COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL NEWS

The continued finid weather is affecting everything in the nature of winter goods, and, as it is still ide early to look for spring business. there is a guider state of affairs than is usually apparent at this season of the year. The good weather yeaterday brought out the usual long string of wagons trailing in from the country, but, in gotte of generous supplies, there was no houst in prices and the San Francisco market is also holding steady. Eggs continued way weak, and sales of round lots were made yeaterday as low as 15c, although single-

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Reflection of Continued Indifference on the Part of the Public.

NEW YORK, Jen. 22.—The stock market showed continued indifference on the part of the public and even of professional speculators today. The net changes in prices are without selegy. The net changes in prices are without any significance, as bearing on the condition of business or affairs. There was some show of strength in the local traction group, which may be attributed to a covering demand from the short interest. Notwithstanding the better feeling reported in London on account of progress and to be making in the accomplishment of the British military plan, the English financial public showed no disposition to pay higher prices for American securities. As soon as prices were lifted in this market selling orders for London account were executed in the leading international stocks. This seems to discourage any further operations for a rise, and prices market (equal to 29/2%, here), founded on ad-bonds and they are not affected by the present upward movement. Such middle lower-grade bonds that were bongst to realize on are bow in large demand, and are steadily advance—

"It will not be difficult to raise this those who family the coast counties sum. In 1893 the treasurer reported the from Kerry to Donegal inclusive are also aggregate productive funds as $1,000,000.
The next report will show a sum of $2,300,000. I propose, then, with honest endeavor, to see this thing through. The time has come when it means for us more or less. Educational currents are running swift and strong. Institutions that do not take the current will be beached. I do not propose to see Dartmouth beached."

Chambers's Journal.

This wild west of Ireland is the natural home of "poteen" or illicit whisky. This is because the loneliness and remoteness of the spots chosen for making it, almost inaccessible through the mountains and bogs save to those who know something about the country, are all in favor of the smugglers escaping detection; while its network of mountain lakes and small running streams affords the necessary cold water for condensing the distilled fumes into spirit during the cooling process. The report of the commissioners of inland revenue for 1896 shows that the number of detections of illicit distillation was CITY TICKET OFFICE 1239—five in England, six in Scotland and 124 Third Street, Portland, Oregon 1388 in Ireland.
