DR. M'GLYNN IS DEAD

SUCCESSOR TO BRIGHT'S DISEASE AFTER SEVEN WEEKS.

Heart Failure at the End—The Priest Was 62 Years of Age—His Last Hours.

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn, rector of St. Mary's church, died at the rectory at 6:20 o'clock this afternoon, after an illness of about seven weeks, of heart failure, superinduced by Bright's disease. A minor surgical operation was performed on Dr. McGlynn last night, but this did not affect the patient nor contribute materially to his death.

During the night, Dr. McGlynn had several sinking spells, and the physicians were called early to his bedside, where they remained until he died. At noon it was apparent that the end was near, and Dr. McGlynn received holy communion from the assistant rector of St. Mary's, who later administered extreme unction. After high mass in the morning, Dr. McGlynn was anointed.

All efforts toward prolonging life were made by the physicians, but at 10 o'clock the priest lapsed into unconsciousness, his last audible prayer being: "Jesus, have mercy on me." He passed away without reviving consciousness.

For two days past Dr. McGlynn had been troubled with hiccoughs, but was able to take liquid nourishment to the last. Dr. McGlynn was aware that death was near, receiving the word tranquilly. This morning telegrams were sent to Dr. McGlynn's nephew and niece in Brooklyn and several Catholic clergymen, his warm friends, were notified. A dispatch was sent to Archbishop Corrigan, and his secretary telegraphed: "His grace will arrive in Newburgh at 8:10."

Archbishop Corrigan had already made arrangements to visit Dr. McGlynn, and would have come on Monday. The relatives missed the train and did not arrive until Dr. McGlynn had become unconscious. Efforts were made to locate Frank McGlynn, the actor, a son of Dr. McGlynn's brother, who lived in California. The cheerfulness that characterized Dr. McGlynn was exhibited to the last. Even when the physicians were using salt water to keep him alive a few hours longer, Dr. McGlynn evinced much interest, and finally remarked: "Well, the ways of physicians are wonderful."

The citizens of Newburgh were preparing a testimonial for Dr. McGlynn, who celebrated his first mass in St. Mary's church on New Year's day, 1835, and who had been in the ministry for 40 years. People of all denominations were to have united in honoring the priest, and a purse was to have been presented to him. News of Dr. McGlynn's death caused profound sorrow. Prayers had been offered in both Protestant and Catholic churches for his recovery.

Dr. McGlynn was first stricken with illness on November 15, at the rectory. He was seized with a severe cold, and was compelled to seek his bed. Though he was obliged to break engagements to lecture, no alarm was felt by his friends until the following Monday, when he suffered a severe chill. The first serious attack occurred November 23, and a day or two later there was a consultation of physicians. It was announced that Dr. McGlynn was suffering from chronic kidney disease.

Early in December, Dr. McGlynn suffered two attacks of heart failure, and his relatives were hurriedly summoned. He rallied, however, and until Saturday night he appeared to be holding his own and gradually regained his strength. He was able to sit by his bedside for a few minutes each day, but was not able to leave his room.

Dr. McGlynn was 62 years of age. He was robust and of fine physique, but he became greatly emaciated by his long illness.

Archbishop Corrigan arrived at 8:10 this evening and proceeded at once to St. Mary's rectory. He expressed deep respect for the priest who had died before the end of the year. He was much moved when he entered the chamber of death and looked on the face of the dead, and commented

GEN. GREELY ASSAULTED

DRUNKEN MESSENGER DOES HIM SERIOUS HARM.

Violent Attack on the Old Man at His Own Door—The General Will Recover.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—General A. W. Greely, the chief signal officer of the army and the well-known Arctic explorer, lies in a serious condition at his home as the result of an assault committed on him about 5:30 tonight by Joseph C. Furnace, a messenger in the employ of the Adams Express Company. Furnace, who lives in Baltimore, in company with a friend named George Murphy, spent today in Washington drinking until late in the afternoon, when they started for a disreputable portion of the town. They lost their way and finally reached the northwestern section of the city, beyond the state, war and navy buildings. They first tried to get admission to the residence of E. D. King, but, being unable to do so, continued on their way up D street.

Twice they went to the house of General Greely. The first attempt to obtain admission was made as a friend of the family calling to pay a visit to the daughter of the general. Later they made an effort and persisted in ringing the doorbell and otherwise creating a disturbance, until finally General Greely came out to expostulate with them. They refused to leave the house, and after some words, Furnace seized the general and threw him down the long flight of steps which ascend from the pavement to the house, which stands on a high terrace. The fall cut a severe wound in the back of the general's head. He was picked up and taken into the house and medical aid was summoned. He remained unconscious for about an hour.

Murphy took no part in the assault, but when he saw what his companion had done took to his heels. Furnace, who is 23 years of age, offers no excuse for his act. He was arrested.

Late tonight the physician attending General Greely said he would recover.

Of Jack-the-Ripper Order.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 7.—Investigation in connection with the murder of Miss Rachael Ferguson last Friday night discloses the fact that the motive was not robbery, and that the crime was in all probability the work of a man of the same character as "Jack the Ripper." Within an hour before the murder, two other young girls were chased and a third knocked down by the man in the same manner. A post-mortem examination discloses the fact that the skull of the victim was terribly smashed, and that she had apparently been struck down while passing the jail gate and dragged to the spot inside the wall, where she was found. The murderer is still at liberty.

Nervous Weakness and Insanity.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 7.—Much interest centers in the examination of the three leading physicians in this city, in the case of Miss Morrison, shortly after the killing of Leddenheimer, and made a study of her case. It is thought the case will not be given to the jury before Wednesday afternoon.

TAYLOR'S BRISK FIGHT

IF BEATEN IN LEGISLATURE, MAY GO TO UNITED STATES COURTS.

Republicans Will Go Through the Form of Nominating United States Senator in Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 7.—Republican leaders, who are on confidential terms with Governor Taylor, intimated tonight that the republican contestees may not quit the fight in the event the legislature and state contest board vote to seat Geobel as governor and the other democratic contestees. They have by no means given up hope that they will win in the legislature, but are taking time by the forelock and are looking around for other moves in case Geobel should win. It is generally believed they will seek to raise a federal question and take the case into the United States supreme court.
