockton Independent, one of the ablest and most reliable papers in California, shows the condition of trade and productive industry in that State. The evil influences of the combination of which the Independent speaks are not restricted to California, but, as we have often shown, are felt all over Oregon.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—The Union County Convention met last evening. J. R. Hardenberg stated that 3,500 anti-Union citizens of San Francisco had organized the San Francisco Board of Trade for the Convention for Legislative honors; but as it was impossible for that gentleman to serve, he now withdrew his nomination. The Convention will be made up of the following nominees: For Senator, Frank M. Pritchard and H. W. Farlow; For Assembly, A. B. Wilson, of Wells, Fargo & Co., Charles Hemenway, merchant; Louis Brown, merchant; Gaveley, of J. S. Buel, merchant; Geo. B. Revere, merchant broker; J. R. Baker, mining secretary; Gerard Wilson, builder; Geo. S. Johnson, contractor; J. H. G. Baker, contractor; S. Carter, Jr., lawyer; Nathaniel Pace, dealer in real estate; J. W. Scott, hay dealer. The Convention then appointed a committee of one from each district to fill out the canvass to be conducted by the canvass, and a committee of five to cooperate with the county committee during the canvass. This committee was subsequently organized by a meeting held on an early day. J. R. Hardenberg seconded the motion for a ratification meeting. They had been organized and were in one opinion that they had endorsed the Union, but had not done so in a portion of the press. He claimed that they were the regularly constituted Union Conventionists—their party it was who carried the law, election of Abraham Lincoln.

A firm in this city who had a ship and cargo destroyed by the steamer Steamer, was offered $500,000 to Washington, to be filed with other claims of indemnity against England for property destroyed by English war vessels, but the firm was offered by owners of other vessels destroyed in the same manner. Mr. James Street, the well known telegraph contractor, is expected here by next mail steamer from New York, where he has been engaged in a telegraph overland from San Francisco to the Mississippi river, on the Central route, for the United States Telegraph Company.

LETTER FROM GOV. MAGOFFIN.—Dear S. Crocker, Esq., Chairman of My Dear Sir: I have just returned from a fishing excursion, and received your letter of yesterday. You are right in supposing I am for the Constitutional Amendment. Slavery upon this continent is gone. It is an accomplished fact, and the sooner Kentucky recognizes the fact the better for her. We want no dead issues in the contest.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.—The history of these pills shows that no man can be spared within the limits of this advertising notice. It is the most eminent chemist and physician of the United States and Europe were consulted as to their composition. As with other pills, causing the accumulation of acid food, which causes indigestion, many unpleasant sensations not necessary for the cure or alleviation of affection for which a piller is usually applied. India rubber, myrrh, and other choice gums and essences of the vegetable kingdom, are the material ingredients of these celebrated pills. While they are possessed of all the soothing and purgative qualities, having extracted from a barrel of tooth, has taken rooms in Mr. KENYON'S home, a few doors from Commercial street, where he will wait on the citizens of this place and vicinity, on reasonable terms, and will guarantee satisfaction.
