New Town of Shaniko.

The construction of store buildings and warehouses at the new townsite of Shan-ike, the terminus of the Columbia South-ern Railroad, has drained this locality of mechanics and laborers. Wages are above the average, and all who can are leaving the new place. Pense & Mays, of this city, are to erect a large general mer-chandise store there, and the Wasco Warshouse Company will put in a large building for forwarding and storage pur-poses. Republicans Have High Hopes.

The Republicans in this city have strong hopes of carrying the next election, and by prudent management party leaders are confident that the ticket can be whol-June election. They are confident the tide has turned in their favor, and that they will meet with success at the polls. Baker County has been Democratic for some time, but a general sentiment pre-valls in favor of the Republicans, and many Gold-Standard Democrats and Siver Republicans will return to the ranks and will quietly vote the ticket at the next election. The large number of strangers who have gained a residence in the county, it is thought, will also change the aspect of affairs, and Republicans congratulate themselves that the tide of imnigration headed this way will give the party an impetus that cannot be overome by the combined elements of the

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Charges in Whitman County-A Boy With a Record.

COLFAX, Wash., March 18.-Saturday afternoon Sheriff Canutt telegraphed a warrant to Kendrick, Idaho, for the arrest of Alvin Keiser, formerly a wellknown young man of Colfax, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses Keiser was arrested, taken to Moscow that evening, and was brought to Colfax this afternoon. Keiser during the past year has been working for various wholesale houses in the East and Spokane, selling goods on commission. Wednesday he was n Oakesdale and applied to Justice of the Peace Woolever to indorse a draft for $35 for him, at the same time exhibiting a telegram from the firm upon whom the draft was drawn authorizing that act. Next day the payment of the draft was refused by the Spokane firm.

Three Pleaded Guilty. Yesterday was criminal day in the Sher-iff's office and the Superior Court. Five arrests were made by the Sheriff's force, and three trials were held in the Superior Court. Joseph Casey, who was first arrest-ed several days ago on a charge of burg-larizing a railroad car at Tekoa, but was released on account of insufficient eviing concealed weapons and of attempting to sell liquor without a license. Casey pleaded gulity. James Leonard was ar-raigned on a charge of illicit liquor selling, and pleaded guilty. Ira Frazer was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny, having stolen a heavy stock saddle in Col ton on Friday morning. Frazer also admitted his guilt. The Judge asked him where he came from, and in answer he said he had just been released from the County Jail in Lewiston, Idaho, and that he had spent most of his time in that jail during the last year, having served four sentences for petty offenses. Sentence in the three cases will be pronounced on Mon Sent 26 Men to Penitentiary.

Before Justice Kirkland on Saturday Frank Hanna pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny, and was fined $25 and costs, which was paid. Hanna, in 1891, was a central figure in the campaign of the Pro tective Stock Association against the Cooper-Collier gang of horse and cattle thieves, when 25 men were sent to the penitentiary from this county: Hanna, then a boy of 16, was working for the Cooper brothers. The Stock Association letectives frightened the boy into telling the secrets of his employers, and used him for several months in gathering addi-tional evidence. When warrants were sworn out for the gang, to prevent possible danger to Hanna he was included among those informed against, and on the trial turned state's evidence.

WASHINGTON'S UNCLAIMED DEAD. Nine Soldiers' Bodies Burled With

Appropriate Honors. OLYMPIA, Wash., March 18.-The milltary funeral here today over the unclaimed hodies of the First Washington dead was attended by fully 3000 spectators, among whom were many prominent men from all parts of the state. Six beats brought military companies from Seattle and Tacoma, and there were present former com-rades of the dead heroes from Eastern Washington companies. At the Opera-House the Rev. Mr. Hayes delivered an eloquent address, and appropriate music was rendered by the First Regiment Band and a vocal quartet from Seattle. Gover-nor Rogers paid a short tribute to the state's honored dead.

At the cemetery the bodies were interred in three trenches, dug side by side, and literally lined with flowers and evergreens, each casket being draped in the National colors and bearing a branch of laurel. A military salute was fired after the bodies had been lowered into the graves, following which taps was sounded. The bodies buried today were those of the following members of the Washing-

During Saturday evening and night the negroes had been drinking and playing poker with a number of white men. A uarrel started in the poker game and the negroes quit, one of them passing into a small adjoining room, where there were other players. While standing there one of those with whom he had been playing and had quarreled came into the room and trod on his feet. The negro remonstrated, when the white man applied a foul epithet and the fight started. There were 12 or 15 men in the saloon and the fight became general. Chairs were thrown, and finally pistols were used. It appears the negroes were unarmed.

Business Men and Farmers Will Cooperate in the Enterprise.

ROSEBURG, Or., March 18 -- On Saturday, a farmers' meeting was held at the Courthouse to consider the advantages of creameries to the farmers and business men of this county. Dr. Withycombe, of Corvalits; H. B. Miller, of Eugene, Food and Dairy Commissioner Bailey, of Portland; General Freight and Passenger Agent Markham, of the Southern Pacific, and Mr. Carlson, a practical creamery man re-cently from Wisconsin, were present and, in extended remarks from different standpoints, pointed out the advantages of the soil and climate of the Umpqua Valley to produce cheaply the different roots and forage plants essential to successful dairy-ing. The benefits accruing to land from that branch of husbandry were compared with continued depletion by grainraising. It appeared that a sufficient number of cows were owned near Reseburg to supply cream for one creamery here.

The husiness men of this city met in the evening to form a corporation to co-oper-ate with the farmers, and erect a suitable ouilding and install the necessary plant to andle the product of 500 cows. Messrs. T. R. Sheridan, S. C. Flint, W. B. Strong, F. W. Wooley and C. H. Fisher were elected as incorporators who will proceed to carry on the enterprise.
