

KENTUCKY CONTEST

Legislative Commission Will Be Formed Today.

GOEBEL MEN WILL RUSH THE CASE

Colonel Whallen Examined on the Bribery Charge and Bound Over—Contempt Proceedings.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 3.—The joint commission which will hear evidence in the Goebel-Taylor and Beckham-Marshall contests for governor and lieutenant-governor will be formed tomorrow. The law provides that the members of the committee shall be drawn by lot, three in the senate and eight in the house. The policy of the Goebel leaders will be to push the contests to a final issue as speedily as possible. Governor Taylor's attorneys are preparing not only rebuttal evidence to offset the charges of fraud set forth in Goebel's notice of contest, but, according to Senator Deboe, are going much further, and attempting to show up counter-frauds of a glaring nature on the democratic side. The senator says that among other things it will be brought out that Taylor was robbed of over 2000 votes in Kenton county, Goebel's home.

The Goebel side, under the Kentucky code of practice, in its taking of proof is restricted to the grounds laid down in the notice of contest, but, under these, they promise very sensational testimony regarding the election in many counties alleged to be damaging to many people prominent in the Kentucky business and political world, compared with which the Whallen alleged attempted bribery of Senator Harrell is only a trifle.

Colonel Whallen was examined on the bribery charge before Magistrate Thompson, this afternoon, and held over to the Franklin county grand jury. He was represented by General P. Watt Hardin and Theodore Hallam. His bond was fixed at $10,000, and the same bondsmen who stood for him yesterday at the time of his arrest were accused.

In the circuit court this morning, President Hector V. Loving, of the Louisville Trust Company, was before Judge Cantrell, charged with contempt in disobeying the order of the court to turn over the vault box alleged to hold the $4000 which it is claimed was to be paid to Harrell in the event he voted against Goebel in the contest. Loving stated that he merely desired to protect the customers of his company, and his attorney moved to quash the summons against him. This the court overruled. Thereupon a response was filed to the rules for contempt, and in this, it is stated that Whallen, Harrell and Charles Ryan rented the box in question and deposited something in it, the box being sealed up and covered up with white paper. The trust company officials were notified not to allow the box opened, except in the presence of a judge and by the consent of all three parties. Judge Cantrell adjudged the response insufficient, and ordered the box to be produced in court at 11 o'clock tomorrow. It is understood the order of the court will be complied with, a motion for an appeal to the court of appeals having been overruled.

It is stated that an attempt was made to have Senator Harrell indicted in Louisville, where Whallen's attorneys claim the prosecution should have been instituted if any offense had been committed. The charge against Harrell would probably be conspiracy, or accepting a bribe.

Another snarl has been added to the legal tangle which envelops the state board of election commissioners. A suit was filed in the Franklin circuit court by Attorney-General Clifton J. Pratt, in the name of the commonwealth, to oust from office Charles B. Poyntz, John A. Fulton and Morton K. Yontz, members of the state election commission. The grounds of the action are that Senator Poyntz, by accepting and using a railroad pass, violated his office under the constitution, and that after said use, he illegally appointed the other two commissioners to fill the vacancies caused by the resignations of Judge Pryor and Captain W. T. Ellis.

A suit filed by Poyntz, Fulton and Yontz, the democratic commissioners, to prevent the commissioners appointed by Governor Taylor assuming the duties of the offices, is now pending.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE
State Has a Right to Interfere When a Trust Becomes a Monopoly.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The state legislature convened in annual session today. In the senate Timothy E. Ellisworth, of Niagara county, was re-elected president pro tem, and in the house Frederick Nixon, of Chautauque county, was re-elected speaker.

The annual message of Governor Theodore Roosevelt was read. The governor treats at considerable length the subjects of modern industrial conditions and trusts. He concludes that "where a trust becomes a monopoly, the state has an immediate right to interfere. Care should be taken not to stifle enterprise or disclose any facts of a business that are essentially private; but the state, for the protection of the public, should exercise the right to inspect, to examine thoroughly all the workings of great corporations, just as is now done with banks, and wherever the interests of the public demand it, it should publish the results of its examination. Then, if there are inordinate profits, competition, or public sentiment will give the public the benefit in lowered prices, and if not, the power of taxation remains."

Governor Roosevelt also devotes some space to a review of labor legislation in New York, and commends the work of the board of mediation and arbitration in dealing with strikes during the past year. He promises his approval of a drug clerk's bill to remedy the hardships to which men in that occupation are subjected. The governor recommended the repeal of the Horton boxing law on the ground that "when any sport is carried on primarily for money—that is, as a business—it is in danger of losing much that is valuable and acquiring some exceedingly undesirable characteristics."

Bryan Home Again.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 3.—Colonel W. J. Bryan returned to Lincoln today from St. Louis, after an absence from home of six weeks. He found a number of leading democrats from other states awaiting him, and conferred with them in an informal way. Mr. Bryan will remain in Lincoln until Saturday. He is interested in the meeting of the fusion state central committee, Friday, and is to respond to a toast, Friday, at the banquet of the Nebraska Traveling Men's Club. He will leave for Chicago early Saturday morning.

McLaurin for Senator.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 3.—The Mississippi legislature organized today. Hon. Judd Russell, of Lauderdale, was elected speaker. The democratic caucus tonight unanimously nominated ex-Governor J. A. McLaurin for the long-term United States senatorship.

The reading of Governor McLaurin's message created quite a surprise when the section referring to the growth of Mormonism in Mississippi was reached. The governor denounced the Mormon sect in scathing terms, and recommended the adoption of laws that will prevent the teaching of the doctrine in the state.

Advance in Knit Goods.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The American Knit Underwear Association, comprising the principal fleece-lined underwear manufacturers of the state of New York, held an executive meeting in this city today and determined to raise the price of knit goods 12 1/2 cents a dozen; terms, net cash, with 10 days' interest from October 1st, at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, with no allowance for freight. Prices are to be advanced on yarns and other raw material entering into the production of fleece-lined knit goods.

INOCULATION OF CATTLE.

Experimenting With a Preventative of Texas Fever.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 3.—Recent successful experiments in the inoculation of calves and yearlings, as a preventative against Texas fever, are to be followed by experiments on a large scale. There will be shipped tomorrow, from Kansas City to Berlin, Tex., 100 pure-bred Hereford and Shorthorn calves, selected from the best herds of the country. The Texas state board of agriculture has, for two years, been preparing for the reception of these animals, having set apart and fenced off a ranch of 2000 acres, on which no hoof has been allowed for two years, so that it is wholly free from any germs of Texas fever, owing to the action of the frosts of two winters. On this ranch the Northern calves will be inoculated with the poison of the fever ticks in such manner as to bring on the disease in mild form, and will then be allowed to run and become immune to the Texas fever, after which they may be generally introduced into the herds of Texas. The shipping of high-priced Northern cattle south of the fever line has heretofore caused heavy losses, as the mature animals have been continually public the disease.

T. F. B. Sotham, president of the National Hereford Cattle-Breeders' Association, is a leader in the present experiment, and the 100 Hereford calves were selected to be shipped have been gathered from prize herds in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. The 100 calves are valued by Mr. Sotham at $30,000.

GERMANS KEEP COOL.

Foreign Office Has Not Heard From England in Bundesrath Matter.

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—The Berlin foreign office informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that Great Britain had not yet answered Germany's note of protest regarding the seizure by the British cruiser Magicienne, of the German imperial mail steamer Bundesrath, off Delagoa bay. It appears that the British foreign office desires first to communicate with Durban on the subject. This desire is not regarded as indicating any disposition on the part of Great Britain to delay the final adjustment of the matter. There has been a lively interchange of notes between London and Berlin, but the German foreign office is apparently keeping cool.

On the other hand, a violent and threatening tone toward Great Britain is observable in other quarters. The Berliner Tageblatt, remarking that the anti-British sentiment is stronger than ever, and recalling Joseph Chamberlain's Leicester speech, says that "if this is the way in which England hopes to gain an alliance with Germany, she is making the veriest mistake." The Neuste Nachrichten says it leans that the foreign office is pressing the Bundesrath incident decisively from the legal standpoint, but hopes for a readjustment "without interruption of official relations."

WHITWARE POTTERS COMBINE.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Jan. 3.—It is announced here today that a combination of the whiteware potters of the country is practically accomplished, taking in all but three or four of the tabular potteries of this country. A valuation of $12,000,000 has been placed on the property. The stock will not be negotiated on the market, the owners of the plants each taking a pro-rata interest. No further advances of prices is contemplated, but price-cutting will be stopped. A large sum will be saved on the purchasing of material.

ASPHYXIATED BY GAS.

Four Deaths and Five Narrow Escapes in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—The dead bodies of George F. Gallagher, a special policeman, and Nellie Walsh were found today in a second-story apartment, occupied by them. They had been asphyxiated by gas turned on by them during a New Year's carousal.

Five members of the family of Julius Guttenberg, a retail dealer, were snatched from death today. They were Mrs. Mary Guttenberg, three children and her mother, Mrs. Dora Deyman. When the doors of their apartments were broken in the five persons were discovered in an unconscious condition. The gas jet in the dining-room was found open, and the tube attached to a small gas heater in the same room was detached. The fact that both were open led to the suspicion of attempted suicide. They were all taken to the Harrier hospital, and as yet neither of the women has been able to give an account of the affair.

The bodies of two men found asphyxiated by gas in a room on Twenty-fourth street have been identified as those of Wiro Walpuski, son of a wealthy manufacturer of arms and ammunition, were shipped in December to Macao and Hong Kong. It is surmised that their ultimate destination was either the Philippines or the Transvaal. In any event, the Bundesrath incident is being worked to create sentiment in favor of a naval increase, and the passage of the navy bill is now considered assured, in spite of centurist opposition.

WILL NOT TAKE DELAGOA

GREAT BRITAIN REFUSES TO BE MOVED BY CLAMOR OF PRESS.

No Decision Arrived at as to Whether or Not Foodstuffs Are Contraband of War.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Associated Press is informed on good authority that Great Britain will not take Delagoa bay, in spite of the clamor of the press and public opinion upon the advisability of so doing.

United States Ambassador Choate visited the British premier, Lord Salisbury, at the foreign office this evening, for the purpose of making the first official representation of the subject of the Delagoa bay bay seizures. Mr. Choate received no definite reply, as the premier informed him that the British government had not yet arrived at any decision as to whether or not foodstuffs were contraband of war. Lord Salisbury assured Mr. Choate that the commercial rights of the United States would be considered, and that a decision in this important matter would be reached as soon as possible. The interview was brief.

It was further learned by the representative of the Associated Press that Great Britain may lay down new regulations regarding contraband, making a distinction between foodstuffs and foodstuffs intended for the purpose of feeding the army and navy. It is held that some classes of canned goods.

DISTRESS AT LADYSMITH.

The Garrison Cannot Hold Out Much Longer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: "The Garrison cannot hold out much longer. An unexpected development of the situation has occurred at Colenso. Late advice are that the Boers returned with reinforcements during the night and occupied the position from which they were driven by General French Monday.

There is a deepening sense of anxiety respecting Ladysmith, whence most disheartening reports of the prevalence of sickness are received. General White reports a list of nearly 20 deaths yesterday from enteric fever and dysentery and 71 serious cases in the hospital. Dr. Jamieson has all the work he can do in that fever nest. It is evident that the garrison cannot hold out long, and that Sir Redvers Buller will not allow many days to pass before striking a blow. Transports with fresh battalions and batteries arrived at Durban yesterday, and within 48 hours Sir Redvers ought to be in readiness for a supreme effort. The Boer line of defense is now described as 18 miles in length, having been extended up and down the Tugela in order to prevent a turning movement.

There are many dispatches of minor interest from General Buller's camp this morning, but no details indicating the direction of the next attack. Scouting has evidently improved, for the Hussars of Thornycroft's horse and other patrols are described as having had brushes with the enemy. The naval guns remain in constant practice, but the Boer guns are silent.

The war office has completed its arrangements for the embarkation of 15,000 men of the Seventh division in the next eight days. Officials are plodding along with their work, unmindful of the cross-fire of criticism to which they are daily subjected. Lord Wolseley is reported to be intensely irritated by the Daily Mail's attacks upon him. He is not likely to remain silent when he has a strong defense present. His friends have been insisting for weeks that he was overruled at the opening of hostilities, and that his advice was persistently neglected by the ministry in general, and by Lord Lansdowne in particular. The storm will blow over if Sir Redvers Buller wins the next battle at the Tugela and relieves Ladysmith, but another defeat in that quarter will be followed by a tremendous shaking-up at the war office and its headquarters.

The sailing of a small German cruiser for Delagoa bay is the only official sign of displeasure at Berlin caused by the seizure of the Bundesrath. The vessel has arrived at Durban and probably a case for her detention can be made out on the ground of contraband of war, but details regarding her cargo are withheld for the prize court.

The excitement at Lisbon over the rigorous enforcement of the right of search and the French journals are in high feather over England's difficulties in appealing German resentment. Mr. Repkoff, one of the principal owners of the steamer recently seized with breadstuffs on board, declines to give any explanation of his alleged dealings with the Boers.

Gibson Bowles is on the war path, clamoring for the repudiation of the declaration of Paris, so that all property belonging to an enemy, even gold bullion, when it is exported from a neutral port, can be seized under any flag. All the existing difficulties would have been avoided if the British ministers, years ago, had allowed Mr. Kruger to purchase Delagoa bay.

Invading the Lecture Field.
CAPE TOWN, Jan. 3.—The Duke of Westminster, it is announced, will remain in Cape Colony during the war.

It is understood that a prominent inhabitant of the Orange Free State, a near relative of President Steyn, has gone to the United States to lecture in the interests of the two republics.

Russia Will Not Interfere.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Vienna correspondent of the Standard says: "The Emperor Nicholas has assured the British ambassador at St. Petersburg (Sir C. Scott) that Great Britain need not fear intervention or any sort of difficulty from Russia in the South African complications. This may fairly be interpreted as an as-urance including an indirect promise that France will abstain from creating difficulties for England.

Will Prosecute Boer Sympathizers.
VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 3.—A citizens' committee was formed here today to ascertain the identity of all Boer sympathizers identified with the Transvaal assistance movement and institute prosecutions for treason, also arranging a boycott. The movement, which has excited great indignation, is chiefly among German, Dutch and Belgian residents.

Expect An Increase in Trade.
LONDON, Jan. 4.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily News says: "The German government is making inquiries of Berlin manufacturers and traders as to the extent of their exports to the Transvaal, the view being that German trade with the Transvaal will increase after the war."

Grand Rapids Aids Boers.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 3.—John Stokette, vice-consul of the Netherlands, today forwarded to Holland a draft for $2000 guilders, Grand Rapids Hollanders' latest contribution for the widows and orphans of Boers killed in South Africa. The sum amounts to $750 American money.

Dr. Leyds Was in Holland.
THE HAGUE, Jan. 3.—Dr. Leyds, diplomatic agent of the Transvaal, attended the New Year's ball at the palace yesterday evening. Queen Wilhelmina conversed several times with him. He was received by the foreign minister.

Astor's Contribution.
LONDON, Jan. 3.—William Waldorf Astor has contributed £1000 to the Prince of Wales' hospital fund.

CARNEGIE ON EXPANSION.

In Favor of Taking the West Inland, But Not Islands of the Pacific.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Andrew Carnegie was interviewed by a World reporter concerning the report that he had promised to subscribe $50,000 to the republican national campaign fund.

"There's not a word of truth in the report," he said. "I will not give a dollar to help the republicans if their platform is not sound—if it is not American."

"Not a cent to imperialism—not a cent to the renegade Americans. My position on these questions has been made clear. My mind is open, but my purse is closed. If the republican party is true to the principles that have made this country great, then I would subscribe. But not if this platform commits the party to a policy to which I stand unalterably and uncompromisingly opposed."

"I am in favor of securing all the West Indies islands if we can do so," he continued. "I believe they will make desirable and proper acquisitions to our territory. That sort of expansion is on the right line. But, mind you, it should not go beyond territorial acquisition. We have no business either in morals or in politics to take and keep the Philippines."

"Do you mean we should annex Cuba?" was asked.

"No; we are pledged as to the action we are to take there. We have given our word that Cuba shall be free. If the people show a disposition for annexation, then that raises another question."

"The annexation of Cuba, however, would, in my opinion, kill the republican party. Its free iron, free coffee and free sugar, then competition of its cheap labor with our labor would strike a blow at a vital republican principle."

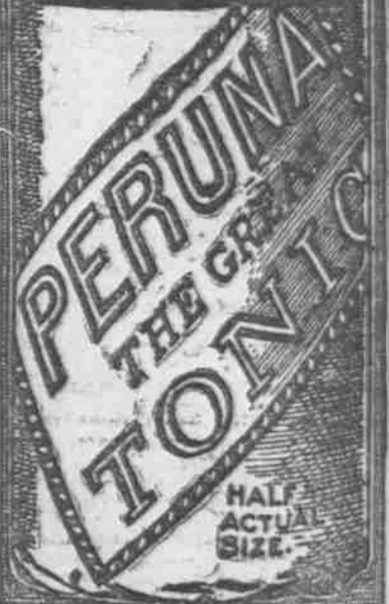

"Suppose the democratic party declares against expansion and the republicans for it; would you contribute to the democratic fund?"

"I would consider it. My mind is open, but my purse is closed, as I have said."

"I want to see the republican party range itself on the side of our Americanism. No renegade Americanism for me."

no running off after the will of the wisest of territorial aggrandizement. It involves dangers on every hand. If we shut the door of the Philippines, we arouse Europe. If we open it, we destroy the very thing that imperialism give as their reason for taking the Philippines—commercial expansion. The latter course permits all nations to enjoy commercial privileges there on an equality with us."

Mr. Carnegie paused for a moment, and then went on: "I am with the Boers in their fight. They are fighting bravely to maintain their republic. Their stand is for republican institutions. They are battling for a principle, with which all good Americans should be in sympathy."

Reform Spelling at University.
CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—The university of Chicago will use and advocate the new spelling. By a vote of 29 to 10 the university congregation placed itself on record today as favoring the use of the reformed spelling adopted by the National Educational Association. The vote implies the use of reform spelling in a number of magazines and papers issued under the auspices of the university.

During the last year Missouri sold $5,000,000 worth of mules, chiefly for war purposes.
