The Oregonian

Entered number tends "Editor election, they indorsing and or be for months of In recoup it the of Idaho cover winds. of read with Fair department, and subtle shuteshence street-cleaning not. They expect the fringe of this the policy of course will prevent the necessary institution of the Chinese. They will be governed by the same laws as all other inhabitants of the United States. The chief object of the Chinese will be to maintain their own language, and it will be hard to make them assimilate to the laws and customs of the country.

The Chinese are a peaceable and industrious people, and have always been received with kindness and hospitality. They have a great respect for the laws and constitution of the country, and are anxious to become citizens. They are willing to labor for a living, and are not disposed to be idle or unruly. They are also willing to pay their share of taxes, and to support the government.

The Chinese are also very intelligent and learned, and have a great respect for education. They are willing to study and learn, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to pay for education, and to support schools.

The Chinese are also very religious, and have a great respect for religion. They are willing to worship, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to support religion, and to support churches.

The Chinese are also very charitable and generous, and have a great respect for charity. They are willing to work, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to support charity, and to support charities.

The Chinese are also very kind and considerate, and have a great respect for kindness. They are willing to work, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to support kindness, and to support kindnesses.

The Chinese are also very honest and virtuous, and have a great respect for honesty. They are willing to work, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to support honesty, and to support honestys.

The Chinese are also very brave and courageous, and have a great respect for bravery. They are willing to work, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to support bravery, and to support braveries.

The Chinese are also very strong and sturdy, and have a great respect for strength. They are willing to work, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to support strength, and to support strengths.

The Chinese are also very mild and gentle, and have a great respect for mildness. They are willing to work, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to support mildness, and to support mildnesses.

The Chinese are also very gentle and peaceful, and have a great respect for gentleness. They are willing to work, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to support gentleness, and to support gentilities.

The Chinese are also very benevolent and benevolent, and have a great respect for benevolence. They are willing to work, and are anxious to improve themselves. They are also willing to support benevolence, and to support benevolences.