The loading and stowing away of the animals was completed yesterday after-noon, a pair of horse cages having been used for the purpose. These cages saved a great deal of pulling and pushing and leading the bewildered animals, as each home was simply required to step into the cage while it stood on the dock, and the cage being lowered into the vessel with a steam capetan, there was no struggle, and the horses seemed as much at home in their cramped quarters as thought occupying the more roomy stalls of a city pying the more roomy states of a cary livery stable. All the space between decks, fore and aft, is occupied as well as that of the orlop deck just below. Each horse has just space enough to stand in, and the end of each stall are padded with canwas stuffed with excelsior to prevent the rolling of the vessel from chafing as the horse strikes either front or rear and. The animals were amusing themselves yesterday by tearing off the canvas and chewing the excelsior, much to the disgust of the hostlers, who tried to convince them that excelsior was not hay. The horses, however, found it out themselves after chewing and passing it around awhile, and the torn excelsior finally found its way to the stall decks. The men were afterward directed to apply creolin to the pade, in order that the horses would dis-continue the pad tearing of their own free

Most of the horses, when unloaded, act as frisky as coltst instead of being awkward and ungainly one would suppose after being boxed up for weeks at a time. The manner in which the stalls are constructed is largely the cause of this, Messrs. Wolff & Zwicker having taken great pains to have every-thing in shipshape before the vessel was

ORDINANCES TO REGULATE USE OF ELECTRICITY.

List Entirely Suspended Against All Sorts of Shows-Hackmen Further Restricted.

Several rather important ordinances were troduced at the meeting of the Comm council yesterday. One came from the Vater Committee, the object of which is prevent injury by electrolysis to water and gas pipes, through "ground wires" be-ing attached to them. Another came from the Board of Fire Commissioners, the obect of which is to prevent firemen from eing injured by electric wires.

An ordinance was passed amending the license law, and imposing a number of iew licences of Fire Commissioners shall assume the supervision of all electric wiring, connections and apparatus in, connected onto or over any building, public or private, in the city. The other 14 sections define how this is to be done, provide penalties for violation of the ordinance, etc.

The ordinance is very sweping in its provisions, and will probably need some amending by the committee before it can be passed. It was read twice and referred to the street committee. The City Attor-ney favored its passage, and stated that the Board of Public Works would prepare an ordinance in reference to poles and wires on the streets, and should this, with other two, be passed, electrical matters in this city will be pretty well looked after, as far as legislating goes.

A. G. Brauer having secured a judg-ment against the city in the Supreme Court for $9556 50 and interest and costs, a resolution was adopted authorizing the Mayor and Auditor to draw a warrant in favor of the plaintiff or his attorney or assigns for the full amount of the judg-ment, interest and costs, and to tender the same to Brauer or his attorney, and that if he falls to take the warrant to satisfy the judgment, that the City Attor-ney is instructed to take all legal means to protect S. Penoyer and Frank Hach-ency, the surettes of the city in said case, against the sale of their property upon the judgment.

Street and Sewer Work. Petitions for the improvement of the following named streets were referred to the street committee, and the City Engi-neer was directed to prepare plans and estimates for each improvement:

Tillamook street, from Union avenue to Mississippi avenue, from Goldsmith to Rodney avenue, from Hancock to Knott

An ordinance declaring the probable cost of constructing a sewer in East Thirty-fifth street, and appropriating $1696 80, the cost thereof, was passed.

The sum of $250 was appropriated out of the general fund to pay for damages sustained by Mrs. Augusta B. Sears through the breaking of a plank in the sidewalk of Sixth street, near Yambill.

A resolution was adopted directing the City Engineer to cause the removal of obstructions erected in East Seventh street North, between Tillamook street and the center line of Thompson street and East Seventh street North.

Other Business,

An ordinance having in view the in-creasing of the salary of Deputy License Inspector Adams from $75 to $90 per month was introduced. A squabble area portunity for some to display their know edge or lack of knowledge of parliamen-tary proceeding and the wasting of a large amount of wind and equally valuable time in inconsequential argument, or as a disgusted member said, "chiid's play." It also gave the Mayor occasion play. It also gave the Mayor occasion send for his copy of "Roberts' Rules Order," in which he could find nothing bearing, on the cause of the dispute

TELEGRAM FROM MR. CORBETT TO SENATOR SIMON.

Reproduction of the Mitchell-Brown ell Letter in the Speech of Portland, Or., March 7.—Hon. Joseph Simon, Washington, D. C.: I have read this morning in the telegraphic dispatches your clear and unbiased statement in connection with the legis in the most positive manner that he signed it without reading or knowing its contents. He wished to express his regret at having done so. Therefore, in confirmation of your statement, please read this telegram to the Senate, and oblige.

H. W. CORBETT.

In compliance with requests from many quarters, The Oregonian herewith re-prints the Brownell letter, as it ap-peared in its setting in the speech of Senator Burrows, of Michigan, who op-posed the admission of Mr. Corbett to the seat in the Senate. (Cong. Record, 55th Congress, second session, vol. 31, part 3, pages 2271, 2272) Senator John H. Mitchell was a candidate for re-election before that legislature. In the campaign of 1895, with unflinching courage and un-wavering fidelity, he carried his party flag to victory, and it was expected he would be chosen his own successor, call for a caucus had been signed by Republican members, more than a majorand at that caucus Mitchell was non nated as his own successor without a dissenting vote. It was perfectly apparent, therefore, if the legislature were ever permitted to vote upon the question, Mr. Mitchell would be elected as the Senator for the full term of six years from March 4 1897

the time of the assembling of the members of the House, the entire membership of 60 being present, a temporary speake was elected, who subsequently identified himself with the forces of the opposition and declined to take the oath of office and appointed a committee on creden-tials, three of whom, as it turned out afterwards, were identified with the op position, and who from the time of th appointment never answered to a roll cal selves from the House, only nine were of the Republican party, and these, together with 19 of the opposition, were able to consummate this work. I hold in my hand a letter addressed to the chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, signed by George C Brownell, president of the joint conven tion, from which I desire to read a single extract. It seems that when Mr. Mitch-ell became satisfied of the determination of the fractious minority to defeat him at all hazards, he wrote a letter with-drawing from the contest in favor of other candidate. MADE A FEW CHANGES.

Most of the Election Officers Will Not Be Disturbed.

The County Commissioners met the Democratic County and City Committees yesterday afternoon and took action with regard to the Democratic Judges and Clerks of Election, against whom protests were filed. There was no conflict between the Comm'ssioners, who are all Republicans, and the committee, and the meeting ended to the satisfaction of both sides. The first case acted upon was that of E. A. Redman, who was appointed to serve as judge in Precinct No. 3. The Commisment made by you that the Brownell letter sloners addressed a communication to him showed the earmarks of Senator Mitchell; that on the subject, to which he replied that Mr. Brownell voluntarity called upon me about he was a Republican. They then appoint a month ago and stated that the letter was ed in his stead, John Sherlock, who was prepared by Senator Mitchell, and stated to me | recommended by the committee. August Wolffe, of Precinct No. 3, was protested against for the same reason, but as he declared he was "strictly Democratic" and did not desire to give up his certificate of appointment, no change was made. The next case was that of J. E. Burke, The next case was that of J. E. Burke, clerk for Precinct No. 6, who was objected to as living out of the precinct. The fact of the matter was the Democratic Committee had confused him with a Mr. Burke in another part of town. Upon this being explained to them, they readily withdrew their objections.

James Dowling, appointed as judge for Precinct No. 9, was objectionable, a Republican. The Commissioners nim a letter asking his politics, and having received no answer, took no action on Mr. Scoggins, clerk for Precinct No. 12.

proclaimed himself a Republican to the Commissioners, and they appointed John Kiernan, who was recommended by the Democrats, in his place.
T. T. Struble was objected to for not living in Precinct No. 14, for which he was appointed cierk. The Democratic com-mittee recommended F. M. Gatens for his place, and he was accordingly appointed, In Precinct No. 15, S. B. Westcott, a Democrat, was appointed as clerk, but as he has left the city the committee asked that some other Democrat be appointed in his stead. The law says that in case where the person leaves the city, his substitute is to be elected by the people present on the opening of the polls on election day, so the Commissioners left the matter as it For the same reason, the committee asked for somebody to be appointed in the place of F. Richardson, clerk in Preinct No. 16, and the Commissioners treat ed this case the same as the previous one. In Precinct No. 18, the Commissioners, on first making up their list, put P. J Cronin in as a judge on the recommittee of the Democratic committee. terday they asked that someone be in his place, as he had changed his faith in politics. The Commissioners explained that they could take no action in cases such as this, for if they would, all parties would succeed in keeping them busy until election, and they wouldn't then be through examining protests. Accordingly, Mr. Cronin was allowed to hold his job Oscar Cox was objected to as clerk in Precinct No. 25 as being a Republican On looking the matter up it was found that he was recommended by the Prohibition party, so the committee withdrew its objections Mark O'Neill and W. E. Carter appointed respectively as judge and clerk Precinct No. 29, were objected to as being Republicans. Mr. O'Neill sent a very pointed letter to the Commissioners, saying that he has been a life-long Democrat, but was now at outs with the party owing to late issues. He sent in his resignation, together with the certificate of appointment given him. Mr. Carter will be heard from

D. L. McLeod, clerk for Precinct No. 22, was objected to as being a Republican. Mr. McLeod did not answer the Commissioners' query, so no action was taken.

J. O. Goltra, appointed as clerk in Pre-cinct No. 25, was also objected to for being a Republican. The committee in this case had simply made a mistake, as his name appears among those recommended by the Prohibition party.

George Older, judge for Precinct No. 38, has his name in the Prohibition list. He was declared to be a Republican, but the objections were withdrawn.

Herman Shade was objected to as clerk

thus satisfactory to both the sioners and the committee.

No action was taken to the objections to Isaac Kay as judge in Precinct No. 57, as he has not been heard from. In the same precinct, W. E. Potter was objected to for clerk for living in another county. He said personally that he lived in the precinct, and was willing to serve. The ioners kept him. The last cases taken up yesterday were those of M. G. Aldrich and H. Watson, judge and clerk, respectively, in Precinct No. 59. The objection raised was that they were Republicans, but the County Commissioners proved to the satisfaction of the Democratic committee that the n appointed are members of the People's party.

WILL IRRIGATE 60,000 ACRES Dend Ox Flat, Malheur County, to Be Brought Under Cultivation.

The northern end of Malheur County is shortly to be supplied with a water system, which will render fertile some 60.000 acres of what is now a sagebrush patch, according to L. C. Whitney, a fruitgrower, who resides near Payette, Idaho, just across Snake River from the land to be reclaimed, which is known as Dead Ox flat, Mr. Whitney says a Boston company is now engaged in damming the Payette River 35 miles above the town of Payette, and that electric power will be generated at the dam. This power will be transmitted to the Oregon bank of the Snake, where pumps will be worked to raise the water for irrigating purposes

"Irrigation will do just as much for Malheur County as it has for us," he said, at the Perkins yesterday, "and it has caused land to advance on the assessment-roll of Canyon County from nothing to $30 an acre. Already most of the land on Dead Ox Flat has been taken up under the homestead and desert land laws, as people can see what irrigation has dor Mr. Whitney has 100 acres of land in orchard and he finds a splendid market in the mining regions of Butte, Mont, on the east, and in Baker County on the west. plays produced at Cordray's Theater by the Frawley Company. In this fine Daly comedy, Mr. Frawley has a good chance again. There has been much popular approval of his light comedy work in "Countess Gucki" as seen last week, and there will, no doubt, he a good midweek audience to see him, Miss Wake-man and others. "An Unconventional Honeymoon" is the story of the taming of a modern shrew-but a lovely one,
