Reports Greatly Exaggerated. SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. H.—General Lew Wallace, formerly minister to Tur-key, is here to lecture on "Ben Hur," his most renowned historical romance. He was interviewed on the Armenian ques-

"If the reports we have received cor cerning these mansacres and outrages are true, I think the whole Christian world should unite in demanding the punishment of the perpetrators. But I withhold my opinion for the present, for I have grave doubts of their truth. There is a ring of exaggeration about them and the whole affair seems to me as if a conspiracy were alread in the world, the object of which is not yet apparent. As to whether the sultan is guilty, as accused, of ordering these atractites, I know it is false. I knew Abdul Hamid II very well while at his court, and have personal knowledge of his character and nature. Gladstone to use a homely expression, 'has gone off half-cocked. Gladstone always hated the Turks, and when he was premier his con-duct was such that he several times came very near sacrificing the entente cordials between Turkey and England. The best-informed man on the Armenians in Amer-ica, probably, is Dr. Cyrus Hamlin, of hoston, who has published several state-ments showing that the whole affair is an Armenian conspiracy directed against the Turks. I accept his opinions and sen-timents in preference to Gladstone's. The Americans are easily excited and aroused and I suggest that they wait for full reports from the international commiss which has been appointed for the purpose of investigation."

A MINER'S DAUGHTER. Her Parents Died Long Ago, and She Is Now Searching for Relatives.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 14.-John McAlvoy Butte, Mont., has been in Cleve land for two or three days looking for the relatives of his ward, a beautiful youn woman, who goes by the name of Mis Celia F. Steiner. The search here was unavailing, and McAlvoy will now visit New York, Boston and Phliadelphia in the hope that he may find some clew to the girl' relatives. In 1878 a man and woman ar-rived in Butte from the East. The man was known as "Tramp Charley," his little daughter was called the "Little Jewel" by the miners. In 1878 the mother of the little one died, and "Tramp Charstarted for Arizona with the child, in company with McAlvoy and C. L. Steiner. On the way they were attacked by Indians. "Tramp Charley" was killed. The other men flipped a coin for the pos-session of the child and Steiner won. He took the girl, gave her his name, and and educated. Afterwards Steiner went to ntral America, where he died. Then Mc Alvoy became the girl's guardian. When she was graduated she asked McAlvoy to tell her about her parents. He did so, and she expressed a desire to find her relatives. That was what prompted the search that is now being prosecuted. Miss Steiner will accompany her guardian East, and if the search for her relatives is un-

WACO, Tex., Jan. 14.—Saturday a trapper found in the sand of a bank of Brazos river a petrified man, entire as to every limb and feature. The stomach cavity presented a hollow filled by sand. The body had been disemboweled. When exposed to view on the public square, the petrified man was quickly identified as etrified man was quickly identified as Il Johnson, a famous outlaw, who ter-ized the Brazos valley in the 50s. When was 20 years old Bill had slain two men. He rode into Waco in 1850, and the sheriff, with a strong posse, undertook Bill's arrest. After a terrific battle, in which Bill siew two and wounded three of the posse, he fell riddled by bullets. Lonchers hanged the desperado, and, after an autopsy by surgeons, some of whom live here still, in which Bill was disem-boweled, he was buried on a bank overlooking the Brazos river. The country nce looks like a cast from a death gives a metallic sound.

His Life Saved by a Friend. LEBANON, Mo., Jan. 14. - Word hi nched here of the hanging of Rouber Garner by a mob of indignant neighbors near Celt postoffice, Dallas county, Thurs-day. Garner was accused of robbing the store of Hunt & Powler at that place last week, and a crowd of 10 or 12 neighbors went to his home, took him out, strung in to a tree and left him a short distance from the ground A friend of Garner's, who was present when the party called for him, followed the would-be lynchers, and no sooner had they left their victim than he was there to rescue him, and, speedily cutting the rope, succeeded, after vigorous efforts, in nscitating Garner, who has since left neighborhood.

During the services the pillars supporting the gallery snapped, and a panic ensued. Women and men jumped from the pews, and in the rush broke the windows and burst the doors from their hinges. Several children were bruised by being trampled on.
