New Walking on the Water.
 Two inventors are claiming attention of the scientific world just now in connection with a kind of aquatic shoes. Jose Antonio, a Mexican student in the department of mechanical engineering at Cornell, gave a successful test of his device by walking a mile and a half on the surface of Cayuga lake. The shoes, which closely resemble small boats, are constructed of tin, 5 feet 3 inches long, 14 inches wide and 9 3/4 inches deep. Each contains four separate air chambers, besides the compartment for the foot. The shoes are equipped with collapsible fans, which close as the wearer steps forward and then open to prevent the shoes from slipping backward.
 A somewhat similar footwear for water walking is described in the Technical World Magazine for August, and credited to Lieut. Arthur T. Sadler of the United States volunteer life-saving crew at Charlestown, Mass. Sadler claims to have made a two-mile trip on his shoes. He says he got his idea from watching the way a duck uses its feet. His shoes are 4 feet 3 inches long, 9 inches wide and 8 1/2 inches deep, being the smallest that would carry his weight, 135 pounds.

American Laborer Better Off.
 The bureau of labor has issued statistics for 1905, and estimates that the laboring man is better off as to wages and hours of labor. In 1905 the purchasing power of wages was 1 per cent higher than in 1904 and the retail prices of food were slightly higher. This advantage was more than offset, however, by the increase in the purchasing power of his wages.
 The average wages per hour in 1905 were 18.9 per cent higher than the average period from 1896 to 1899, and the number of employees were 30 per cent greater.
