STREETING UNDER AN UMBRELLA.-River en are wondering who the man is that cod at the wheel of the steamer Jessie forthwick as she came up the river a ay or two since steering with one hand and holding an umbrella over his head with the other. As J. W. Cook bought n of George T. Myers, to act as tender his canneries on the Sound, it is sup-ed by some that the man at the wheel ith the umbrella was Mr. Cook himself. Not being a steamboat man, he might be excused for such a breach of steamboat tiquette. It was different in the case of ilot Al Betis, who went on board a ship the harbor to superintend moving her to another dock, and who, as it was raining, put up his umbrella and gave his orders from its shelter. An old sea dog walked around him and, viewing him ritically, exclaimed: "Strike me lucky f I haven't been all over the world, but I never saw a pilot on duty carrying an

NEW REVENUE STAMP RULING,-Collector of Internal Revenue D. M. Dunne has received from the Commissioner of In-ternal Revenue a new ruling in regard to stamps on deeds or other instruments whereby lands, tenements or other realty are sold, assigned, transferred or vested a purchaser or purchasers. Heretofore a 50-cent stamp has been required on all such documents where the value of the property transferred was over $100 and under $500. The Commissioner now holds that it is only on conveyances of property "really sold" that conveyance stamps are required; that is, upon conveyances where a valuable consideration has passed distinguishing between purchase and sale, and taking by descent or operation of law. The Commissioner adds that the former ruling was based on advice of the Attorney-General, and that he has been in doubt as to its correctness, and henceforth will give the benefit of the doubt to the taxpayer.

SERVICES RECOGNIZED .- G. Rosenblatt. who lately completed his list year's serv-ace in connection with the Liverpool & London & Globe Insurance Company, has received very complimentary letters from the secretary and manager of the company in San Francisco, recognizing his long and faithful services, and their best wishes for his future. Accompanying these was a very handsome and unique present, in the shape of a "sovereign purse," of solid gold. This is in the form of a globe, with the marks of latitude and longitude thereon, and arranged inside to old sovereigns or $5 pieces. It is intended to be worn on one end of a double watch chain. The receptacle is just the right size to hold a nickel, and Mr. Rosenblatt is informed that if he keeps it filled he will never be without a nickel for car fare, as he can draw on the "reserve fund" and thereby be assured that he will not have to walk home.

RUN DOWN BY A SCORCHER.—Captain Scorge Pope is the latest victim of the seless wheel. As he was crossing a street yesterday, a blcyclist ran into him and, although he is a solid man, knocked him "seven ways for Sunday." The bicyclist also flew all over the street. The Captain was stunned for a moment, but recovered his feet and his wind in time to bestow a parting salute on the careless lils remarks were forcible, but it is to be feared they did not leave such a long black and blue streak on the blcyclist as the blcycle did on Captain Pope.

Figs Ripening.—A citizen of St. Johns, who was in the city yesterday, says that figs have been growing on a fig tree in his garden all Winter and will soon be ripe. The tree ripened one crop last season, but the Winter set in before the sec-ond crop could mature. The fruit, how-ever, clung to the tree, and has kept increasing in size all Winter, and, under the influence of the present fine, warm weather, is now maturing rapidly. It will be ready to pick in time to be out of the way of this season's crops.

MORH JAPS COMING, The Asiatic liner Monmouthshire is due to arrive here from Japan April 2. She brings a considerable number of passengers of the Japanese persuasion. No Longer a Mystery.-The mysterious disappearance of the steamboat Fearless has ceased to be a source of wonder to river men, who have concluded that she went to the bottom of the Columbia while her crew were visiting a saloon on the shore. It is supposed that by this time she is buried in the sand at the bot-tom of the river, there to remain until in ment of the City Museum. It will be remembered that the Fearless was towing a scow up to the Cascades, and, on account of a violent wind, was obliged to anchor off Rooster Rock. The scow was also anchored, and then it is said the crew went ashore to visit a saloon, but it is not known that there is any saloon there. The crew, however, know. When they came back, the Fearless was gone, and no one has seen "hide nor hair" of her since. It was at first supposed that some one had run off with her as a joke, and had probably hidden her in some slough or bayou, and the brush for miles around was searched, to no purpose. It is now decided that the Fearless went down, with bottom, she is now probably covered under the sand, and "so an end" of her.

LINE OF MARCH ARRANGED

ROUTE SELECTED FOR VOLUN-TEERS' FUNERAL.

Hour for Services Fixed at 10 A. M. Good Music Is Volunteered-

Formation of Procession, At a meeting last evening in the Armory,

Generals Beebe and Summers, Majora Moore and Jubitz, Captain Dick and Lieutenant Telfer arranged a programme for the formation and line of march Sunday. The hour for the services to begin were definitely fixed at 10 A. M., instead of 10:30 A. M., as has been understood. These will consume an hour or an hour and a half, which will give an intermission before taking up the march at 1 P. M. 'The distance between the Armory and the cemetery can be covered in from an hour to an hour and a half, which will bring the procession to the grave by 2:30 or 3 P. M. There, but little time will be required, as the services will be strictly military and brief. As all transportation facilities will doubtless be crowded, the Guardsmen and Volunteers will probably find it necessary to walk back to the city, making a total march of approximately 10 miles for the

The long march has one regretable feature. The Grand Army veterans have been intending to follow the soldier dead to the graves, with their fellow-comrades of the late Volunteer forces, but many of those who roughed it four years in 1861-65 are too feeble for such a walk. Several of the eld soldiers have viewed the situation with sad disappointment. Governor Geer has informed the committee that he will attend the morning services, and appreciates the honor of presiding. He and his party of state officials will be given proper place in the funeral procession. W. H. Boyer will have charge of the choir furnishing the vocal music. An unexpected offer came to the committee from the Portland Symphony Orchestra, which expressed the hope that its services would be found acceptable. The presence of this splendid orchestra insures the very best instrumental music obtainable in the city. Two bands have volunteered their services-the First Regiment Band, O. N. G., and the Mount Tabor Band. A few fraternal organizations have reported for positions in the procession, but not nearly so many as were expected. Possibly many will be heard from today.

In the Armory, arrangements will be made Saturday afternoon and evening for seating the vast numbers expected at the Guard, Naval Reserve and Grand Army morning ceremonies. Major Dan J. Moore of the Republic: was last evening delegated to look after this part of the work. This afternoon the doors will be closed to the public, and Major Moore and J. P. Finley will have the caskets placed on the catafaique and artillery, after which the vehicles will be arranged in a semi-circle near where a platform will be erected for the Governor and speakers. Major Moore will provide seats on the lower floor for the relatives of families, the Emergency Corps and Red Cross, Grand Army of the Republic, the Volunteers and the auxiliary organizations to their camps, and for as many of the fraternal organizations as possible That his work may be done intelligently he asked all societies or organizations de-siring seats on the lower floor, and who will attend in a body, to appoint a com-mittee to confer with him at the Armory Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. If this is done all will be seated, without confusion After the services are over, the Armory will be vacated that the Volunteers may form the funeral party immediately after noon, so as to be ready for the march at P. M. The line of march will be south on Eleventh from the Armory to Taylor street, east on Taylor street to Sixth, north on Sixth to Burnside, east on Burn-side to Fourth, south on Fourth to Jeffer-son, east on Jefferson to the junction with

First in the procession will be the military except, consisting of the National Guard, Naval Battalion, sallors from the United States etcamable Perry, and such other military organizations as partial pair all models. "II. Paragraph 1 pate, all under command of Major Jubliz. Following these will be the funeral party, led by General Summers and all Volun-teer officers, the Mount Tabor Band, separate Company B, Captain T. N. Dunbar, which is the new Guard company com-posed of Volunteers, and which has been selected as the firing squad; the clergy or Chaplain Gilbert, the catafalque and calesons, relatives of the deceased, the Volunteers, Governor Geer and state officials, Mayor Storey and city officials, Red Men, Native Sons, Foresters of America, Woodmen of the World, Knights of Maccalees, company of American-born Chinese, company of Rough Riders. If there are other fraternal orders that desire to participate, they will be assigned follow-ing those named, and it will be quite necessary for them to report to Major Jubitz at least some time today, in order to avoid confusion. The military escort, consisting of the Guard, etc., will form in column on the west side of Eleventh street, with left resting on Davis street. The funeral party will be under General Summers, and will form inside the Armory. The Red Men will form in column on Couch street, fac-ing west, column resting on intersection of Eleventh. Native Sons will form in column on Couch, facing east, head of column resting on intersection of Eleventh, Foresters will form in column on Burn-side, facing west, head of column resting on intersection of Eleventh. morning of the services, end will have a détail of 40 men to keep order. There may be changes in the line of march, as an effort will be made to get the best streets, and there is a general sentiment that the procession should proceed directly through the city to the cemetery. As the distance to the cemetery is great, there is also some discussion of means how the military organizations might be transported there and back, in order to avoid the long well.

General Summers has issued the follow ing instructions to all volunteers who care to take part in the march from the Armory to the cemetery:

All will assemble in the upper hall of the Armory at 12:30 o'clock P. M., sharp, in khaki uniform, campaign hat, leggings, no belts, officers wearing belts with re-volvers, but no sword. This, of course, does not apply to members of separate Company B, Captain Dunbar, so far as uniform is concerned, but this company will be instructed to report to General Summers. All officers not in command of camps or companies will report to Adjutant-General Gantenbein in the Board of Officers' room, for further instructions, and will accompany the commanding offi-cer during the march. All volunteers not members of camps will be attached for the march. Major Charles E. McDoneli will assume command of this battalion of veterans, and will detail officers to carry into execution his orders. Captain R. E. Davis will assume charge of the pall-bearers and arrange that those from difbearers and arrange that those from un-ferent companies are assigned to their proper places. The pallbearers will report in the gymnasium of the Armory at 12:30 P. M. No white gloves or crepe will be worn, but pallbearers must have on the full khaki uniform, campaign hat and

While in the city the calssons will be driven two abreast. At the cemetery the order of exercises will be: Prayer by Chaplain Gilbert; military salute by sep-arate Company B, acting as firing squad; "taps" by the Second Oregon bugle corps, filling graves and placing flowers. General Summers earnestly urges all volunteers to respond to this call, and hopes (which is unnecessary) that a proper spirit of decorum will be maintained by all.

Several meeting calls have been issue by different organizations. President Tay-lor, of the Chamber of Commerce, asks the members of that body to meet in General Beebe's quarters at the Armory at 9:45 A. M. Sunday. General Beebe asks that all the members of the brigade staff assemble at the same place at the same hour. Woodmen are requested to assen ble in their hall for the purpose of at-tending the funeral. We are selling them, and demonstrating the fact to buyers every day that they cannot buy pianos anywhere else, quality for quality, for less money than they can of us, if for the same.

Hardly four months have elapsed since we started our new piano house, and the number of Steck, Krakauer and Sterling Pianos that we have sold and placed in the best of homes in this city, as well as many throughout the country, is a record for any house to be proud of. There are good reasons for this, and all that we ask is for the contemplating buyer to give us a call, so that we can explain our position and at the same time see our fine assortment. One of the advantages we have is our special arrangements with the manufacturers we are agents for, enabling us to make prices that will outdistance all competition. We have Organs, too. New ones, $5.00 and upwards. If you are wanting a fine piano or an organ, don't fail to give us a call, it will be to your interest.
