

THE POPULAR VOTE

HOW THE PEOPLE REPUDIATED THE HAYMEYER BILL.

A Nearly Complete Record of the Vote Cast in This Year's State Elections.

The following table has been compiled by the Philadelphia Press, and contains the vote from 41 states and the territory of Utah, soon to become a state. The vote is not official, except for a few states, but the variation in these will be very small.

Table with 5 columns: States, Rep., Dem., Pop., Pro. Lists states from Alabama to Utah with corresponding vote counts.

Considering the compilation editorially, the Press says the announcement of the vote in many states has been delayed an unusual time, and in two states it is still lacking.

Another significant feature of the returns is the great increase of the republican vote over 1932. In that year the republican vote was 5,338,428, an increase of 412,131.

In 1932 the republican vote was 5,338,428, an increase of 412,131. This large increase in a party's vote in an off year is the exception rather than the rule.

DEMOCRATIC PARESIS

THE PARTY UTTERLY UNABLE TO DO ANYTHING IN CONGRESS.

A Go-As-You-Please Business, With No Policy Whatever.

Probably no better account of democratic impotence and utter powerlessness to do anything could be presented than the one furnished by the Washington special to the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, during the recess of congress.

Since congress is not in session, the chairman of the committee on the purchase of the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, during the recess of congress.

It was arranged that the bill should be quickly reported to the house by the banking and currency committee and rushed through in a jiffy.

As a result of the hearing, before I saw the bill, it was clear that the committee was not in a position to report it.

Old Dave Culbertson, the wisecracker of the committee, was the only man who remained in his equilibrium.

As a matter of fact, the democratic party in congress is very much in a quandary.

The democratic leaders of the house have been trying to pacify the opposing elements of the party.

So when congress adjourns for the holidays, it was just where it was when it met on the first Monday in December.

It is true, the Carlisle bill has been reported as amended, but it is a mere formality.

BROWN TO McCAMANT

THE REVEREND GENTLEMEN'S REPLY TO THE LAWYER.

He Says the Letter's Argument Is Characterized by Misconceptions and Special Pleas.

PORTLAND, Jan. 3.—(To the Editor.)—I am glad that the public is being aroused upon the question of taxing church property.

Referring to my first argument, Mr. McCamant asks: "Is Dr. Brown really to contend that all the unimproved real estate in the state of Oregon should be relieved from taxation on the ground that it is not productive?"

Mr. McCamant is equally at fault in his second argument. He contends that church taxation would be double taxation.

Mr. McCamant is equally at fault in his third argument. He contends that church taxation would be double taxation.

Mr. McCamant is equally at fault in his fourth argument. He contends that church taxation would be double taxation.

Mr. McCamant is equally at fault in his fifth argument. He contends that church taxation would be double taxation.

Mr. McCamant is equally at fault in his sixth argument. He contends that church taxation would be double taxation.

Mr. McCamant is equally at fault in his seventh argument. He contends that church taxation would be double taxation.

GUARDING FOREST LANDS.

More Power Needed to Withstand Unscrupulous Rapacity.

The whole country has an interest in the preservation of our timber land, for it has always been a source of wealth.

The bill provides for the guarding of certain tracts of forest land by the federal authorities. It is a good bill in many respects and should receive approval.

THE ELEMENTS

Have forced a special sale on us which has to be conducted and finished at once.

The heavy fall of snow caused our roof to spring a leak, and damaged stock in our Cloak and Dress Goods Departments to some extent.

Those goods slightly damaged and damp will be put on sale, in addition with our great annual sale.

The sale of damaged goods will be conducted in our Millinery Department, as our Cloak Department is in such shape that goods cannot be kept there, and it will take some time to repair the damage.
