CHICAGO, Jan. 1s.—Whent marted easy in tone at the decline today. Trade was not brisk, but the preponderance of orders from the outside was to sell, and the local crowd, observing that were in a hurry to square themselves with the apparent drift of outside opinion. The years of the day, with the exception of an increase of 112,000 bushels in the quantity on accome passage, was builted. May wheat opened at Sectionies, declined in the course of an hour secon passage, was builted. May wheat opened at 581,0886, declined in the course of an hour to 584,0886, and showed but little inclination to react intil after the publication of the visible supply statement, which being construed builtwill, caused a recovery to 585,6886, which was, however, again followed by another decline. The visible supply increased 1,271,000 hundred, which was about generally looked for by the conservative bulls. The receipts at primary markets amounted to 759,000 hundreds against 180,000 Monday last, and 449,000 hundreds against 180,000 Monday last, and 449,000 hundreds places fell sheef about 80 cars on their receipts with the corresponding time isst year. Clear-nuces amounted in wheat and flour to 240,000 busiels, of which $8,000 was wheat. The foreign markets were form Millers in Ontario make declined in the course of an hour hushels, of which 68,000 was wheat. The for-eign markets were firm. Millers in Ontario were reported bidding Tie, f. a. b. on cars, at Ruffalo for some Manitolia wheat, which is held in bond there, originally instended for shipment to Europe. The market showed a tendency to-ward recovery near the end. May closing at ESS<sub>C</sub>. January closed at 545c. Finances—41 42.

CHURCH ROW IN SPOKANE The First Methodist Church of That City Now Divided.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 14.-A serious split took place in the First Methodist church tonight, when 70 members resolved to withdraw in a body and organize a new church. The First Methodiat is the strong-est church in the city, and has been growing for years without a serious ripple of trouble. A few months ago the Rev. Henry Rasmus, pastor, was called to the Grace Methodist church, of Portland, and the Rev. McInturf, of Eugene, Or., was called to take his place in Spokare. He continued to draw crowded houses as his predecessor had done, and resolved to build new church immediately. He was resisted in this movement by the elem who believed it unwise to build these times, and tonight's split is the re-

A QUESTION OF LABOR.

Workmen at Astoria Object to the Price Paid by Contractor Normile. ASTORIA, Jan. 14.—When it became known that Contractor Normile, who was awarded the contract for grading a por-tion of the right-of-way for the new water works, had hired inborers at $1 50 per day. an attempt was made by one of the local body of workmen to have a provision in-serted in the specifications for the pay-ment of not less than $2 per day to all aborers employed on the works. One of the afternoon papers went even further and advocated either letting the contract to the highest bidder or having the labor-ers employed directly by the water commission. A committee from the workmen watted upon the commission and requested that a labor clause be inserted in the con-tract. No action was taken in the matter and the workmen feel highly incensed. The city water commissioners have concluded their work of figuring out the amounts of the various bids for the conatruction of the new waterworks. Of the 29 bids, 12 were for the entire construction of the works. They were as follows:

ing & Co..... ays, Jeffery & Co.... Porter Bros. Oregon Bridge Co... Perry Hinkle Baker Engineer Co.. Hoffman & Bates...

It cannot yet be stated which of the oldders will be successful, as the commismission will carefully investigate the financial standing of each before award-ing the contract. The other bids were ade on special portions of the work, and t is possible a combination of these may be formed, which will take the contract in its entirety. It will probably be several days yet before the contract, will be awarded.

ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 14.-The offer of the Lamprecht Bros. & Co., of Cleveland and Boston, for the Astoria water bonds, was today accepted by the water commission, S. A. Keen, of Chicago, having failed to make the necessary deposit upon the ac-ceptance of his offer. The price is 34% and the total amount of the bonds is $200,000, drawing 3 per cent interest,

A Suit for Damages.

Suit has been flied in the state circuit court by Mrs. Sadle E. Hall against J. H. Rathbun for $1509 damages. Mrs. Hall avers that she purchased one-half of the Melville ledging-house, at the corner of Market and Second streets, from Rath-bun, paying therefor $600. Rathbun, she alleges, contracted as part of the part-nership stipulations to discharge liens against the furniture in the house, held Forbes & Breeden and Hathaway & Thompson. This agreement, she says, he failed to comply with, and, as a result the furniture was taken away and sold and the business which she had built up was entirely destroyed.

THE SICK AND THE DEAD

This One Will Prove Fatal. SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. H. B. Eagle, resident physician at the peni-tentiary, received a stroke of paralysis that will end in his death. He is well known, not only in California, but in many states in the Union, having served as surgeon throughout the war and hav-ing been surgeon for the troops stationed t the Rosebud agency on the frontier This is the third stroke of the kind re-ceived in the past year, and there is no doubt that it will end fatally.

This completed the election of officers, and then Paxton offered a resolution, adopting the rules of the last house until the new ones could be arranged, and that copies be furnished to the members. The esolution was adopted. Paxton offered another resolution, seconded by Selhbrede, that he committee on ways and means be instructed to report the general appropriation bill not later than one week prior to the adjournment of the house. Templeton of Linn, seconded by Hofer of Marion, offered an amendment, making it two weeks. Paxton explained that it would be almost impossible to complete the appropriation bill as early as two veeks. The amendment, however, was dopted and then the resolution, as

After its adoption, Cole of Multnomah introduced a resolution providing for five newspapers for each member and officers of the house. Schibreds here fired the first economic gun by protesting against the resolution in toto. An amendment was offered to reduce the number of papers to three. Finally, on motion of Paxton, the matter was indefinitely postponed. Moorhead introduced a house concurrent resolution, providing for a committee of three from the house and two from the senate to fix the compensation of cierks, officers and employers of both houses. Hofer offered a substitute in the form of a house resolution, for a com-mittee of the house alone, but withdrew it temporarily. On motion of Smith of Josephine the matter was laid on the table. THE SENATORIAL FIGHT.

There Has Been No Change Noted in the Past Twenty-Four Hours. SALEM, Or., Jan. 14.-The senatorial no changes being publicly amounced. The vote on the speakership nomination in the republican caucus has been looked forpard to by both sides as significant, the anti-Dolph men having promised to show by the vote for J. A. Wright, the Eustern bregon whiner that Dolph could not be elected. Wright mustered only 22 votes in caucus, and some of these are known in caucus, and some of to be Dolph supporters.

Virgit Conn arrived today from Klamath county. He has been an unknown factor in the senatorial fight, and promptly and publicly announced himself for Dolph. onn had a hard trip over the mountain The snow was deep and the weather severe. He was nine days on the way, and his face is sore and inflamed from the frost. His arrival makes the house roll complete, he being the only absentee today's roll calls.

A senatorial caucus will be called for Wednesday night. It seems impossible now that anything can interfere with Dolph's election on the first ballot, or at most on the second, after scattering comimentary testimonials. Nothing further on he learned as to the determination of he free-silver party not to go into the caucus if consciously in the minority. The only question seems to be, now con will realize their case is hopeess, and this should develop tomorrow.

district?" asked Platt.
"I do not." responded Hill. "That could be done, but it is the most that could be done. No suit against the commissioner could be brought save in the district."
Returning to the tariff law, Hill said he had no retraction to offer for the criticisms he made against that law. He objected to the differential duty on sugar. Did the senator from Maryland, he asked, think of revenue when he youed for that tiver. The act admitting Oregon into the Union gave the state concurrent jurisdiction over the river. While Washington was yet a territory this jurisdiction was sustained by Judge Deady, in the case of the Anna M. Small, in which a ship tied to the wharf at Kalama was taken into custody by the United States marshal for the district of Oregon, and was also upheld by our state circuit courts in a great many cases. Since the admission think of revenue when he voted for that provision-a provision that hurt the demo cratic party more than any other fac-tor? One would think from listening to the senator from Maryland that he had stood here and combatted a democratic mob. He then went on: great many cases. Since the admission of Washington as a state, it has been

The question is not a new one, but has been decided by the supreme courts of at least associates."

There was a ripple of applause at this point, which was checked by the presiding officer. Hill continued:

"Why has the senator from Maryland been moved from the stolid attitude of indifference he had assumed until today? Has he just heard the voice of the state conventions all over the country of last.

Has he just heard the voice of the state conventions all over the country of last fall? Does he not know that in three platforms the democrats have stood by the gallant few in this chamber and in the house who had stood for redeeming the Chicago platform pledges? Why did he attack me? In attacking me, did he not attack a democratic president and the democratic house of representatives? In 1883 the senators of his own state declared for free raw material. The senator FALSE TO THEIR TRUSTS ner Dorr is examining the books of the Dover National bank. It is said there as been a defalcation of about $60,000 or clared for free raw material. The senato from Maryland has alluded to the section from which I came as unfavorable to a compromise. Very well, I am not so certain that the atmosphere of Northern Notice was posted or the bank door today saying the institution had sus-pended, and was in care of the examiner, Isaac F. Abbott was eashier. He was a New York is not as good as that in near-by states, which breathes compromise on all public questions. Depositors will lose nothing, but their money is tled up. The savings bank is announced to be all right. The city's money on deposit is said to be safe. Share-holders will have to make good any de-ficiency. why the senator deemed it necessary, at this late day, to attack me in order to vindicate his position on the tariff act."

Hill recurred to the assertion of Gorman that he had always been opposed to the issue of bonds, and recalled Gorman's position in 1881, when he favored a bond issue. He then resumed:

"The senator has also said he did not consider the verying of last fall a con-

To do so would be idle until the oner Hall was notified and at once visited the scene. It is believed that the dead cashier has left a detailed statement for rules are changed. The senator from Maryland attempted to set his judgment as superior to that of some of his associ-ates. Past events, I beg to assure him. Examiner Dorr. Abbott left in his brother's possession a statement of his defalcation in an envelope, addressed to Exhave shown that he is no wiser than othaminer Dorr. It might have been better if he had returned it for correction, but when he, in his wisdom, allowed it to become a law, it became a party measure, and from that time I ceased criticising, and, as a democrat, tried to make my people believe it was a fair and just measure. As a party man, I tried to strengthen it before the people. After the election I accepted the verdict, and would never have alluded to a personal vindication hoped for or anticipated, had it not been for the remarks of the senator from bott Friday night, with the result that he locked the vault with everything inside and adjusted it so that it would not open until today. Gorman was again on his feet as soon as Hill closed. He spoke very quietly at first, but with evident feeling. He disdaimed a desire to have a personal controversy with the senator from New York. He was not in the habit of mak-ing explanations. He was guided always by the one rule of bringing his best judg-PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 14.-The house and fer and consult with his associates and thority and means to proceed against the bondsmen of W. W. Taylor, who are resi-dents of other states. He notified the session of the receipt of a telegram stat-ing that the name of W. W. Taylor apabide by the judgment of the party. As to the tariff law as a whole, Gorman said that if the democracy-from its head to its most humble member-had given the measure generous support, the results of last November would have been dif-ferent. He did not then anticipate that the senator from New York would be peared on the passenger list of the steam-er Persia, which left New York several found fighting with the republicans against the bill. No dominant party could have succeeded in the midst of the terrible depression that existed last summer. He did not want to be disagreeable to the senator from New York. He had not comment upon his course, but his position, as it was now defined by him-self, was a legitimate subject of comment: and if his idea were carried out, it would further decrease the revenue $0,000,000.
His proposition was unfair. It would be disastrous to the country. He then said:
"Now, I say to the senator from New York, bring forth your measures for relief, and if it is a proper measure, one that commands a majority in this cham-ber, we will pass it." With a final protest against his and an appeal to both sides of the cham her for patriotic action, Gorman con-cluded and Call took the floor. Call urged the necessity of an income tax, and connued until an executive session was orlered, and at 5:15 the senate adjourned.

Efforts to Straighten Out Affairs in Newfoundland.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Jan. 14.-The share polders of the suspended Union bank will meet tomorrow, when a full report of the condition of the institution's affairs will be laid before them. It is reported that the government here is in correspondence with the Canadian government regarding terms for New-foundland's admission into the Canadian onfederation. The whole question, it is understood, will be presented to the clonial legislature next week. Nothing appears to have been really done by the authorities as yet in the matter of govern-ment provisions for relief of the prevalent estitution and distress. The governor however, is in constant cable communi-cation with the imperial authorities. The clergy are uniting to urge unity of action on the part of Newfoundland's public men, and to formulate measures for the purification of the colony's press. Last night the Rev. Mr. Siddail, a Congregationalist, scored the government for the parsage of a bill removing the disabilities against Sir William Whiteway and his colleagues, denouncing them and certain members of the legislature as political 'ragamuflus." Other preachers, as well, have strongly criticised the government and certain bank directors also have been severely handled by them. The crown prosecution of P. T. McGrath, editor of the Herald, an opposition organ, on ground that the dispatches sent by as a press cotresp colony's credit, has been abandoned, to-gether with the proceedings against the other correspondents. Mr. McGrath in-tends to bring suit for $10,000 damages.
