

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight.
MANQUAM GRAND-Matinee. "The Rivals."
 Evening, "Manchete."
CORDIAT'S THEATRE. (Washington street—
 Moore-Roberts Co. Matinee and evening.

License for Selling Coal Oil.—Grocerymen and others who sell coal oil have received notice from the Oregon Bureau of Mines, informing them that their license for the current quarter is due, and inviting them to walk up and plank down. The recipients of these notices say they are something new, and propose to be much disgusted, and if in idea of having to pay license for selling coal oil, and want to know if there has been any recent legislation in regard to coal oil. Just after the fire at the Standard Oil Company's warehouse a short time ago, a stir was made about regulating the storage and sale of coal oil, etc., but it finally ended in the Standard Oil Company being required to build a wall around the blazes they occupy. There is a provision in ordinance No. 645 imposing and regulating license, which was approved September 23, 1899, requiring that persons or firms keeping on hand any crude petroleum, or any refined or refined product of petroleum in larger quantities than 100 gallons within the corporate limits of Portland shall pay a quarterly license as follows: Over 100 cases and less than 200 cases, $5; over 200 cases and less than 300 cases, $8; and so on to over 1000 cases $20 per quarter. It is probably this law which the license officer is about to enforce, and it is still unexplained why it has not been enforced, dealers have been getting off lucky.

ROUTE PORTLAND SCHOOL.—The new school building on Second avenue, which will be known as the South Portland school, until the board of directors have found a name for it, will be opened Monday morning. Three of the rooms will be occupied for the present. W. C. Alderman will be the principal, and the teacher from the Felling school, and one from the Harrison-street school will be transferred to the new school, but the selection has not yet been definitely made. There will be between 100 and 150 pupils in the school. About 100 will be transferred from the Felling school, which is at present overcrowded, having 140 pupils and 12 teachers. Some pupils will be transferred from the Harrison-street school, which is at present overcrowded, having 140 pupils and 12 teachers. Some pupils will be transferred from the Harrison-street school, which is at present overcrowded, having 140 pupils and 12 teachers.

INVENTED THE FIRST CONCENTRATOR.—George Johnston, of San Francisco, the inventor and patentee of the Johnston concentrator and the inventor and patentee of the first concentrator ever used in gold mining, arrived in the city last night and is at the Portland Hotel. Johnston has been on an extended trip through the gold fields of Eastern Oregon, where many of his concentrators are in use. He is in glowing terms of the Eastern Oregon belt, and says the mining industry of this state has a wonderful future. He is particularly impressed with the Flagstaff, Free Colina, Golconda, and properties of that district, which are showing good results. Mr. Johnston was confined with a broken leg in 1878, and it was then he patented the first concentrator. It was put into immediate use, and he sold the patent to W. B. Frye, who called it "Free concentrator," and made over $1,000,000 out of it. Mr. Johnston invented the appliance which bears his name in 1888.

VAN DYCK EXHIBIT CLOSED.—Nearly 1300 people had the pleasure of inspecting the Van Dyck art exhibit during the time it was open to the public in the rooms of the Portland Art Association, in the Library building. The exhibit was closed last night, having been open since December 15. The free admission days were Thursday, and on these occasions as many as 100 and 200 people visited the art exhibit. This fact shows that the exhibit served a beneficial purpose in arousing general interest in the work of the art promoters of this city. It is the object of the art association to select special exhibits of about 200 framed pictures and display them in special periods for the benefit of art lovers. There was a goodly crowd in the rooms last night, and the exhibition was pronounced a success. On February 23 the art exhibit of the year will be opened with a display of 300 of the best pictures of Rembrandt.

Two Bombs CAME.—Only two of the five bombs of Oregon soldiers expected from San Francisco yesterday morning arrived. Those were the bodies of Fred J. Norton and Guy Millard. The bodies of Bert B. Chastler, William Cook and H. B. Adams were taken off from the ship by the Millard's body was taken to the Holman undertaking parlors, where it will remain until the funeral, Sunday afternoon. Company L, ex-military will form the military escort and firing squad, the latter being under the charge of Thomas Smiley. The soldiers will assemble at the parlors at 1 P. M. tomorrow. The public services will be held in St. Anthony's church at 2 P. M., after which the bodies will be taken to the cemetery and placed in the graves. The bodies of the other two soldiers being kept there for the public funeral, to be held when all the bodies arrive.

WILL RAIN TODAY.—Yesterday was the day that old Oregon got in its tummy. The day dawned crisp and cold and a chilling wind was blowing all the morning. Every body was wrapped in furs, and the temperature was in the teens. Frost and ice was much in evidence in the streets. The minimum temperature was 20 degrees above zero. In the afternoon the mercury in the tube began slowly to ascend, and the temperature reached was 29 degrees. East of the Cascades the weather has been severely cold, but moderated considerably yesterday. The center of the cold wave is now in the Pacific. Next morning, however, a return to the normal condition of rain is predicted for Portland today.

VICTIMS WANTED.—Chief of Police McLaughlin is anxious to meet any victims of a third-street earthquake, because which he is convinced is engaged in swindling operations on a considerable scale. Several men who have answered the advertisement of this concern have been requested to put up $5 before a position was secured for them, and the chief is convinced that the whole scheme is a bluff. If he can find any one who has been victimized he will gladly arrest and prosecute the proprietors of the establishment.

REVIVING PENNOR'S MILL.—Messrs. Allen and Levison, who purchased a controlling interest in the Pennor saw-mill, are at work on plans for the mill for operating it. This will take some time, as the mill is a wharf and must be built. If as better railroad facilities can be secured for the mill than those available at present it is probable that a large barge, capable of carrying half a dozen cars, will be constructed and the cars loaded at the mill and barged down the river to the mill. The mill is owned by the O. R. & N. Co.'s trustee.

PORTLAND EXHIBITION.—The February public rehearsal of the school of expression will be held in university chapel next Monday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The programme will appear in Sunday's issue of the Oregonian.

TRACERS' ASSOCIATION.—H. W. Kellogg will lecture before the Tracers' association this evening at 8 o'clock in the A. O. U. W. hall, Birch-Selling building. Subject, "The Cultivation of the Will." All interested are invited.

MARTIN PORTER.—The final meeting of the Emergency Corps and Red Cross Society, announced for today, has been postponed for one week, and will be held at the Armory on Saturday, February 23, at 2 o'clock.

IN THE SEVERAL COURTS

MANY COUPLES ASK FOR A LEGAL SEPARATION.
Last of Evidence in Carlson Street-Car Robbery Case Is Taken—Court Notes.

Minnie A. Miller was granted a divorce from William B. Miller, yesterday, by Judge Cleland, because of desertion. She testified that she was married to the defendant in Multnomah county in August, 1895; that he failed to provide for her after May 1894; and abandoned her in the year 1895. There are no children as the issue of the union. Judge Cleland also divorced Helen R. Hackett from Eugene A. Hackett, on account of cruel treatment. Her evidence was corroborated by witnesses. They have no children, and were married in Montana.

Judge Sears yesterday granted three divorces, the cases being transferred to his department by Judge Cleland. The first was granted to Laura Hansen from the terrible treatment she received at the hands of her husband, and was promptly granted a decree of final separation. Mrs. Hansen is of foreign birth, and does not converse with the laws of this country. Hilda Morse was divorced from Clayton E. Morse, on the grounds of cruelty and desertion, and was granted the minor claims. They were married in this city, May 23, 1894.

The bonds of matrimony existing between Anna M. Atkinson and E. Atkinson were dissolved. Mrs. Atkinson testified that her husband treated her so badly that she was compelled to leave him in the month of July, 1899. There is one child, of which she has the custody. She called Elizabeth Battelle as co-respondent. Alice Viola Goodwin has filed an answer and cross-complaint to the suit of her husband, Samuel P. Goodwin, for a divorce. She denies that she has been cruel to him, and that she encouraged him to insult and threaten him, and she denies generally all of the charges made in the complaint. She alleges cruelty on his part, and asks that he be made to contribute to her support and that of the children, and to pay counsel fees.

Evidence in Carlson Case All In.
 The taking of evidence in the Andrew Carlson robbery case was concluded at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and Attorney Giltner followed with the opening argument to the jury, making a strong plea for conviction, and attacking the alibi of the defense. Charles J. Schnabel will make the opening speech for the defense this morning. The defense introduced additional evidence yesterday on the subject of the alibi, and the evidence was introduced to show that Ab Lawrence, one of the witnesses for the state, served a term in the penitentiary for robbery of a watch from one Leabo. The defense alleged that Leabo was a witness for the state, and the prosecution called F. E. Beach, a member of the grand jury, who testified that the statements of Ludwig C. Ruhl were more or less conflicting, and they did not believe he was telling the truth. He denied that Ruhl was directly called a liar in the grand jury room, but said some of the questions propounded to him carried with them the intimation that his statements were unreliable. Mr. Conner was also called. The trial has consumed four days, and there has been a mass of evidence of all kinds introduced, and the jury has certainly had the benefit of it. The thing that throws any light on the case, as well as some immaterial, irrelevant facts.

Refused to Accept Rent.
 Yesterday afternoon the trial of the suit of Dinah L. Dudley against Perry G. Baker for $1000 damages was begun in Judge Sears' court before a jury, and will be concluded today. The plaintiff claimed that she rented the premises at 1115 Eleventh street, corner of Washington, from the defendant, in November, 1899, to conduct a lodging-house. In January, 1900, she states that she turned over the premises to the defendant, and that he refused to pay the rent, and declined to allow it to remain turned over even after she had paid the water rent to the city, and interfered with the use of the fixtures. Mrs. Dudley contends that because of the actions of Baker her patronage was injured, and she had to sell her furniture and vacate the premises. In his answer, Baker makes a general denial. He says that he called January 2 for his rent of $10, and she did not pay it. He denies that he turned over the water in the floor which she occupied, but it was in another part of the building, and he had an understanding with her that he would shut off the water if she did not pay. The plaintiff testified that she offered to pay the rent. The case for the defense has not yet been reached.

To Enjoin Removal of a Farmhouse.
 Edgar Poppleton has filed suit in the state circuit court against Thomas Patterson to have him enjoined from removing a dwelling-house situated on the Section Line road, near the nine-mile post. The plaintiff says he is the owner of the property and that defendant withholds it to his damage in the sum of $300. Patterson, in an answer which he has filed, states that he bought the property from the government by the Northern Pacific Railway Company, and by an act of congress of 1899 the grant was declared forfeited to the United States. Patterson claims that he is a homestead owner in 1891, and subsequently the O. & C. R. R. Co. sued for the land, asserting that it lies within its grant. The O. & C. R. R. Co. was defeated in the United States court, and appealed the case, and it is now pending in the United States supreme court. Patterson further says that he owns the house, and that he built it on blocks, so as he could remove it if he be distressed, and that he has valuable improvements which he would necessarily lose if this case is decided against him.

Incorporations.
 Articles of incorporation of the Portland Mining Stock Exchange were filed in the office of the county clerk yesterday. The incorporators are L. B. Cox, J. Frank Watson, Henry Hahn, Seneca Smith and J. P. Batheider. Capital stock, $100,000. The objects are to concentrate the market for selling mining stocks by bringing directly together all buyers and sellers, thus securing the best prices; to establish and enforce fair rates of commission which shall be charged by all brokers doing business through the exchange; to establish reliable rates of stocks by means of public offers, bids and sales; to regulate the relations between brokers and their clients; to list only such stocks as in the judgment of the board of directors possess merit and are legal in their issue.

Articles of Incorporation of the Goconda Mining Company were filed. The objects announced are to acquire and operate the Goconda, Olympia, Contentment, Baltimore, Oregon and Andy Elliott placer claims near Sumpter. The incorporators are J. T. English, Edward Gannon and J. Frank Watson. Capital stock, $1,000,000.

Indictments Reported.
 Indictments were reported as follows: Freddie Wall, larceny of $40 from J. Baker.
 A. H. Burnie, larceny of a diamond ring, valued at $100, from the store of Fritz Abendroth.
 Peter McNeil, larceny of $9 from the person of Dan McDonald.
 William Boswell, trespass.
 J. Andrews and J. Londe, maintaining a nuisance by putting the carcass of a calf in a lot.
 Not true bills were returned in the following cases:
 George Coffman, attempting to extort money from Sarah C. Hays by threats.

STOCK BOOKS ARE OPEN

PORTLAND MINING STOCK EXCHANGE IS INCORPORATED.
Incorporators Are Those of the Oregon Bureau of Mines, and Capital Stock Is $10,000.

The articles of incorporation of the Portland Mining Stock Exchange were filed yesterday. The incorporators are those of the Oregon Bureau of Mines, which was incorporated several weeks ago, and are: L. B. Cox, J. Frank Watson, Henry Hahn, Seneca Smith and J. P. Batheider. The incorporators will soon organize by electing a board of directors and officers, and will secure permanent offices and settle down to business. The stock books are open, and a considerable amount of stock was subscribed for yesterday. There is no doubt that all of it will be taken in a few days. The articles of incorporation, which fully explain the objects and plans of the exchange, follow:

I. The name assumed by this corporation and by which it shall be known is the Portland Mining Stock Exchange, and its duration shall be unlimited.
 II. The business in which this corporation proposes to engage is that of conducting a mining stock exchange, having for its objects the following, viz.:
 1. To concentrate the market for mining stocks by bringing directly together all buyers and sellers, thus securing the best prices.
 2. To establish and enforce fair rates of commission, which shall be adhered to by all brokers doing business through the exchange.
 3. To establish reliable quotations of stocks by means of public offers, bids and sales.
 4. To regulate the relation between brokers and their clients, also between brokers and their clients.
 5. To list only such stocks as, in the judgment of the board of directors, possess merit and are legal in their issue.
 For the accomplishment of the foregoing objects the corporation shall possess and exercise all rights and powers which usually appertain to and are exercised by such bodies, and as may be found necessary or convenient for the execution of any and all of the purposes above mentioned.

III. The principal office of the corporation shall be, and is hereby fixed, at the city of Portland in said state of Oregon.
 IV. The amount of the capital stock of the corporation is hereby fixed at $10,000.
 V. The amount of each share of such capital stock is hereby fixed at $100.
 VI. The amount of each share of such capital stock is hereby fixed at $100.
 VII. The amount of each share of such capital stock is hereby fixed at $100.

FOR THE MONUMENT FUND.
 Charity Martin and Ellis Brooks at the Metropolitan.

The Charity Martin grand opera recital and Ellis Brooks' musical spectacle "Victories of Old Glory on Land and Sea," at the Metropolitan theater last night, highly pleased the large audience that attended. The programme last night is conceded to be a superior one to that given on the opening night, and each number was received with enthusiasm. Miss Martin, the tenor, Signor Baldanza, and the pianist, John J. Blackmore, each hit the popular fancy. The Third Regiment band occupied the music seats, and did splendid execution. As has been announced heretofore, each of these performances are for the benefit of the soldiers' monument fund.

Tonight will be the last performance of the engagement, and will be the only opportunity the Portland people will have of enjoying this entertainment.

GOOD TRAIN SERVICE.
 Between Portland and Chicago Via the O. R. & N.

The time to Chicago by either of the O. R. & N. trains, the St. Paul fast mail, or the Portland-Chicago special, is only three and a half days. This is several hours faster than by any other route from the coast. The cars on either of the above trains are new and strictly up to date, being fitted with all the latest improvements and are vestibuled throughout. Dining cars are attached to all trains, thus doing away with the proverbial "20 minutes for dinner." For full information, call on
