HONOR FOR AN AMERICAN.
 China Selects One to Represent it at The Hague Tribunal.
 The Chinese Government has appointed John W. Foster, formerly Secretary of State, as its delegate to the next international conference at The Hague. The Chinese Government is deeply interested in the proceedings of the next conference because it will consider many important questions suggested by the war between Russia and Japan. JOHN W. FOSTER, which was fought Chinese territory. It is expected that the tribunal, representing all the civilized nations of the world, will adopt some kind of a code to govern similar situations in the future, to define the rights and limit the authority of belligerents who occupy neutral ground. It will doubtless determine also to what extent such belligerents can use neutrals within their lines, and to what extent neutrals can assist the belligerents. A new definition of neutrality is very much needed, and there is an imperative necessity for an international law protecting the non-contraband property of neutrals during war.
 Mr. Foster has been counsel of the Chinese legation in Washington for twenty years, except during several intervals when he was Secretary of State under the Harrison administration or has been engaged in diplomatic negotiations in behalf of his own government. He was the adviser of the Chinese commissioners in their negotiations for peace after the war with Japan in 1895, and his services were so satisfactory to both sides that he was afterward entertained and honored at Tokio by the Japanese quite as much as by the Chinese at Peking. Shortly after, and several times since, the Chinese Government has invited him to go to Peking as its official adviser and has offered him a most tempting salary as his remuneration. It is the conviction of the diplomatic colony in China that if Mr. Foster had accepted the invitation of the Emperor in 1896 the Boxer troubles would have been prevented and the war between Russia and Japan would never have occurred. That war was the direct result of the intervention of Russia in the affairs and relations of China and Japan. This would never have happened, nor would the Boxer outbreak have occurred, if there had been a strong and wise man at the head of the foreign department at Peking.

Dropy.—Take one ounce of burnt copperas, one ounce of aloes, half an ounce of cream of tartar, beat fine, mix and place in two grain capsules. Begin with one capsule and increase one each morning until the ninth day, then rest nine days and begin with one as at first, go through nine more and rest nine again; repeat the third nine days and the patient should be well. Live on crackers and molasses and sweet milk, half water. Eat no meat and do not drink coffee.
Eczema.—Ichthyol is probably more useful than anything else in lessening the irritation from eczema. It is a preparation obtained from certain varieties of fossiliferous shale occurring in the Tyrol Alps. It has a characteristic bituminous odor and taste. Let it be understood, however, that any outward application of this kind is but a temporary alleviation of the ailment. To cure, the cause must be removed, which in ninety-nine times out of a hundred, will be found in errors of diet—eating too often, too much and of improper or overstimulating food. It is a great wonder more people are not afflicted with eczema, for we are certainly a gluttonous people as we live at present.
Epilepsy.—The latest treatment for this direful complaint is the fluid extract of horse-nettle, botanically the solanum carolinense. For an adult give a half teaspoonful in water every three hours and increase the dose up to four teaspoonfuls. When the patient shows improvement reduce the dose to two a day, night and morning. Children can be given from ten to twenty drops. Physicians using this drug should begin with the small dose and give it in mild cases until the patient has a feeling of drowsiness after each dose. In chronic cases that are considered bad the physician should push the drug until it produces symptoms of vertigo after each dose and then stop and hold the case at this point, then begin to gradually reduce the dose until only a few drops are given.
