

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight. DORRDAY'S (Washington St.)—Matinee and evening, "Countess Guik." METROPOLITAN THEATER (Third St.)—Matinee and evening, "Red, White and Blue." CURIOUS, TALL SMOKESTACK.—The tenants of the upper stories of the Chamber of Commerce building have been annoyed by the smoke from a steam boiler temporarily placed in front of the building, while repairs to the boilers in the basement are being made, that it has been found necessary to provide another section of 40 feet on top of the smokestack. This will carry it above the belvedere of the building and will make the smokestack over 100 feet in length, and probably the longest in the city. The preparations for placing the additional 40 feet on top of the present 60-foot stack were in progress yesterday. The work was done by a gang of men who were run out from the roof of the building over the cornice, to which a tackle for hoisting the section is attached. The section is slightly funnel-shaped at the top, so that it will slide down the present stack, and when it is stayed so that it will remain in place the job will be completed. This will deposit the smoke nuisance, but there is a constant roar of escaping steam in connection with the boiler which must tend to drive to an untimely end the occupants of offices in the vicinity. Just why this is necessary is difficult to imagine, inasmuch as a temporary boiler will be in front of the building a month, and perhaps two, and its removal will be a relief to many.

PILES REPLACED WITH DIRT.—A train of 17 cars, engaged in filling in the coach yards at the Terminal grounds, will have work enough to keep it busy until April 1. The earth is being taken from the excavation of the Dorenbekier furnaces factory, in Sullivan's gulch, and thrown under the plank roadways of the yards, where the supporting timbers have begun to decay. The fill thus formed will be allowed to settle for the space of 12 months, when the planking will be torn away and a top dressing of gravel and cinders applied. The space thus filled in will aggregate several acres. The supporting timbers will therefore never need to be removed, as the solid earth will have taken their place. The wooden substructure has been in position about eight years.

Dunbar, formerly Lieutenant in the Second Oregon, was elected Captain; F. E. Edwards, formerly Sergeant in Company E, Second Oregon, was elected First Lieutenant, and Harry J. Hayes, Quartermaster-Sergeant for WANT A SUFFICIENT SEWER. CENTRAL ALBINA IN FAVOR OF EXPENDING $40,000. Large Meeting of Interested Property Owners to Discuss the Matter, and Majority Will Decide. A meeting of property-owners of Central Albina and Multnomah Addition took place last night at the engine-house on Mississippi avenue for the purpose of discussing the advisability of providing a system of sewerage in that part of the city. The meeting was presided over by J. N. Turner, a resident of the district. N. D. Beutgen, Councilman of the 11th ward, explained the purpose of the meeting and then mentioned the district over which the proposed sewer would pass. This district is bounded on the south by Fremont street, on the north by Alberta street, on the east by Commercial street, and on the west by the river. After these remarks by Mr. Beutgen, the subject was given over to general discussion by the men attending the meeting.

REPUBLICANS WERE JUBILANT. Great Enthusiasm Prevailed at Sixth Ward Club. The meeting of the Sixth Ward Republican Club at Terwilliger's Hall last night was the largest and most enthusiastic political meeting that has been held in Portland for a long time. Everybody was happy and jubilant, and the attendance was immense. The hall's seating capacity of 500 was soon filled, and in a short time there was no more standing room in the house and hundreds turned away, being unable to gain admittance. The programme was varied and interesting, and consisted of singing and music, as well as speeches, grave and gay. A short business session was held, which was presided over by Dr. O. P. S. Plummer, who was also chairman of the public meeting. At this session, a committee would give the boys this privilege, which they gladly accepted, and Friday the positions of Sergeants, Corporals and musicians will be filled by ballot.

CAPTAIN THOMAS N. DUNBAR, COMPANY B. O. N. G.

Company E, Second Oregon, was chosen Second Lieutenant. The company has above the minimum required for a company of the Guard, and the members, in addition to a number of names pledged who were not able to attend. There is no doubt that the maximum strength will soon be reached, with perhaps men to spare, as the company officers are popular, and there was a veritable boom on the night. Company B is the first material result of the movement that has been gradually gaining strength for several months. Adjutant-General Gantenben issued applications that any ex-members of the volunteer commands of this state might re-join the Guard, which have been distributed among the veterans for the past two or three weeks. At first they were not received with much favor, but latterly the boys commenced to take an interest, and the company officers are popular, and there was a veritable boom on the night.

of four was appointed from each precinct to attend to the registration of qualified voters. Councilman J. C. Jameson, of the tenth ward, made a brief speech, in which he invited all sixth-ward Republicans to attend a public meeting of the Tenth Ward Club, to be held March 14. Then the music began. The Oregon quartet sang several songs, which were well received. J. M. Long, who was booked for a speech, was detained at home by sickness. Major J. P. Kennedy made a ringing campaign address, in which he gave a brief history of the Republican party, from its organization to the present day. He heartily endorsed the policy of expansion, and spoke of the other issues of the day. The next feature was the fine singing of Judge Frank D. Hennessy, who addressed the audience with "Asleep in the Deep" and "When McGonigle Winked His Other Eye." Before the audience could be satisfied, he was forced to sing his old-time favorite, "Put Me Off at Buffalo." Colonel S. C. Spencer followed in a short but excellent speech. He spoke of the great work of the Second Oregon Regiment in the Philippines, and warmly advocated the doctrine of expansion. He bitterly opposed the idea of giving up a foot of conquered ground, that had been made historic with the valor of American soldiers. Colonel Spencer spoke of the Puerto Rican tariff bill, and favored absolute free trade between all territories and colonies under the United States flag. N. C. Alexander then sang "Rausus Mit ihm," with fine effect. Captain Charles E. McDonnell made an interesting speech, in which he related some Philippine experiences and spoke in favor of retaining the islands. He said he believed every Oregon soldier was in favor of expansion. Captain McDonnell's speech was followed by several numbers from the Oregon quartet, and then S. C. Beach made a highly humorous speech, which was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Thompson, of the club, sang "My Old Virginia Home" in a splendid manner, and then there were more songs from the quartet. The piano accompaniments were played by Ralph W. Hoyt.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Next Week at Corday's. Tomorrow night Mr. Frawley will present at Corday's, the most important play in his repertoire, "Mme. Sans Gene," by Victorien Sardou, the greatest living dramatist. The play is a comedy, and the former works of this great French writer, "Fedora," "La Tosca," and "Cleopatra," will all be played at his last great play, "Mme. Sans Gene." It deals with the domestic life of the great Napoleon, and while some of the incidents in the drama are the creations of Sardou's vivid imagination, the others are historical. The play deals mainly with the career of Catherine Huboche, the proprietress of a laundry, who eventually became a duchess and the wife of the Marshal of France. Mr. Frawley will be assisted by Miss Catherine Huboche, the proprietress of a laundry, who eventually became a duchess and the wife of the Marshal of France.
