BOLD BANK ROBBERS, WHO WERS CAUGHT.

They Best the Cashier Into Insensibility and Locked Him Up in the Vault of the Bank.

ONTARIO, Cal., Jan. 4 .- The boldest and most successful bank robbery in this part of the county was perpetrated this morning, about 11:20 o'clock. The Ontario State bank was the scene of the robbery, and almost a double murder. Fred Stamm is cashier, and while he was alone in the bank two strangers drove up with a single horse and a light wagon. They went into the bank unmasked, and suddenly one of the robbers pulled a big rovolver and ordered the cashier to throw up his hands. At the same instant, his confed-erate jumped over the counter and struck the cashier over the head with another big revolver, or sand-bag, but did not render him entirely senseless. He struggled, but the robbers forced him into a vault and had just locked him in when R. P. Sibley, proprietor of the Ontario cannery, entered the bank. The robbers attacked Sibley in the same manner, clubbing him abou the head with the butts of their revolvers and soon rendered him insensible, injuring him more than Stamm. It was fully 20 minutes before Sibley recovered conciousness, and at least half an hour before a general alarm was given. A large crowd then gathered. Cashier Stamm's voice was heard in the safe and, by his calling out the combination in a loud voice to those outside, the door was opened and he was released. Statum panted for breath and he was in a very bad way. As soon as Sibley was knocked down, the robbers looted the bank of what money they could find outside of the safe, and it is believed a large amount was taken. The officials of the bank could not say just what amount was secured, but it is believed to be at least $5090.

The robbers deliberately walked out to the wagon with their plunder and es-caped without anybody outside suspecting their movements. They jumped into their vehicle and by a circuitous route reached Spadra. The telegraph wires had, however, been kept hot with the news of the robbery and, from the description sent of the two men, the Bpadro telegraph operator recognized the outlaws, who boarded the 4 o'clock train for Los Angeles. He wired this information to the authorities in Los Angeles and four dethe tectives started out on a special and intercepted the Ontario local a few miles from town. The men, who were in the smoking car, were placed under arrest, and proved to be Frank Conway and J. Steadman, two notorious Eastern crooks. is an escaped convict from San Quentin and Joliet.

Vicious and Villainons Assault on a San Francisco Priest.

BAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.-Rev. Father Peter D. Brady, rector of the parish of St. Mary's college, was the victim of a fiendish assault in his own house, and re-ceived several dangerous wounds. At 8 o'clock in the evening a well-dressed man called at the rectory, asking to see the priest on business. He was shown into a dimly-lighted parlor, and when the priest entered demanded money. Father Brady answered:

May be I have no money for you." With oaths and vile names the strange sprang at the priest with an open knife, stabling him above the left eye, turning the blade and making a triangular cut. Father Brady tried to push his assailant away with his right hand, touching the stranger's face. The latter caught the priest's finger in his mouth, biting it to the hone. He still gripped the finger with his teeth, meanwhile stabbing Brady through the nostril, on the neck and cutting his mouth so that it was an inch larger. Then he beat the priest into insensibility with his fists and quietly left the house. Father Brady was afterward discovered by his housekeeper. Physicians believe he will recover

side Young Man.

A young man, about 19 years old, resid ing with his mother at Hanson's addition, near Sunnyside, whose name is Heath, has arrived back from Astoria, after an absence of two weeks. During that time he had some very lively experiences, which have served to open his eyes to the ways of the world, and will make him more cautious in the future. It seems that a little over two weeks ago the young man was on the West Side, in search of employment of some sort, in order to help his mother. His ef-forts in this direction had been fruitless up to this time, and he had become some what despondent. He formed the ac-quaintance of a gentlemanly dressed man, that morning, and after passing a few words with him, told him he was after employment said the new friend, "I will help "Oh." you to get a job, which will last a long time, and you can make some money; but you will have to go to Astoria with me to get the job. I am going in the morning." The young man was overjoyed over the prospects of getting something to do, and that evening told his mother about his good fortune in finding so good a friend. He made preparations for leav-ing for Astoria the next day with his friend. They arrived at Astoria all safe and passed the night at a hotel. Heath noticed his "friend" was sticking closely to him, and never allowed out of his sight for a moment, but still his suspicions of anything wrong had not been aroused, and he was assured he should have the job the following day. So in the morning, after breakfast, they started for the job. The "friend" led the way down to the dock, and said the job was on "that boat." at the same time pointing out a full-rigged ship ready for sea. The young man now began to think something was wrong, and objected to going aboard, having made up his mind that an attempt was being made to shanghal him, and he determined to escape the first opportunity. He thought it best to go aboard the ship and trust to luck to get away, reasoning if he made a break be-fore he would be caught anyway. Once on the ship he was compelled to sign system some papers, and then his friend left, thinking, doubtless, he had him fast. But he obtained permission to go ashore to spend a few dollars before shiling. Another sailor went with him, watching him constantly. They went into a saloon to-gether and Heath laid down 50 cents for the drinks, and said he would step into the rear room for a moment, but his com panion was on the alert and followed him to the door. The young man saw this was his only chance, and dashed through

The at-tendance was large, an equal number of ladies and gentlemen being present. General Q. O. Howard acted General O. O. Howard acted as president of the gathering, and, as a prelude to the introduction of each speaker, recited incidents suitable to the occasion, in his usual happy manner.

The first speaker called upon was the Rev. T. L. Elliot. After referring gener-ally to the work of charity in the city of Portland, and the urgent necessities during the winter of 1890 and 1894, and present winter, the reverend gentleman said:

"We are here to take to heart the part of the poor in our midst, whose considera ion is always with us. It is a social problem, how to best perform the work attending the relief and care of these lependent classes, and we want more of the feeling of charity among us. There is urgent need, and the proper Christian spirit should manifest itself upon all sides. Charity should be sincere, earnest and real, and be bestowed with a genero love-giving hand."

THE CITY BOARD WORK.

Thomas N. Strong, president of the city board of charities, said he was to speak of the relief work of the winter of 1883 and 1894. "On the failure of the banks the city board of charities prepared for work, fully realizing what the work would be," he said. "The first dange was that the authorities would lose their work 'o the unemployed upon urgent de-mand, but let it be said to their credit, the authorities wisely kept their senses and left charity to be bestowed by char-itable institutions. The first calls commenced about the first of November, and scon ran up to 150 a day. This, by the first of February, had increased to 250 a day, and continued this way until April. No wages were paid, but work was pro-vided and paid for in meals and beds. No money was given to anyone. If a man needed a hat he worked, and got an orde for it. During the winter we provided altogether for 3045 men and 477 women. Work was given in the woodyards, and we soon had all the wood in the city sawed up. We next entered into an agreement with the Salvation Army, and want to say right here, the work of the Salvation Army here is not appreciated. The financial support given here to that institution is wretched.

GENERAL WILLIAMS' ADDRESS. Judge Williams said: "Nothing so de-servedly attracts the attention of all classes at this time as the financial distress among us. When adversity comes to crush the energies and blast the opportunities of people, then there is an op-portunity for the development of the nobler instincts and precepts of our nature. I will venture to say that, whatever religion is worth as to the benefits

Mayor George P. Frank said: "The subject of charity I have before me day, occupying the position I do, I day, excluping the position I do. I think it must have been customary for the mayors who occupied the chair before me to bestow a great deal of charity. Every day I have alls from men, women and children, and I have a great many calls for work. We have had a great work on hand, but are about through with it. I am afraid the suffering this winter will be great. I know a great many people do not like to go to the city board of charities. They are too proud to go. We should have some public work on hand to employ them. At this time there is a very large amount of intense suffering, so I would hope that you who have means will support these institutions more large ly than ever. Rev. Roland D, Grant followed, and said: "I will not say anything to you, only that I indorse the work the city board of charities. They have given to us this evening a report that we can Dr. Charles E. Locks said there was carcely anything left to be said on the subject. The gentlemen who preceded him had represented the work comprehensive-by. He wanted to assure them that they had the hearty co-operation of those over whom he had the honor to preside. Dr. T. L. Cole said: "It must be grati-fication to us to see that there are different ways of looking at charity. In regard to the whole subject, the chief side of it is not money, but that we shall in-terest ourselves to those people's circumstances, and to see how we can bring them out of their surroundings. It will need the best heart and best intelligence that his community can give of men and women to bring them all together. The varied methods of charitable work have to be brought into one relation, the sick on one hand, the aged on another, the tramps on another. Bring them all to-gether, so as to do the best work." Rev. T. L. Ellot thanked the audience for coming out on such an inclement night.

General Howard concluded the meeting by telling the audience that the spirit of God was what was wanted. The audience then dispersed.

They were found, with William McCor-nick, hiding in a bestroom, having retreated when the officers in plain clothes tool possession of all the exits, the street and the house. The watch and wedding ring. which were stolen from the residence of August Lindville a few minutes prior to the murder, were found in the room, and a revolver, with two empty chambers. The murderers drew their pistols on the officers who entered the room, but were quickly seized, while covered with revol-vers. A crowd of toughs swarmed around the police on the sidewalk, while the exciting raid was in progress, and attempted a rescue when the prisoners appeared, but the display of armed men kept them at buy.

Long-Pending Ancient Order of United Workmen Case Decided.

DUBUQUE, Ia., Jan. 4 .-- Judge Husted handed down a decision in the noted An-cient Order of United Workmen case to day. Years ago, when yellow fever was raging in the South, the demands on the treasury of the order became so great as to nearly bankrupt it. A large number of lowa members refused to pay the as-sessment, and have been doing business on their own account since. They incor-porated to meet the conditions imposed upon life insurance companies. Others sought to do business under the supreme odge, and have been designated "loval while the seceders have been known as "rebels." The suit decided was to re-strain the "loyals" from doing business a this state under the name of American Order of United Workmen, and the elsion is far-reaching

Another Chapter Added to the Breckinridge-Pollard Affair.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 4 .- Yesterday olonel Shelby, law partner of Colonel Brechinridge, assaulted Editor Charles C. Moore, of the Blue Grass Blade, with a cane, breaking it over his head. He then ore out a bunch of Moore's whiskers George S. Shanklin, another lawyer and Breckinridge supporter, accompanied Shel-by and stood by and looked on while Shelby assaulted the editor. Moore published in his paper yesterday afternoon an open letter to Madeline Pollard, requesting her to go on the lecture platform with him now that Colonel Breckinridge is lectur-ing. He says she had more sense than Breckinridge and all his lawyers, mentioning Shelby among the rest, and that she did not he like all of them had done,

The Application for a Separate Re ceiver Before Judge Gilbert.

ceedingly glad he had not been carried

OMAHA, Jan. 4 .- The hearing of the p

tition of the minority stockholders of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, R. G. Dun & Co.'s Review. R. G. Dull & Co. 8 Review. NEW YORK, Jan. 4.-R. G. Dun & Co. to-morrow will say: Failures for 1804 are faily reported this week, being 13,885 in the United States, and 1856 in the dominion of Canada. The llabilities in the United States were $172,-905,856, and in Canada $17,616,215. Neither the increase of acce half in this country nor the asking to have stricken out of the order appointing McNeill receiver the direction to pay the expenditures of former receivers, principally incurred in restoring washouts along the Columbia river, has been postponed until January 15. The ap-plication of trustees of the consolidated crease of over half in this country nor the decrease of over nait in this country nor the increase of over 0 per cent in Canada is sur-prising, but the statement shows that most of the decrease in the United States is in manu-facturing Habilities, while the entire increase in Canada is in Inabilities of trading concerns. The complete review of different branches of business today places in a clear light the fact that unives of commodities are at the lowest plication of trustees of the consolutated mortgage of the Oregon Short Line & Utah Northern for the appointment of an independent receiver, which was set for hearing before Judge Gilbert Janu-ary 15, is likely to be postponed until a date between the 23d and 23th. Arrange-ments to that effect are now in progress, General Solicitor Cotton, of the Oregon that prices of commodities are at the lowest that prices of commonlities are at the lowest level ever known. Eight years ago, in July, prices averaged only 73.79 per cent of the prices for the same articles and the same markets January 1, 1860, and this remained the lowest point ever touched until August 10, 1803, when the average fell to 72.76, but early this year Railway & Navigation Company, is in Omaha to hold a conference in regard to the expenditures incurred by the receivers of the Union Pacific in repairing the dam-ages done by the washouts along the Columbia river last year. Cotton said the prices dropped below all previous records, and have never recovered, the average December 26 Oregon Railway & Navigation Company had a fair wheat traffic last year, but business is at a standatili at present. He have invert recovered, the average December 26 being only 60,75 per cent of the prices in 1880. The range was very little higher at the end of the year, and about as low October 25. The fall since a year ago has been 3% per cent, but very unequal in different branches, in iron and steel products being 1; per cent, in wool 13.4 per cent. stated Major McNeill has been able to raise $125,000 on receivers' certificates to pay the interest charges, and had still to draw on $175,000 in receivers' certificates, the court authorizing the issuance of $500,000 to meet interest features and opern woolens and cottons about 15 per cent. Those the woodens and cottons about to per card. Inose changes contrast sharply with the decline in wages paid per hour's work, which, as was shown last week, average only 1.2 per cont less than a year ago. The volume of business represented by exating expenses.

If Santa Claus

If Santa Claus Were bilious he wouldn't be the jovial friend of the little boys and girls that he is. Bilious people are cross. They ought to take Hostetter's stomach bit-ters and banish the bile from their blood and their tempers at one and the same time. The bitters is an infallible preven-tive of malarial, kidney and rheumatic ailments, and triumphs over dyspepsia and nervousness. It regulates the bowels without griping them.
