Conference Report on Puerto Rican Appropriation Bill.

TILLMAN'S ATTACK ON THE MEASURE

Spooner's Sharp Answer to the South Carolina Senator-House Passed Many Pension Bills,

WASHINGTON, March 21-The Senate today adopted the conference report on the Puerto Rican tariff bill by a vote of 35 to 15, practically a strictly party expresaton. No Democrat voted for the report, but Stewart, Silver, of Nevada, voted with the Republicans. The time of discussion was consumed mostly by Tillman, who made a fierce attack on the measure, and accused the Republican Senators and the Republican party of indiscretion, hy-poerisy and "dirty work." His speech was quite characteristic, and was listened to with interest by his colleagues on the floor and the people in the galleries. Gallinger followed with a temperate statement of those who not only favored the report, but the passage of the Puerto Rican tariff bill. Spooner closed the debate with a forceful statement in opposition to Tiliman's speech, in the course of which he took oc-casion sharply to criticize the South Carolina Senator for dragging the measure into politics. His colloquial tilts with Tillman were immensely enjoyed by the auditors

The House today passed 142 private pen-sion bills. Late in the day, Talbert of South Carolina raised the point of no quorum. The attendance was small at the time, but a quorum was finally secured after a call of the House. The conference report on the Puerto Rico relief bill was presented and 1 P. M. tomorrow set as the time for voting on it.

Tillman (Dem. S. C.), who voted for the bill as it passed the Senate, and as a member of the committee on appropriations which voted favorably to report it, vigor-ously opposed the conference report. He brief mention of a demented woman, sup-posed to hall from Oregon, having been picked up in Los Angeles. The Los An-geles Express of that date contains the following account of the expressed his regret that the Senate con-ferees had yielded to the contention of the House conferees, particularly in agreeing to enlarge the purpose of the measure by providing "for the aid and relief of the the police station that there was a crazy woman at the 'Y' near the Standard Oil Company's works, on San Fernando people of Puerto Rico." Tillman sharply criticized the method adopted by the United States of extending handsful of street, that needed attention. The patrol wagon was sent out and the woman was taken to the police station. The woman, food to the people of Puerto Rico as a gratuity.

"As long as you continue to feed these people down There," declared Tillman, "you may feed them. So long as the freedmen's bureau was maintained in the South, the colored race there attended to pothing. That is a race characteristic. This government will set itself up as an This government will set itself up as an eleemosynary institution by the passage of this bill, and I do not believe that we should stand on any such ground." In response to an inquiry from Spooner part of the United States against another." Perkins (Rep. Cal.) inquired if Tillman was in favor of free trade with the Philippines, knowing that those islands had the advantage of peon and Malay labor. Till-

BRAZIL'S COFFEE TRADE.

Seeking New European Markets Relations With France.

I am in-formed that in Germany, Italy, and espe-cially in Spain, everything is progressing wonderfully. It is almost certain that commercial conventions will be made by which Belgium will take all the coffee if not far more than has been heretofore taken by Hawe, while Hamburg, Genoa, Trieste, Flume, Barcelona and Spanish ports will more than double what has been sent to other French ports. The Cen-tro De Savoure De Cafe is only walting for the last word of our Ministers at Rio Janeiro and in Europe to begin a crusade in favor of our coffee in every city and town in Germany, Italy, Spain, Austria and Russis. and Russia.

"We have received telegrams from the Spanish agent, Barragan, who left Rio at the end of February, confirming all the statements made to us while here. The present policy of Spain, after loging all her coffee and sugar-producing colonies is highly profitable not only to her different markets, but also to ours.

"The policy of Italy is also very favor-able to the growth of our trade in all ports of the Mediterranean. We have already powerful aids in the Lloyds of Aus tria, and Royal Hungarian Schir, which are already making voyages between Bra-zil and the ports of the Levant, where we expect to extend the sale of our coffee to Constantinople, as well as other ports. Early in May and perhaps in April we hope to be able to show a great improve-ment in our foreign trade. The more we hope extend the use of our product the better the price of the article." The correspondent of the Associated

The correspondent of the Associated Press today received a telegram from Paris stating that M. Callaiux. French Minister of Finance, has resolved to double the duty on Brazilian coffee, and he re-quested Dr. Campos Salles. President of the Republic of Brazil. to state what would be the policy of his government in such an event, and what would be the result, financially and commercially, to Brazil and France. His Excellency said that the two governments were still in the act of negotiating in regard to the question of coffee; in fact the Brazilian Government required a decrease of at least 30 per cent on the actual tariff, to begin with.

The system of maximum and minimum tariff was adopted in France in 1892 and Brazil adopting the same system had no intention of making reprisals, but meant to oblige those ployed a prohibitive duty to modify the practices or suffer the consequences. If the facts stated in the telegram are true, es. If then the series of articles published in the are true, and the act, classified by M. Ives Guyot as an act of madness on the part of the Minister of Finance, would cause the ruin of French trade with Brazil without in any way affecting Brazil. All Brazilian coffee sold in France would reach the French markets through Belgium, Spain, Italy and even Germany at a cheaper price, while all the goods im-ported at present from France would be ought in London, Hamburg and other European markets at as cheap or even cheaper price; the only sufferer would be France and the latter would be celled to procure new consumers for about 7.000,000 francs of French cloths and trim-7,000,000 francs of playthings, buttons, etc.; 5,000,000 francs of mings: brushes, prepared skins; millions of butter; 6,000,000 of cotton goods; 6,000,000 of ready-made clothes; 3,000,000 of wine, 2,500,000 of paper

That trust bought up the sugar under the full Dingley rates, and if it can get it into intry free of duty it will make the full 100 per cent of the tariff, but if we succeed in putting a tariff duty of 15 per cent of the Dingley rate on that sugar, the trust's profits will be cut down by that much, and the people of Puerto Rico will benefit to that extent." ## South Portland Fire.

A two-story cottage, occupied by J. Bromberg, at the northeast corner of Grover and Kelly streets, was gutted by fire this morning, between 1 and 2 o'clock. The family were away visiting, and a lamp in a first-story bedroom exploded. The flames gained considerable headway be-fore they were discovered by a next door neighbor. The house is owned by J. M. Steinborth, and was damaged about $500. Bromberg's loss in furniture is about $800. Both carried insurance.

every man of the party bet heavily on the little lad from their city, taking every bet offered by the Marylanders. One hundred to 70 on Gans was the price offered, and the Buffalo people snapped this up so quickly that the price rose to 100 to St Erne's seconds were Frank Zimpfer, Joe Fitzpatrick and George Salter. Gans was accompanied by Al Herford, Harry Lyons and Caleb Bond. Before the men were introduced it was announced that

George McFadden, of this city, would challenge the winner. The men agreed 1:27% to have a return match, no matter who Straight Queensberry rules govwon. erned. Erne began rushing in the opening round, forcing Gans into his corner, but was unable to land a teiling blow. In the second, third and fourth rounds Erne con tinued to force the fighting, repea tedly driving the negro to his corner, but Gans blocked cleverly and avoided heavy pun-

The first hard blow was landed in the fifth round, when Gans put a light left to the face and Erne returned a jolt from the left straight on the face. In the sixth round, after Gans had been forced to break ground, he stopped suddenly and swung his left to Erne's right eye, cutting t. Gans then went in, sending right and eft swings to the head, and Erne surprised everybody by replying with similar blows. Erne continued to slam both hands on the negro, reaching the latter's head half a dozen times, stopping Gans' rushing and forcing the negro to back away. Erne was bleeding from mouth and nose at the bell. At the beginning of the seventh round Erne rushed and staggered Gans with a right swing on the head, and then I in and shot his right up to Gans' teppe chin. Erne sent a hard left to the body and Gans planted a good right on the head. Gans swung his left to the jaw and Erne staggered, but quickly recovered and rushed back with a left and right to the

ody. The bell found them sparring, with Gans on the defensive. Erne jumped right to his man in the eighth. He put a straight left to the face, and hooked it again to the ear. Gans falled to counter, and Erne reached the body and head with his left, forcing Gans to break ground. Gans stepped in after failing short with his left and upper cut Erne on the face with his right. Erne rushed again in the ninth, sending his tight over to the head. Gans landed his right and left on the head. This started Erne, and both men let their arms go like windmills, Erne having decidedly the bet-ter of the mix-up. Erne hooked three lefts to the ear, and Gans reached the body with his left lightly. Erne had all the better of this round.

Erne tried for the head in the 10th, and Gans slipped and went almost through the ropes. Erne stepped in, sending a hard left to the stomach, and Gans failed to reply. Gans then swung his left to the head, and Erne countered. Erne rushed his man across the ring, and planted a heavy left on the wind. Then he sent a straight left to the face, and swung his right to the face, but too high for a out at close quarters. Gans planted a left on Erne's body. Erne opened the lith with a right hook on the head, Gans countering on the ribs. Gans landed a light right on the ear. First, Gans landed a light right on the ear. Erne attempted right and left swings for the head, but missed, and Gans sent his right and left to the body. Erne jumped in with his left to the body and his right to the jaw. # THE SUGAR WAR.

Negotiations for a Settlement Again in Progress. NEW YORK, March 23 .- The Journal of ommerce says: "It may be stated on excellent authority that the most serious negotiations that have thus far been attempted having in view the termination of the troubles of the sugar fefiners, have been in progress for a week or more. These ne have been conducted by James H. Post, o R. H. Howell, Son & Co., agents of the Mollenhauer and National refineries. These refineries were virtually the only independent refineries before the Arbuckles and Doscher entered the field, and were operated apparently under a tacit understanding which allowed the two refineries named to obtain what they considered a fair share of the business without, as a rule, cutting under the American Sugar Refining Company's prices. "The conferences that have been held during the progress of the negotiations have been largely informal and have not, it is understood, been attended officially by representatives of the interested parties. They have, however, been attended by friends of the several interests of sufficient importance to justify the assertion that had any agreement been reached, it would have received considerable weight with the refiners themselves."
