EDMISTON'S METHODS

BANKER'S CONFIDENTIAL CLERA ON THE STAND.

He Testified Edmiston Raised Money on Farmers' Wheat, and Used It for His Scattle Bank.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Feb. 14.— The interest in the trial of Banker Ed-miston continues without abatement, sithough progress was slow today. her Phipps, on cross-examination, reluc-tantly admitted that his father told him that he had effected an arrangement by which the witness was not to be prosecuted for complicity in the bank frauds. Attorney Ormsby went on the stand, on behalf of the prosecution, to endeavor to show that the defendant had kept Bookkeeper Reeves away from court, but clevery obstructed his every Mr. Kendall, a banker emthe defuse ployed by Receiver Paine, was on the stand, as was also Mr. Paine, to give estimony as to the securities of the bank. The defense put in objection after objection as to the admission of evidence, which the court mainly sustained. Judge Graves ruled today that the books of the bank could be received in evidence.

Mr. Fitzhugh, the confidential clerk of Edmiston, testified that 10 or 12 days before the close of the bank it was conceded that if money was not procured the bank would have to suspend. He accompanied Edmiston to confer with loan companies to endeavor to obtain money to tide the bank over, but they were unsuccessful. Plinhugh, on his return to Walla Walla, made a proposition to William Jones and R. F. Stone regarding taking stock in the bank, but after examination they would not consent, unless Edmiston would take up some securities. At this time Edmiston was present, and after Jones left the bank Edmission told Fitzhugh that he could not care for the securities and the bank would suspend in one week. In explanation as to how the banker worked, the witness said that Edmiston obtained contracts from farmers for the delivery of wheat to be shipped to Balfour, Guthrie & Co. for the account of the bank, which Edmiston in turn sold the firm, with the privileg of drawing against the same at the rate of 40 cents per sack. The wheat shipped aggregated between 150,000 and 291,000 bushels. The proceeds Edmiston agreed to apply to payment to the loan companies for a fraudulent mortgage placed with them. Upon collection from he sales, Edmiston appropriated the money, which went largely for his private ndebtedness and to sustain his Seattle bank. A mortgage was introduced which purported to have been issued by Edmond Joyce. Fitzhugh said it was fraudulent and came from the office of Edmiston.

A TACOMA STREET RAILWAY. Action by Trustee to Foreclose a

First Mortgage. TACOMA, Feb. 14.-In the United States circuit court today the New York Guaranty & Indemnity Company, as trustee, irought suit in equity against the Tacoma Railway & Motor Company and Edna L. Mitchell. The complaint alleges that in July, 180, the defendant road, for the purpose of securing the payment of the acries of first mortgage bonds for $1,560,000, executed and delivered to plain tiff a first mortgage on its property and equipment in this city. January 1, 1894, default, was made in the payment of the interest. The plaintiff asks that the first mortgage held by it, as trustee, be foreclosed and the company's property and franchises be sold by a master in chan-cery under the direction of the court as an entirety, and absolutely without any right of redemption, subject only to the lien of a prior mortgage or deed of trust made to the Farmers' Lean & Trust Com-ment, amount to 85,000 principal, with in-terest thereon. That Government Considers That Such a Waterway Should Be Under International Control.

LONDON, Feb. 14.-In the house commons this afternoon Sir Edward Har-land, conservative, asked whether the government was aware that Morgan's Nicaraguan canal bill had passed United States senate and was now before the house of representatives, and wheth-er, in view of the importance of the canni to British shipowners, the government would not make urgent representations to the government of the United States against the provisions of the bill detrimental to the interests of British shipping. Sir Edward also asked whether the government would consider the propriety of urging upon the government of the United States the importance of the cres tion of a British and American commi-sion to deal with the question of the cor struction of the canal and its status when

Sir Edward Gray, parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, replied it was not usual for the government to make any representations against bills before for eign legislatures. The government, he added, considered such a canal as it was proposed to construct through Nic-aragua should be under international control and whatever steps it may deem de-sirable will be taken by the government to advance this view. SOMETHING MUST BE DONE

Facilities for Commerce in San Fran cisco Need Improving.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.-The mer bers of the produce exchange at a meeting this afternoon approved a bill propared at the instance of the president of the exchange and the board of directors, the purpose of which bill is to authorize the board of harbor commissioners to exe cate leases of the state's water lots in his city. The bill is to be presented in the egislature. President W. A. Holcomb prior to the meeting, in an interview, told the aim which is in view in this prop legislation. He said that it is desire ring commerce to the port of San Franisco, and this is in that line. He further Ever since I have been president this produce exchange, the members of the exchange have been urging me to make e, in behalf of the exchange, look ing to an increase of the facilities for commerce in San Francisco. This referred more especially to the handling of grain from the North coast, from Wash-ington and Oregon. The claim has been truly made that we have not the proper facilities for handling this class of bu ness. For tack of the proper facilities at San Francisco, traffic has been diverted, whereas this is the natural center of trade, and we ought to be able to afford all the facilities that are needed. We ought to be able to bandle all the grain of the Pa-cilic coast, if necessary. "I am looking somewhat ahead. I expect that in the near future public opinion will compet the government, or perhaps the state, to dredge out our navigable riv-ers. We will then have facilities for reaching all of the grain-producing sections of California. This is the natural outlet for that grain. Concerning the North coast, we believe that we can handle the grain raised in Oregon and Washington to bette advantage than the people of the North The great tonnage engaged in commerce on this coast arrives at San Francisco hips, to take wheat from Washington and Oregon, go up in ballast, which causes expense and long delay before ships pass near the Golden Gate laden. We can, with our coasters, bring grain from the North and ship it from San Francisco and take it more advantageous for the people of the North than it is for them to ship as have described. They will lose nothing by this plan. They will have the same commerce. They are shipbuilding people. I am in favor of anything that will help any other port on the coast. This will not hurt the others."

THE CHARGES OF BRIBERY MADE AGAINST MCBRIDE.

President Adams' Charges Against the Officers of the United Mineworkers Were Not Sustained.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 14.—In a meeting of the United Mineworkers of America today Mark Wild, district organizer of the Amerlean Railway Union under Mr. Debs. being granted the floor, stated that when the American Railway Union inst summer was attempting to stop the running of trains on the Hocking Valley road, John Mc-Bride, then president of the United Mine-workers, gave him $60 to induce a settle-ment of the strike of railroad men on that road. McBride replied that he did give Wild the money, but it was a charitable donation from some coal operators, the strike having been previously overcome by the railroad company. McBride said: "None of the money came from the railroad company." A committee was ap-pointed to investigate and report upon the subject in controversy between Wild and McBride. Editor John Kane, of the Mine workers' Journal, offered the following: "Resolved, That a committee of one from each district be appointed, and that, from each district be appoint if the committee is satisfied, upon hearing all of the evidence, that the money was all of the evidence, that the money was received for charitable purposes, it will withhold the names of the donors; but if the committee be satisfied that it was used for the purpose of bribery and cor-ruption, the committee shall report the same to the convention, and that the convention shall have the right to say, after hearing the report, whether it was for purposes of bribery or not." This resolution was opposed by a num-ber of delegates, who said if there was any attempt to withhold all the facts from the public, they would be forced to lefer that there was something wrong with Mr. McBride's connection with the transac-tion, and would so report to their con-stituents when they went home. Several delegates spoke in favor of the resolution. During the discussion, Mr. McBride sat silent. When the motion to adopt the resolution was put, a delegate demanded the call of the roll, which resulted in 79 votes for and 51 against it, and it was de clared adopted. A committee was ther ppointed. President Penna then demanded a vote of the convention on the question of his guilt or innocence of the charge of corruption made against the national officers by President Adams. He said that while he believed John McBride had done nothing wrong, he did not want to carry the accurations against McBride on his shoulders. The Adams charges against the miners' officials were disposed of by the adoption of a resolution that it was the verdict of the convention that the charges were not sustained by affidavit or otherwise. The vote on the resolution stood 96 for adoption and 15 against, 18 lelegates declining to vote. This matter out of the way, the scale committees were appointed. The committees will report toorrow afternoon, when the officers will

OREGON CITY INDIGNANT The Charter Prepared by Its People Changed at Salem.

OREGON CITY, Feb. 14.—The treatment accorded the new Oregon City charter by the legislature has aroused considerable feeling here. The measure passed the senate yesterday afternoon, under suspen-sion of the rules, but it was changed from the form prepared by the council and board of trade committees. Two changes were made at the instance of member icisco and of the lower house, who would not agree the people to pass the bill as the people of Oregon to ship as City wanted it. One of these changes takes from the city the power to direc where the road tax it pays shall be ex pended, and it is admitted that this is a question upon which other portions of the ounty have a right to speak. The other change affects the attorney employed by the city. The proposed charter provides for a city prosecutor, defines his duties and says he shall receive such remuneration as the city council may determine Representative Smith, of Eagle Creek, said he would oppose the charter unless the city presentor was made "city attorpey," as at present, and the amalso provides that that officer shall re ceive "reasonable compensation," that the city shall have the right to ploy other legal service only "in condition. The Bulletin says it is proin which the city attorney is an interested party." Oregon City people feel that this is a matter that concerns nobody but themselves, and that the interference of a country member, after the people here have agreed upon it, is a piece of intolera ed to go to Salem tomerrow to use their influence to get such a charter as the city wants for its own government: Thomas F. Byan, C. H. Caufield, C. O. Albright, C. O. T. Williams, W. A. Humi-ley, Sidney Smith, E. E. Charman, H. E. Smith, George A. Harding, Charles Me-berve and J. G. Pilsbury. The board was not against any reasonable concession, and the committee was given full powers in the premises. A spe-call meeting of the city council was held this evening to protest against the unauthorized changes. The discussion was similar to that of the loard of trade. The proposed charter, as prepared by the com-mittee, was formally adopted, and the sense of the council declared in favor of its passage by the legislature in that form neilmen Meldrum, Broughton and Jag gar were applitted a committee to go to Salem and look after the progress of the bill, which 's a special order for tomorrow evening. The special committee appointed at the ast council meeting to investigate the "Reception" saloon reported tonight that the establishment was not run in a proper spring up on the Milwaukee road within manner; that it had rooms connected with the last two or three years. There are it used for assignation, and was practi500 or 600 Austrians there, to the exclusion cally a place of prostitution, and recommended that steps be taken to revoke the license. The report was signed by Porter and Moffatt. The mayor was the other member of the committee. The report was eignted without a dissenting voice, and the chief of police, after some pointed discussion, was instructed to arrest the persons who are responsible for the conect of the place, and produce available

The Caundian Pacific to Increase Its Service. The New Zenland government has ex-

ressed a desire to participate in the advantages of the Canadian-Australian mai teamer service, and has made a proposi-ion in this direction, offering a libera absidy, in the event of a third steame being placed with the Miowera and War rimoo on the route, and Auckland being included in the ports of call. The Sydney Morning Herald notes that Mr. Huddart had some time ago offered to add a thirvessel to his Canadian fleet whenever Nev Zealand would come forward with a sub sidy, and looks upon the acceptance of the proposition as assured. To call at Auck land will make each voyage of the ships about four days longer, should they, as it is understood they will, continue to visit Suva, Fiji. The route under the new arrangement will be from Sydney to Auck-land direct; thence to Suva, from there to Honolulu, and thence to Victoria and Van-
