POSSIBILITIES OF THE COMING OUT-DOOR SEASON.

Northwest Pacific Association to Meet and Schedule Games-Basebull Talk-Other News.

The spring meeting of the Northwest Panific Association of the Amsteur Ath-letic Union, which will take place in this city a week from next Saturday, is of the greatest importance. At that time the schedule of games and field meets for the entire outing season must be made up. and the association must determine who may enter and compete apon such oc-casions. The association only has two regular meetings each year, the second one occurring on the eve of the association championship meeting, September 29, which is the closing event of the field and track senson. At the coming meeting there is evidence that the most harmonious feeling will prevail, so that all busi-ness will be disposed of with dispatch. The season promises to be the most eventful that the Pacific Northwest has ever experienced. Commencing with the open-ing handicap games of the various clubs, it will run through a series of baseball contests, regatias and field meets that will give athletes all they can do right up to the date of the championship games. All of these events must be classified and properly scheduled by the committees of the association, so that no two contests will occur on the same date, and that involves a great deal of labor. The as-sociation will have at least one application for membership to pass upon, that of the Port Townsend Athletic Ameriation, and there is a possibility of applications from the Seattle Y. M. C. A. and the new Yakima club coming up at the same time.

been filed by clubs desiring to partici-pate in the amateur baseball championpate in the amateur buseball champion-ship series, to be played under the aus-pices of the Northwest Facilic Associa-tion this summer. The Port Townsend Club had anticipated entering a team in the contest, and has plenty of excellent material at hand, but Dr. Cobb, the secre-tary, in a recent letter to Chairman Davey, of the Portland club athletic committee, says that his fellow elulemen feel that they are not strong enough to risk the they are not strong enough to risk the beavy expense that such a series of games would entail. LaGrande would like to enter a team, but such a proposition would not meet with favor in the eyes of the schedule committee, as LaGrande is so far away that railroad fares for vist-ing clubs whild be very expensive, and it is feared that it would prove a losing proposition. So the chances are that only the Portland and Multnoman clubs, of this city, and the Scattle and Tacoma Athletic Clubs will have representative teams in the field. And that will be enough to make things interesting, so local cranks say. It is proposed that each club team shall play six games—two each with each of the other teams in the combination. As the season of field and track meetings will extend almost to the middle of June, and bicycle tournaments are fashionable early in August, it is essential that the baseball season be made as short as possible. With only four clubs in the combination, the schedule can easily be arranged so that the opening games can be played during the first or second week in June, and the finals before Aug-ust I. This will give Portland four games within six weeks, and that ought to be enough to satisfy the most exacting of cranks. The whole matter will come under discussion at the spring meeting of the association, which will take place in this city March 9. At that time it will be known definitely just what clobs will enter teams in the championship contest, and just who the players will be. The whedule will be fully arranged.

The semi-annual meeting of the North Pacific Association of Amaleur Oarsmen, in which Portland is represented by the Portland and Willamette Rowing Clubs, has been called for March 18, at Victoria, B. C. The Williamettes will be represent-ed there by Al Werlein and P. J. Bannen, and the Portland Rowing Club by H. E. Judge and T. White. President Gold-smith, of the Scattle Athletic Club, is the president. The coming meeting is important, because at that time the associ-ation will fix upon the date of the mid-summer regatta and the place of holding The Portland men are unanimously July, and it has been suggested that the date be fixed as July i. As the place of meeting will undoubtedly be in British waters, no better date could be named, az July 1 is Dominian day, the biggest holiday of the year in British posses-sions. The annual meeting of the Portland Rowing Club will take place within a few days, and its delegates will probably be instructed to use their influence to se-cure such an arrangement. The Scattle crew expects to be in shape to row in British Columbia on May 24, so that that date will undoubtedly suit the Scattle dele-The regatta will come to Portland

The committee appointed to revise the constitution and by-laws of the Zig-Zag Cycle Club will probably be prepared to make a report at the next meeting, which will take place next Tuesday evening. Few changes will be made. It will be recommended that an amendment be made governing club runs and regulating the page to be adopted on club runs. Club seets will very likely be made a prominent feature. Appointments will be made for the members of the club to assemble at a certain place-at Hillsboro, Salem Oregon City or at such place as may be designated. The club will then travel not in a body, but in twos, fours, etc. until all have collected at the place designated, where there will be a short parade before dinner. The return home in he made in the same manner. This is regarded as greatly preferable to traveling in a bunch, raising a disagreeable besides, there is constant danger "pile-ups" when riding in a bunch. There will be some long runs during the coming season, and century trips will be features. Even a meet in the Siskiyou mountains is now talked of.

Chairman Davey, of the Portland club athletic committee, is hard at work de-veloping material for the coming in lost meet of the First Regiment Association, which is scheduled to take place March 22, at the Armory. One of his stars is Blaker, a left-handed shot-putter, who, although but little more than a novice, has thrown the 16-pound weight over IS feet at practice. Baker also makes some pretense at high jumping, and will enter the ratio walk. Miller Frischkorn, Snyder and Buckman will be entered for the bar contests, and will also participate in some of the strength tests and track events. Washburn and Lasswell, halfbacks, will enter for several of the track events, and Lampford and Scoggin will be with them. Taylor will be there at the high jump, and Ed Davey will try his lock with the 12-pound shot. The Portlands are now comewhat handicapped by lack of proper Charles Frazier, who captured the threemile event from the scratch at the Olym-pic Club meet in San Francisco last week, is the crack wheelman in the Mulinomah club, and a student at Palo Alto. nsual exhibitions of muscle or skill, nor were any records broken or even tied. As is usual in handicap games, most of the older athletes had too much to overcome to make a good showing, and most of the honors were carried off by new men. But it is worthy of remark that some of the It is worthy of remark that some of the new men were worthy of the honors they won. H. H. Connor, a new man, captured the 100 and 440-yard events, and the 220-yard hurdle and the pole-vault. It is said that he is a graceful athlete, and one who has a most promising future. E. L. Blancke, who visited the city with the S. A. C. football team, secured the ballonile and took secured the half-mile and took second place in the quarter and 220-yard hurdle. Fisher, Struve, Atkins, Abrams and several other new men gave good accounts of them-selves. Connor won the Hansen medal.

Professor Barker, who has so long and faithfully served the Multnomah as an instructor in athletics, has been obliged to resign his position on account of libeath. That arch enemy of athletes, rheumatism, has claimed him as a victim, and on April 1 he will leave his charge.

The members of the Multnomah club are sorry to lose the professor, as he has been with them since the club started, and his duties have been performed most satisfactorily. Professor King, who has been the club's trainer at the track in past seasons, has been employed for a year, and will temporarity take charge of the symnasum classes. No regular gymnasium instructor will be secured until next fall, owing to the nearness of the outing season. Trainer King is a man who thoroughly understands his business.

by the Tacoma Athletic Club that it will give its initial spring handicap games during the latter part of May. Chairman Howe, of the athletic committee, has en-tered an application for May 30 as the inte, and it will undoubtedly be granted The Multnomah club has in past years se-lected May 30 as the date of its spring cames, and has had an application in for that date for some time; but owing to the fact that this is the initial effort of the Tacoma club to arrange such a meet ing, there is a growing sentiment in the Multnomah club to walve its right of riority in the matter, and to render all the assistance in its power to make the Tacoma games a success by sending over a strong team to test the strength and endurance of the Sound men.

It has been suggested that if the peo de of Eastern Oregon and Washington are "bungering" for a season of baseball an amateur league might be formed to include La Grande, Pendleton, Baker City and Walla Walla, and at the close of the eason the victorious club might easily secure a game with the winner of the N. P. A. pennant, to decide the amateur championship of the two states. The La Grande club is a strong organization and has excellent material already developed. An amateur baseball team is now being organized at Walla Walla, under the patronage of officers at the fort. It would be a simple matter to interest Baker City and Pendleton in the scheme, and the N. P. A. would lend all the assistance in its power to make the scheme a success.

The preliminary steps have been taken by the East Side department of the Y. M. C. A. for the organization of a cycle club for the season. A committee on rules has been appointed to report at the meeting to be held next Friday night. The formation of this club will be somewhat different from any other in the city. but its object in some respects is about the same. It has been decided not to load it down with cumbersome constitution and and by-laws, but it will be governed en-tirely by a set of simple rules, setting forth the officers and committees. Club meets will be made a specialty. A place will be appointed several miles in the ountry, and arrangements will be entered into for a speaker who will deliver a lee

PLAYERS OF WHIST. News of the Week in the Portland Clubs.

During the past week the Seattle Athletic Club has forwarded an application for membership in the North Pacific Whis. sented by a team in the approaching congress. The directors of the Portland Athletic Club have also passed a resolu-tion signifying their intention to apply for membership. The challenge contost be-tween the Portland Whist Club and the Heart Club for possession of the leagu trophy will take place at the roo the former organization on Thursday and Saturday evenings of this week. Twenty-four hands will be played each evening. The Heart Chb will be represented by Messrs. T. M. Stevens, S. B. Linthicum, George Clark and Couch Flanders; the Portland Whist Club by Messrs, C. L. Nichols, Neil McMillan, Herbert Wilson and Richard Nixon. The match will be umpired by Mr E. H. Shepard.

The above mentioned team from the Portland Whist Club went over to Vanuver barracks last Saturday evening and played a match with a team from the Officers' Club. The officers were represent-ed by Major Marshall, Lieutenant Laseign. Lieutenant Little and Lieutenan Schott. Three series of 12 hands each were played. On the first the Portland Whist won four points and on the second three. The third series was a tie. This gave the match to the Portland players by seven points, just about one-fifth of a point a hand.

Preparations are actively making for the league congress. Probable reductions in hotel and railroad rates, combined with the attractive programms arranged, will bring together a notable gathering of whist players. There is considerable talk about having the winning team repre-sent the Pacific Northwest at the fifth annual coursess of the American Whist League, which will meet in Minneapolis

The Portland Whist Club has offered to whist clubs composed of women the us of its rooms on certain afternoons of the week, and the propriety of having a ladie night is under discussion. A move in this direction was made last Tuesday evening, when a dozen or more of the members were present with their wives and friends.

HE IS THE RIGHT MAN

EVERYBODY SATISFIED WITH MR. M'BRIDE'S ELECTION.

Political Aftermath Gossip-Railron Commissioners et al. Think They Have a Good Thing.

Little, if any, enthusiasm was notice able yesterday over the result of the sen-atorial contest. But few of the legislative members arrived in Portland on the early morning train, but the Rosebu ocal brought down a goodly number then, and the happiest-looking portion of the crowd were the populists. This small contingent of the recent legislature wore a self-satisfied air after loading up the republican political cart with a full load of campaign material, that will be put where it will do the most good when another general election comes around. While the populists would have been willing to support Lord for United States senator, if the governor could have se-cured enough others to secure an eleccured enough others to secure an elec-tion, they were really in favor of letting the session pass by without an election then go before the people armed with the argument that the republicans, holding the power, failed to perform their duty. One of the valley representatives, who had steadily voted with the opposition against the caucus nominee, said yester day: "If Dolph could have held his force together on Saturday night nothing could have prevented his election. There were several of the opposition who intended to vote for him rather than have no one chosen. Everything was arranged with such end in view. There were seven of the opposition who had agreed to vote for Dolph on the last ballot. Representative Yates, who was last on the roll, was to lead off in the change, and when he gave the signal six others were to arranged that this programme should be carried out last Tuesday, but only two of the seven would agree, and it was post-poned until the last night of the session. "Even as it was, had another ballot been taken, Dolph would have been elected The short time allowed for a last ballot was a badly managed affair, and when it was discovered that only seven minutes remained of the session there was no time left for another ballot, and fearing ad-journment without an election, a scram-ble was made to vote for McBride, until enough changes were made to insure his election, and then it was made unani and was held down to the last ballot, but the break in the Dolph ranks came when least expected, and Yates never had a chance to go over. It was at one time

There are some republican members of the legislature who are not afraid to say that Senator Mitchell was anxious to have Mr. Dolph defeated. Said one yea-terday: "The high standing of Dolph in Washington and the prominence he attained in the senate was a thorn in the side of Mitchell. In fact, he found himself completely overshadowed by the pres ence of Oregon's senior sonator. Mitchell refused to say a single word in favor of Dolph, although his advice was sought. and more than one believes that he, more than anyone else, was instrumental in pre-venting the election of Mr. Dolph. Mitchell wants some one in the senate from Oregon whom he can control, but the friends of McEride, who is to take the place of Dolph, do not think that he will ever allow himself to become a puppe in the hands of his senior colleague."

Mr. John C. Young, of Baker county is regarded as the brightest of the populist members of the legislature. He was born and reared in Salt Lake City, and for many years was attached to the editorial force of the Tribune. Coming to Orogon several years ago, he located in Baker county, and is now engaged in mining in the Cracker Creek district. Although from a family of democrats, Mr. Young, up to two years ago, was an ardent republican. Now, he says, he is incidentally a populist, because he be-lieves in the free columns of silver, which he doubts the republican party will ever recognize. He is firmly convinced that the results of the recent legislature have paved the way to certain success for the populists in Oregon in 1896, and that that party will elect a United States senator to succeed J. H. Mitchell. Representative Young did not always vote with hi populistic brothers, as he supported the Portland bridge bill. He voted against the charter bill on account of the refusal to amend the same by leaving its adoption to the people, and he attended Ser ator Corbett's dinner because he wanted to find out what legislation was needed for Fortland, and was not afraid to accept the hospitality of a distinguished citizen of the state.

The members of the railroad commis sion, the fish and game warden, pilot and food commissions, state agricultural nmission, and the state boatman at Astoria, are all in high feather. The leg-islature adjourned without electing their successors, and to a man they now contend that they hold over in office. The usual caucus for the nomination of such offices is held the last week of the sesdon, but the senatorial fight became so exciting that the proposed caucus was postponed until too late, and there are 66 or more aspirants left out in the cold It is generally regarded that the office-holders have the best of it, as under the general terms of their election they are upposed to hold office until their successors are elected and qualify. There is no one to qualify this time, and the un looked-for streak of good luck causes a broad smile to cover the faces of the state officials chosen by the legislature, particularly the board of railroad commis-sioners, who had little hope of being re elected, even if the bill providing for its secret, even if the bill providing for its abolishment failed to pass.

Several legislators in the city yesterday were asked for an opinion on the outcome of the senatorial Ight. Here are some of the opinions expressed:

Representative Shutrum, Umatilla-Mr. McBride will make a good senator for Oregon. He was a man that all the remubilizant could support and the publicans could support, and the pe of the state will find in him a good re every way worthy the position.

Senator Alley, Lane county-I regard
Mr. McBride as an honest, upright man, a clean mun and one who will reflec-credit on the state. When his name came up I voted for him because I believed that in him the whole state would be repre-sented and its interests protected. I am well satisfied with his election

OREGON'S GEOLOGICAL AGE It Has Never Yet Been Determined by United States Survey.

An engineer at Deer Lodge, Mont., writes to The Oregonian as follows: "The United States geological survey, in its annual reports from 1882 to 1890, gives but little space to Oregon; so little in fact as to be of no practical value to an en-gineer as to the resources of that state. Has there ever been any survey made by the government or state, or any work published giving an account of the geol-ogy and mineral resources of Oregon that may be considered reliable?"

state. Several years since a party made some preliminary examinations in the southern part of the state, and worked their way up as far as the Three Sisters, where Lieutenant Hayden (or Hazen), in charge, was nearly killed by a mass rocks sliding down upon him. Since that time the geological survey has done no work in this state. Mr. Charles D. Wolcott, chief of the geological survey, was here last fall, looking over the country and making plans for future operations in the general lines of the survey. He said he hoped to have some work done in this section before long. The making of a complete geological survey of the United States is an immense undertaking, not likely to be accomplished within the next If a topographical survey completed within the next generation or two it will be as much as can be done. A pretty thorough geological survey has been made, and maps printed of some small areas, but this has been confined to special districts, where there are rich nineral deposits, as in the iron regions of

The state had a geologist, Professo Condon, for some two years, and then the office was noblished. He submitted a brief report, but, of course, had not had time to make any extended investigations in regard to the mineral resources of the state. There have been any number of pamphlets published by the immigration board and others on the resources of Oregon, all of which furnished some in-formation in regard to the mining and mineral resources of this section, but in a brief form.

GOLF IN PORTLAND. "Links" Established at Piedmont for the Scotch National Game.

Golf, the Scotch national game, has at last struck this section, and it is to be presumed that it has come to stay. The first symptom of the great Scotch game, which appears to have been enjoying a great boom in the United States of Inte, was seen on Washington street yesterday in the form of two healthy, stalwart coung men striding along as if shod in even-league boots, and carrying under their arms a number of golf sticks or clubs. The appearance of such clubs is familiar to all, for one can hardly pick up a magazine without seeing an illustration of golf players out on the "links" in all sorts of attitudes, striking the ball or pausing to consider how to strike it, or grouped about one of the holes or pockets considering how a ball shall best be got in or got out, and always at the heels of each is a "caddie" with a sack full of

A reporter accosted the young men in question, and found that they were on their way to Piedment to play golf, there eing several Scotchmen in that addition who have golf outfits, and who have es-tablished small "links" there. In reply to the questions of the reporter, the young men stated that golf is pronounced "goff" in Scotland. The number of sticks or clubs used in playing the game is eight or nine, which necessitates the services of a "caddle" to carry them. For the benefit of the ignorant it may be stated that golf is a game played with a small haif and sticks or clubs crooked at one and, and the crooks are of various shape: and sizes to meet the exigencies of the game. The player who drives the ball into a series of small holes in the ground and brings it into the last hole with the tramping across country, and the conse-quent exercise in the open air. It is played by ladies as well as gentlemen, and often in quite unpleasant weather. The golf capes, so many of which are now seen on the streets, are made to be worn while playing this game, and are furnished with straps across the breast so that the cape can be thrown back over the shoulders when the wearer requires freedom of the arms to wield the clubs The game is not played on Sunday in Scotland, where, in some parishes, a man is not allowed to "whustle" his dog back on the "Saubath," and the fact that it is on the "Saubath," and the fact that it is played here on Sunday shows that Scotch-men are not slow to avail themselves of the greater liberty allowed in such mat-ters in this home of the brave and land of the free. One of the objections to the game, as far as some are concerned, are the same the old Scotch sergeant men-tioned by Kipling had to a charge, "it makes the men sweer so." Some imagine that the game will not find much favor with Americans, as it is too slow, but when they have seen it played they will when they have seen it played they will know more about it.

For $200 an acre you get the land, have it planted in fruittrees, have the trees cultivated and pruned for 5 years, have the life of the trees insured, have all taxes and assessments paid, all care assumed, get the full value of five years' growth of the trees, get the full increase in value of the land for five years, You can sell and realize at any time, and have ample security that, if you are not satisfied with the investment or speculation, you can have all your money back, with interest on it. We guarantee to plant and cultivate the trees, and insure them to be in bearing at expiration of contract.

You can sell the land or trade it at any time during the five years while the trees are growing, as freely as if you owned it in fee simple.

YOU CAN DEPOSIT THE MONEY

WITH THE TITLE GUARANTEE & TRUST COMPANY Chamber of Commerce, Portland, and they will tell you that we can't touch a cent of it till we have deposited with them the amount of land you apply for, and that then we can handle only so much as is required on voucher for filling our contract with you, till you have elected to take the land or take your money back, with the interest.

This is the safest investment and the best way to get a fruit-land home. It must be in every way satisfactory. It must be well taken care of, and the title must be good.

Give this matter careful consideration. We know that our proposition is a good thing for both parties.
