PORTLAND LOCALS

Mr. Paul Strain the general proprietor of the Chicago Clothing Co. in the Ainsworth Building, Third and Oak Streets, is a firm and true friend of our people. Call and get acquainted with him.

Miss Susie Crawford is reported to be slightly indisposed.

Mrs. Lizzie Frazier of Everett and Thirteenth streets is recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Sim Reddy is rapidly improving at the Good Samaritan hospital and expects to be out in a few days.

Arthur Harris is still confined to his bed at the St. Vincent hospital and has not as yet passed the danger point.

The Afro-American Council will meet in Baltimore, Md., June 26th next. Bishop Alexander Walters of the A. M. E. church is the president.

Mrs. Clara Campbell, after an absence of several months returned on Monday evening and is stopping with her mother, Mrs. Palmer of North Park and Everett.

Rev. Geo. E. Jackson, pastor of the A. M. E. Zion church of this city writes from Paso Robles that he expects to be in the city in time to fill his pulpit on Sunday next.

Mr. Chas. Palmer, a former resident of this city but recently returned after an absence of several years dropped dead on Monday morning from heart troubles. The remains were taken charge of by the coroner.

One of the latest inventions and one that bids fair to revolutionize the painters trade is a paint brush on the idea of a fountain pen invented by Max Cooper of Selma Ala, a former student of the Tuskegee institute.

Mrs. Paul Cromwell whilst in attendance in the police court last Tuesday as a witness had the misfortune to have her valuable gold watch stolen. The affair was reported to the officials and several detectives were detailed on the case.

The fact that Easter comes in March this year is causing many of the feminine sex to give more attention to the predictions of the Almanac than usual as new hats and gowns are not at their best during a gentle downpouring of Oregon mist.

Celebrate the memory of Ireland's patron saint by attending the Irish social to be given Monday evening, March 18th at the A. M. E. Zion church, Thirteenth and Main streets. The program as well as the refreshments served will be appropriate to the occasion.

The Brownsville investigation is slowly progressing and whilst but little of the testimony is allowed to reach this part of the country by the Associated Press, that little serves to strengthen the stand taken by Senator Forsaker and shows that there is at least grave doubts as to the guilt of any of the discharged soldiers.

The Metropolitan Mercantile and Realty company (colored) of New York City is remodeling a six-story building in New York City, wherein will be opened a department store, employing about one hundred people, all colored. The same company is running a similar store now at Baltimore, employing twenty-three people. The president of the company is P. Sheridan Ball.

The attendance at the young people's meeting held at 7 p. m. each Sunday evening at the A. M. E. church is increasing. The address on last Sunday evening by Mrs. Jas. N. Fullilove was replete with information and advice given in a manner at once pleasing as well as convincing. Excellent music is furnished and an hour could not be more pleasantly or profitably spent than in attending these meetings.

John Spillman, an aged negro, who was found in the residence of L. Wild, 550 Lake street, may have to face a charge of burglary. Some one broke a pane out of the window of Wild's house and, reaching through, opened the door, which was locked from the inside. Members of Mr. Wild's family, sleeping upstairs were awakened by the noise and Mr. Wild found Spillman in the house. The old negro appeared to be very much intoxicated. He was booked at the police station on a simple charge of drunkenness. Patrolman Burchelle, who arrested Spillman, is inclined to think another man broke into the place and when he discovered that he had been heard, disappeared, leaving the drunken negro to catch the blame. Spillman claims he was too drunk to remember what happened.

"THE HUMAN BROTHERHOOD." The Founding of a Bureau for the Purpose of Moulding Sentiment Favorable to Colored People.

For quite a number of years a propaganda against the colored people of the United States has been carried on by persons hostile to their aspirations for full citizenship rights. They reasoned quite well that laws favorable to the cause be enforced if the nation could be taught to hate the race.

"The Human Brotherhood" is a bureau established in Philadelphia for the purpose of passing around among persons whose good will for the race is desired, such literature as will mould sentiment in its favor.

The forces arrayed against the race that are seeking to blacken its name are powerful and aggressive. Strenuous work is therefore necessary to effectively offset them.

The aim of The Human Brotherhood is to organize groups in every community, equip them with the literature most helpful and have them disseminate the same.

Persons friendly to the cause of the colored people have provided and will continue to provide funds for the operation of the bureau.

No fee whatever is attached to connection with the movement and all in sympathy with its purposes are desired as co-workers.

The Bureau is under the supervision of Rev. Sutton E. Griggs, A. M., B. D. the author who for years has called the race to activity in the matter of rebutting the slanders directed against it.

The Bureau invites correspondence. Literature fully explaining its workings furnished free upon application. Address all communications to THE HUMAN BROTHERHOOD, 116 N. 12th street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Expect Return of Cash. Chicago, March 13.—A new field in the investigation of the subtreasury robbery is being explored by the Federal authorities. It is suggested that some banking institution of Chicago needed a large sum to tide over temporary difficulties, and is responsible for the disappearance of the $173,000. The secret service operatives are working on the theory that the money that disappeared was borrowed for a day or two at the instance of a tottering institution by some employe who now fears to restore it.

THE PIONEER PAINT COMPANY. The pioneer paint establishment of Portland is that of F. E. Beach & Company of 135 First St., the oldest and most reliable house of its kind in the Northwest. It carries an immense stock of the best things in paints and building materials, together with an unusual list of specialties. Those who need anything in these lines can certainly profit by going to F. E. Beach & Company. Remember the number, 135 First street.

Doctor, what is good to take to cure the redness of my nose? "The pledge."—Houston Post.

Knicker—Primitive men plowed the earth with a sharpened stick. Bocker—You don't mean to say golf dated back that far!—Scissors.

"The doctors have finally agreed upon the cause of Jink's illness." "Did they hold another consultation?" "No—a post-mortem."—Headlight.

"Here, hold my horse a minute, will you?" "Sir! I'm a member of Congress!" "Never mind. You look honest. I'll take a chance."—Courier Journal.

Mrs. Henpeck—Shame on you for growling about Dr. Bolus. Didn't he just bring you back from the jaws of death and—Henpeck (wearily)—And back to the jaws of life.—Borrowed.

Woman—Now, if you don't leave at once I'll call my husband—and he's an old Harvard football player. Tramp—Lady, if yer love him don't call him out. I used to play wid Yale.—Judge.

Cynthia—Oh, what a world this is for a woman; I do wish the Lord had made me a man! Molly—Why, my dear, maybe he did and you just haven't found him yet.—American Spectator.

"There is only one ordained missionary in the world for 900,000 heathens, your excellency," said the cannibal. "Well, I got mine," said the cannibal chief, rubbing his lips.—Yonkers Statesman.

"John, dear," wrote a lady from the continent. "I enclose the hotel bill." "Dear Jane, I enclose a check," wrote John in reply, "but please don't buy any more hotels at this price—they are robbing you!"—Tit-Bits.

"Why don't you let Willie play in the street with the rest of the kids?" said Mr. Wise. "I'm afraid it will spoil his clothes!" was the wife's answer. "Thunderation!" exclaimed Wise. "We can buy clothes, but we can't buy brains!"—Clipped.

Mrs. Dennis (to her husband, who smells a strong escape of gas somewhere and is about to strike a match)—You're never after looking for a leak wid a lighted match, Mick? Mick—Would your whisk! They're safety matches!—Half-Holiday.

"Doctor, can't you give me something to relieve my sleeplessness?" "Yes; I could prescribe a sedative, but drugs would do you no real good. Instead of that let me recommend a large, fat onion, to be eaten raw just before going to bed." "Why, doctor, that's exactly what keeps me awake." "How can it possibly have that effect?" "My wife eats it."—Chicago Tribune.

Bobson—You look all broken up, old man. What's the matter? Craik—I called on Miss Pruyne last night, and no sooner had I entered the parlor than her mother appeared and demanded to know my intentions. "That must have been rather embarrassing." "Yes; but that was not the worst. Just as the old lady finished speaking, Miss Pruyne shouted down the stairs, 'Mamma, mamma, he isn't the one!'"—London Tit-Bits.

A Scotsman the other day went to a London dentist with a toothache. The dentist told him he would only get relief by having it out. Scot—Mon, then I must hae gas. While the dentist was getting it ready the Scot began to count his money. The dentist said, somewhat testily, "You need not pay until it's out." The Scot replied: "I ken that, but as ye're aboot to mak' me unconscious I jist want to see hoo I stan'."—Sporting Times.

The public-spirited lady meets the little boy on the street. The Lady—Little boy, haven't you any home? The Little Boy—Oh, yes'm, I've got a home. The Lady—And loving parents? The Little Boy—Yes'm. The Lady—Are they bringing you up to be a good and helpful citizen? The Little Boy—Yes'm. The Lady—Will you ask your mother to come and hear a talk on "When Does a Mother's Duty to Her Child Begin?" next Saturday afternoon? The Little Boy (explosively)—What's th' matter with you, ma! Don't you know me? I'm your little boy!—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Prerogative of the Pulpit. Doctor Bacon, a New England clergyman of long ago, was reproached by a friend with some pronunciation which was not "according to Webster." Webster lived in his parish, and the doughty old divine was not disposed to be snubbed with the dictionary. "What right has Webster to dictate my pronunciation?" he demanded, haughtily. "He is one of my parishioners, and ought to get his pronunciation from me, and not I from him."

Memory. Somebody of a psychological turn of mind once asked Lord Rosebery, "What is memory?" "Memory," Rosebery replied, promptly but somewhat pensively, "memory is the feeling that steals over us when we listen to our friends' original stories."

Farmyard Gossip. First Rooster—Some of these humans are fearfully inconsiderate. Second Rooster—I should say! Two of them have just been standing in front of me discussing which was best, the white or the dark meat.—Detroit Free Press.

No man who weighs over 200 pounds should claim that he works too hard.

THE LIGHT THAT'S BRIGHT

Electric light is pre-eminently the light of happy content. It dispels gloom, dinginess and discouragement. Light homes make light hearts.

Electric light is practical light—a light that is at once clean, convenient and economical. At the prevailing rates for current on meter basis it is well within the means of all, and when used sensibly — economically — electric light is as cheap as it is good.
