Business broadened out, and em-braced a greatly extended list of stocks, and practically all that were dealt in rose briskly o a level substantially above that of Bast night The immediate motive of the buying movement was the preliminary estimates of gains in cash for the week by the associated banks, which during the week has shown with sufficient clearnose that ough reserves were being largely replonished; but it is rather a tradition with stock operators to defer action to discount the bank statement until Friday afternoon. There has been a large waiting contingent in Wall street.

The professional traders themselves turned in a body to the long side of the markot, after having made a savage drive in the morning at Third avenue, breaking that stock over 10 points. The amount of stocks brought out on the decline did not prove encouraging.
