THE MORNING OREGONIAN, FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1900.

The reading of this dispatch was greeted with cheers from the Irish members. Continuing, Mr. Balfour said: services as peacemakers.

"Lord Sallsbury requested Mr. White to convey the sincere acknowledgment of Her Majesty's Government to the Government of the United States for the friendly tone of their communication, and to say that Her Majesty's Governmen munication, and does not propose to accept the interven-tion of any power for settlement of the South African affairs.

Loud and prolonged cheers followed this statement

Mr. Balfour, replying to Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the opposition lead-er, who asked whether, in view of the numerous recent disturbances connected with peaceable meetings, called to discuss South African affairs, or directed against the persons and property of individuals because of their war opinions, the Gov-ernment would cause an inquiry as to how far and by whom the disturbances were organized, and what steps would be taken to prevent their recurrence, said that every cause of disturbance had been ned, and that the demonstrations appeared to be spontaneous. He addee that the Government felt the responsibil ity rested with those who called the meetings in the heated state of public They should be careful lest they feeling. asked more than human nature could

The reply was segarded as unsatisfac tory, and Sir Robert T. Reid, liberal, moved an adjournment with the view o raising a discussion of the question. Lord Flizmaurice, Liberal member of Parliament for the northern division of Wiltshire, suggested that the Government could withhold the police grants in the districts where the police did not do their duty, and George Bartley, Conservative member for North Islington, observed that those who held the meetings in queson were a "parcel of semi-traitors and a anoful of agitating scoundrels." He added that he was delighted at this show of feeling in the country. That the location of placer-mining laims in the District of Alaska from and after the passage of this act shall be lim-ited to one claim on each stream, guich or valley to each locator; provided, that the original discoverer of placer ground apon a stream, guich or valley shall be entitled to locate one claim in addition to his discovery placer claim; provided furth er, that where miners' meetings have made no regulations in relation thereto, there shall not be less than $100 worth of work done on each claim within 90 days from the time of location.

Full-Sized Homesteads.

"The committee makes the following re port on the bill to amend the homestead laws of the District of Alaska, and recmmends that the bill pass withou amendment:

"Your committee is of the opinion that a homestead in Alaska ought to be at least as large as in one of the states or territories more favored in climate and soil, and that the 89-acre limit of homesteads in the present law should be changed to conform to the law in other localities, and therefore the committee commends the passage of the bill.

"An 80-acre homestead is too small for actual use in any new country, and instead of reducing the size of a homestead n that region there would be greater reason for increasing it to a half section, or even a whole section

"The proposed bill is as follows:

" "That the last line of section 1 of the act of Congress approved Mny 14, 1898, en-titled "An act extending the homestead laws and providing for a right of way for railroads in the District of Alaska" be stricken out, it being the purpose of this act to provide for the entry of 100 acre for homestead purposes under said act."

"Great complaint comes from Alaska of the abuse of the use of powers of attor-ney for location of mining claims. The same criticism has occurred in other states and territories; but, where the sea son of work is long, miners' meetings have been able to provide suitable rules as to the amount of work to be done, so as to compel locators to expend money on their claims or else abandon them Under the general law, in the absence of such legislation, an entire creek or guich can be tied up from work by powers of attorney. This method results in the holding of large areas for speculative pur poses, without work, for a year or more after the location is filed. In a country where the period of actual work is so lim-ited by the severity of the climate, this becomes a serious matter, and complaint in relation to these abuses seems to be quite general.
