Do not forget the young people's meeting at the A. M. E. Zion church each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, under the leadership of Mrs. Lulu Easton.
Mr. W. M. Gale, one of the prosperous and influential citizens of Rainier, Ore., is the guest of his long-time friend, Mr. Dave Thornton, of this city.
Mr. W. W. Wheeler, head waiter of the Hotel Portland, accompanied by his wife, is spending a short vacation in visiting various parts of our sister state.
Mr. T. B. Hall has resigned his position in the boot polishing parlors of the Hotel Portland, and has been succeeded by Mr. G. E. White, who formerly held the same.

Go to J. B. Simmons, 463 Glisan street, for choice groceries, cigars and confectioneries. Everybody treated alike, regardless of the amount of the purchase.
For first-class meals and old-fashioned home cooking call at Mrs. Smith's, on Ankeny street, between Third and Fourth streets, where you will get the best in the city for your money.
Mrs. Corrine Barber will soon leave for Denver, Col., for the benefit of her health, having been ordered by her physician to live in a higher altitude on account of pulmonary troubles.

As the result of trying to protect a couple of women of his race from insult by a number of drunken white rowdies, Samuel S. Phillips was shot and killed by Wm. Jones in San Francisco, Cal. Mr. Phillips was well known to our citizens, having resided here for a number of years.
The management of the Hill house, one of the most exclusive boarding houses of the Northwest, decided to make a change in the culinary department and have discharged the white cooks and installed a colored crew. Mr. Pendleton Smith, for a number of years chief cook on one of the private cars, is in command, ably seconded by Heywood Massey.

We learn that there are in the neighborhood of 30 vacancies in the police department, with no applicants for the same. If this state of affairs should continue, it might be possible that some one of our Afro-American citizens might be acceptable to the powers that be, under the present administration, as their policy seems to be that no job shall go to a negro that a white man can be induced to accept.

Miss Mamie Lee, the waitress of the Vestibule cafe who was so badly cut about the face and neck, has so far recovered from her wounds as to be able to leave the hospital and return to her home. As yet the police have not been able to positively fix the identity of her assailant and it bids fair to take its place with the numerous unsolved crimes that have baffled the police and detectives of our city.

EAST SIDE BOOMING.
Mall & Von Borstel, the reliable and progressive real estate agents, with offices at 104 Second street and 392 East Burnside street, report business very good in their particular line. They have made a number of important deals during the past month and state that there are several big ones pending. While the firm handles real estate in all parts of the city, they, however, make a specialty of East Side property. Their faith in this particular section of the city is justified, as shown by the remarkable growth and development seen on every hand.

The East Side looks good and the spring will see a great upward movement in realty values there.

WILL G. STEEL COMMENTS FORAKER.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 28, 1906.
Hon. J. B. Foraker, Washington, D. C.
Dear Sir:—Your noble actions in defense of the colored soldiers so outrageously treated by the President, are such as to appeal strongly to my sense of justice, and I cannot forbear expressing to you my deep appreciation.
I was born in Monroe county, O. ho, where, for thirty years preceding the Rebellion my father, William Steel, managed the Underground railroad, and it always remained with him as the most cherished recollection of his life, that no slave ever fell into his hands and was afterward recaptured. There was born in me an untiring hatred of tyranny and injustice, whether at the hands of the President of the United States or of an obscure citizen.
Formerly I was an intense admirer of Mr. Roosevelt, but the old halo has gradually melted away, leaving on his pedestal of glory a shrewd politician, who, like a spoiled child, insists on having his own way, regardless of consequences. He is a keen judge of the public mind, and every act is planned to satisfy it. There is but one thing on earth he prizes more than the plaudits of the multitude, and that is his own sweet will when crossed. Under such conditions he will defy the Lord God Almighty, and set himself up as the only genuine Supreme Being. Strange as it may seem, there are thousands of men in this enlightened age and country, who prefer him to the original, and it matters not what he does, will shout his glory to the echo.
By his heartless appeal to ignorant hatred, it will soon be apparent that he has fanned into flame a smoldering race war, that will mean the sacrifice of many innocent lives.
Very sincerely,
WILL G. STEEL.
