

ONA "HIKE" IN WILSON

Captain Willis Describes a Five Days' March.

TWO LARGE TANKS WERE VISITED

Insurgents Are Few and Hard to Find—Location of Portland Officers.

NAIC, Lazoo Island, Jan. 22.—(Special correspondence).—The Second Battalion, Colonel Dorst in command, returned on the 19th from a five days "hike" south through Magness to Nasupoo. Only three days' rations were carried, but the country was leveled on for enough supplies of rice, sugar and caribou meat to take out the other two days. Quartermaster Simpson gave us receipts and molestations, much to the surprise of the inhabitants, who have been used to the insurgent army taking what they wanted without so much as a "thank you" for them.

It was a hard trip, and many gave out. Fifty-five men, who were unable to keep up, returned to Nale, under command of Captain Lee. Part of the Eleventh Cavalry was in the lead, and the pace was a lively one. On the return the insurgents were encountered a few miles north of Magallanes. They were entrenched on the right side of a deep canyon which the column had to cross. The point, consisting of a few men, crossed the stream in the canyon and started up the opposite side, with the intent to surround the point. The insurgents, who probably accounts for their not being fired upon. When the support came up and was crossing the stream the insurgents opened on them, slightly wounding two men.

The stream was full of big bowlders, behind which the support took position and opened fire. The Colonel ordered one company to cross the canyon higher up and take the trenches on the flank. Before they got in position, however, Lieutenant Burman, with a small force, scolded the opposite wall of the canyon and attacked the enemy in the trenches, killing four and wounding several. At the same time the support advanced up the trail and the fight soon won, the insurgents fleeing in all directions.

Their position had been well chosen. The canyon was about 1000 feet deep and the trail exceedingly steep. One horse gave out here and had to be abandoned.

Fight at Taal.
A report came over the wire last night that Major Johnson, with a battalion of the Forty-sixth, had a fight yesterday at Taal, Province of Batangas. Four insurgents were killed, and 20 prisoners and 20 horses captured. The American loss was one man killed and one wounded.

Taal is a town of 20,000 inhabitants, and is situated near Lake Taal and about 13 miles from Batangas. In the middle of Lake Taal is an island, on which is the active volcano Taal. It is a place much visited by the natives. The scenery from the mountain is said to be grand.

Batangas.
Batangas is the principal seaport of Southern Luzon, and has a population of 20,000. It is already in American hands, being occupied by portions of the Fourth and Eleventh Cavalry. So the weary insurgents will have to find another place to place. Batangas is about 10 miles from Manila. A railroad connecting these two places has long been projected, and a survey has been made. It would pass through a rich and populous country, and would probably be a paying investment.

Gathering Crops.
All the natives are in the neighboring rice fields gathering the crop. It is an interesting sight to see thousands of them, men, women and children, scattered over the broad fields in the hot sun, clothed in garments of white and red, and varied with many other colors, and all touched by the war hitherto in this section, and the lands are all in cultivation and the crops all large. The people are coming back to Nale. Many small shops have been opened, where cigars, cigarettes, bananas, coconuts, soda-pop, etc., are sold to the soldiers.

We have regulated the price of eggs, chickens, etc., in American money. Eggs, 30 cents a dozen; chickens, 20 and 25 cents; soda-pop, 5 cents; beer, per quart, 5 cents. Cigars and cigarettes are cheap, but do not yet get the best qualities here.

Six native policemen now patrol the streets, enforcing the new sanitary regulations and arresting natives when necessary.

Natives at Church.
Yesterday I attended mass in the big church at Nale. The music, by a Filipino orchestra, was excellent. There was a large congregation of natives, men, women and children, but not very many women. They are yet timid about coming out. They all appear very devout, and I have no doubt they are sincere. A beautiful altar, and the whole interior of the church would do credit to a city as wealthy as Portland. Many pictures adorn the walls, and the paintings are handsomely painted. The church has done great things for these people, for which they have reason to be grateful, and do not deny it. At the same time they are bitterly hostile to the orders of friars who lived in fine style, and subjected them, so they say, to great exactions. They have driven them out, and do not want them to return.

A lengthy petition has been sent up to General Otis on the subject, protesting strongly against the return of the friars to their old estates. There are enormous tracts of land, the disposition of which in a satisfactory manner will be one of the tasks to confront the island administration in the near future.

Delegation of Officers.
Lieutenant-Colonel Arthur L. Wagner is now Adjutant-General of the First Division, Eighth Army Corps, Major-General Dates commanding. He is a distinguished officer of the regular army, and is the author of several military works, and is the best known being "Wagner's Service of Security and Information." This is a standard work, and is used in most of the military schools and colleges in the United States, including the academy at West Point, and the schools for the regular army at Fort Leavenworth and Fort Riley, Kansas.

Colonel Wagner succeeds Colonel Edwards, who was Adjutant-General for General Lewton, and was one of the officers designated to accompany the General's remains to the United States.

Of the Oregon officers of the Thirty-fifth Infantry, Captain Prescott is located at San Francisco. His wife is with him, and he is brave enough to return, although she is the only American woman in the town. Captain Crowne is on special duty at the United States military prison, in Manila. His long experience in military work makes his services in an administrative capacity valuable, and it is doubtless owing to this fact that he was thus selected.

Major F. C. Case, Forty-fifth Infantry, has, I am informed, called for Mindanao with his regiment.

Captain Worrick is presiding officer of a general court-martial of the Forty-fifth Infantry at this point.

Change in Campaign Methods.
There is a marked difference between the campaigning this time and my former experience with the Second Oregon. Then we could go through the country but a few miles in any direction, and meeting the insurgents in a determined fight. Now we can scarcely find them anywhere, and communication, and the roads of travel and communication, and had our supply trains with us. Now we are often crossing the country on moun-

TO BRING BODIES HOME

FRATERNAL SOCIETIES' MOVE IN THE CASE OF THE HORTONS.

Letters From Alaska Say the Remains Were Recovered and Given Proper Burial at Skagway.

EUGENE, Or., March 25.—Steps have been taken to return the remains of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Horton to their relatives in Eugene, for interment. Letters received here say the bodies were taken from a wrecked steamer, the Lynn Canal, at Skagway, where they were given appropriate burial.

Mr. Horton belonged to the Old Fellows, Knights of Pythias, and Woodmen of the World, and Spencer Butte Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Eugene, has taken the first steps toward bringing the bodies here, according to the desire of the relatives. The secretary of the lodge, J. H. White, is in charge of the matter. The State Commissioner at Skagway, to ascertain if the bodies are in condition for immediate shipment, and other details.

It is believed Mr. Horton had funds in the Skagway bank sufficient to meet all expenses; but, however this may be, the orders of which he was a member will see to it that the remains are brought home.

An interesting case just passed upon by Judge Hamilton is that of J. W. Whitsett, administrator of the estate of W. S. Miller, appellant, vs. L. L. Searles, respondent, the appeal from the County Court. It is for the collection of a promissory note, which had run more than the six years after the last payment.

The claim was allowed, but several notes against the estate on the ground that they were outlawed, on the theory that as the statute commenced running against the notes in the lifetime of both maker and payee, it never stopped; that it was the duty of the creditor to have an administrator appointed to protect the claims before the six years had expired.

Respondent contended that the statute commenced running against the debtor, and were suspended for six months after the appointment of the administrator. This point has never been passed upon by the Oregon Supreme Court, and the case will probably be appealed.

Dr. W. L. Cheshire has recovered from his attack of the so-called "discreet smallpox," and the quarantine has been removed from his house. There is not now a case of the disease in the county, so far as the authorities know.

Prohibitionists have published a call for a mass meeting, to be held in the Court-house, next Saturday, for the purpose of nominating a full county ticket.

MOVE FOR ARTESIAN WELLS.
Experiment to be Made in Lake County—The Plan Proposed.

LAKEVIEW, Or., March 25.—The Lake County Rurality has inaugurated a campaign to experiment for artesian water in this county. The fertile soil is of an unknown depth, and needs nothing but water to make it produce the finest grain, hay and vegetables. It is estimated that every foot of these rich areas, known as "deserts," would be taken up. From the number of large lakes in different parts of the county, and the numerous springs that boil out of the ground, it is believed in large streams, experts say that there is artesian water all over the county at a reasonable depth. Although the cost of experimenting is $200, and it is a long haul to make the venture. The plan now proposed is for 300 citizens to subscribe $3 each, thus raising $900. This sum is to be expended on a ranch to be selected in the county. In case of success, the rancher upon whose property the water is obtained is to reimburse the subscribers. In case of failure, each subscriber will be repaid $3.

J. F. Clarkson, a prominent stockman here, has just figured out that he has eaten at the same place, at the same table, at the same hotel, in Lakeview, for 21 years.

John Metzker and William Petree arrived here yesterday from Sprague River, 40 miles distant, with a lot of "red horses" which they had staged in that river. The fish are known as the "red horse" or "Lost River sucker," and sold readily for 10 cents a pound. The fish are running and are abundant in the river, and are being taken and dragged for them. Metzker is 50 years old, a pioneer of the state, and is the head of the largest family in the county. At his last family reunion there were 36 children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren present, and 37 were absent. He is still hale and hearty.

The last of the Lakeview Club dances for the winter took place last night. The long winter nights here are passed away almost exclusively in dancing and attending lodges. Nearly every man in town belongs to all of the lodges, and nearly all of the lodges belong to the men. The dances of the order. They attend lodge five nights of the week and dance one night. Everybody dances. The County Superintendent always is present for the orchestra, and the County Judge is the best dancer in Lakeview. In summer there is practically no amusement here outside of the Fourth of July races. Some are camping in the grounds, but the majority pass the short summer months at home. Winter is really welcomed, and many regret to see it over.

TEACHERS' CHOICE OFFICERS.
Northwestern Association Will Meet Next Year in Moscow.

PENDELTON, Or., March 25.—The convention of the Empire Teachers' Association closed yesterday with election of the following officers:

President, G. S. Bond, of Walla Walla; vice-presidents, J. F. Nowlin, of Pendleton; Miss F. H. Moore, of Clatskanie; H. Morgan, of Ellensburg; corresponding secretary, Professor Wallace, of Pullman; recording secretary, Miss Shepherd, of Lewiston; treasurer, Mrs. E. A. Vanhook, of La Grande; executive committee, G. S. Bond, and J. P. Blanton, of Moscow; D. V. S. Reid, of Weston; Mrs. E. J. Dockery, of Boise; City Superintendent Saylor, of Spokane.

Moscow was selected as the place of meeting in 1901, the invitation being extended by J. P. Blanton, president of the University of Idaho.

Nearly all the delegates have returned to their homes, but the following noteworthy names have been spent in the city, where Miss Gailther, superintendent of the Government Indian School, entertained them by showing the work of the young Indian children.

BROWNELL IN CLACKAMAS.
Will Have Almost the Solid Delegation—Various Candidates.

OREGON CITY, March 25.—Further returns received today from several Republican primaries held yesterday, confirm the statement that Senator Brownell will have almost a solid delegation at the county convention to be held next Wednesday. Instead of 17 majority in Oregon City No. 2, the item this morning should have read, "that the 13 Brownell delegates received majority on a ratio of seven to one." In this precinct, the lowest Brownell delegates received 128 out of 129 cast. The majority of the delegation is from the south of Oregon City, east of Texas except five.

EXCITED OVER GOLD ORE

STRIKE IN THE COLUMBIA MINE IN THE TUKANON DISTRICT.

Legge at Least Four Feet Thick, and Ore Assays as High as $33 12 to the Ton.

DAYTON, Wash., March 25.—Excitement is running high in Dayton today on account of the discovery of a four-foot ledge in the tunnel of the Columbia mine. The ledge is estimated to be about 25 miles east of this city. Two years ago the croppings of the ledge were discovered by the Jackson brothers, of this county, and W. T. Harrison, of Gaby, Ill., who at that time was on a visit to this country and who is related to the Jackson brothers by marriage. Soon after the ledge was discovered, development work was started, and an inclined shaft was sunk on the property to a depth of 60 feet. The ledge on the surface showed values of $20 per ton in gold, and increased in value until at the bottom of the shaft, the rock assayed $30 to $32 in gold, with traces of silver and copper. Water then came into the shaft in such quantity that work was abandoned until last April, when the owners began to drive a tunnel to tap the ledge at a depth of 150 feet. A company was formed, and work on the tunnel has been going steadily for one year, under the direction of the Columbia Mining & Milling Company, of Dayton, Wash.

In the progress of the work, several rich stringers were encountered, which assayed $30 to $124 in gold. The tunnel is now into the mountain 260 feet, and a body of ore four feet wide has been discovered. The ledge is estimated to be about 25 miles east of this city, and it is thought that the main ledge has been tapped, but the width is not yet determined, as the miners have only pierced it to the extent of 100 feet. The ledge is estimated to be about 25 miles east of this city, and it is thought that the main ledge has been tapped, but the width is not yet determined, as the miners have only pierced it to the extent of 100 feet.

It is also recommended by the State Central Committee that precinct primaries be held on Saturday. The following delegates were chosen for the three precincts in this city and two suburban, the primaries in each of which were well attended:

Ward—E. C. Bellows, C. P. McCarty, C. D. Bowles, James Waggoner, J. W. D. Smith, J. H. Elwell, F. M. Butterfield.

Ward—C. A. Blarck, Milton Evans, J. C. Huston, Joseph Carter, George A. Joffile.

West Ward—Louis Sohn, W. W. McCord, W. H. Motz, W. H. Brewster, J. R. Harvey, M. S. Cohen, A. B. Eastham.

East Ward—L. J. Mills, H. R. Caples, M. B. Kley, A. L. Hathaway, C. E. Westerman, R. D. Mills, E. D. Hamilton, A. J. Proebster, Arthur Fletcher, J. F. Carson.

BABES IN THE WOOD.
Two on a Coeur d'Alene Hill, One Spending a Night There.

Walla Walla, Wash., Saturday night and Sunday morning until 9 o'clock. Leonard, the 24-year-old son of Adolf Haupt, was lost on the mountain side all day Saturday, before he was found. He left shortly after noon Saturday, accompanied by Paul Duhrook's 3-year-old girl, the two starting off in search of strawberries. The boy was found for them until about 3 o'clock. An hour later the girl was found upon the side hill in the southwestern part of town. She had been lost for about two hours, and yet he seemed none the worse for his trip, except a few scratches on his face, some torn clothing and a missing shoe.

OREGON NOTES.
The Baker City Democrat has increased its size to six six-column pages.

The O. R. & N. is about to expend about $50,000 in improving the track between Pendleton and Madras.

J. Messenger and D. C. Ireland weigh 224½ pounds in the aggregate, says the Moro Observer. Messenger claims it all but 246 pounds.

In the stomach of a beef creature killed yesterday at Oberlin, three and one-half inches long, and weighing 1½ pounds, were found.

A petition is being circulated at Fossil with a view to resurrecting the Fossil and Pendleton roads, which have been abandoned several weeks ago and a line from Twickenham to Waterman substituted.

Pendleton has an ordinance against spitting on the sidewalk that went into effect Thursday. The fine is $1 for each offense is provided for, and it is said the Pendleton officers will enforce the law.

The Willamette is now believed to be at a lower stage than it has been at in several years. It is but four feet above low water, and the steamboat people are already figuring on putting a light draught tug on the river.

Horney is one of the most prosperous counties of Oregon, or the entire West, says the Burns News. We have not experienced manufacturing, and we have used the crops of the state, and our sheep have eaten their fill of green grass in summer and of Horney hay in winter, and vast has been the result thereof.

It is rumored about Arlington, says the Jones Post, that there is a move on foot to take off another slice from the south end of Gilliam County, and add it to Wheeler, thus assuring Fossil sufficient strength to get the coal seat of Wheeler County and hold it. This move will meet with strong opposition in Gilliam County, and deserves to be defeated.

The petition of the citizens of John Day, asking that the town be allowed to incorporate under the legislative act of 1887, was granted by the Grant County court at its last meeting. The court ordered the streets to be laid out, and the choosing of city officers, and fixed April 2 as the day. This, it is believed, is the first town in Oregon to be incorporated without special act of the Legislature.

PEOPLE'S PARTY STATE CALL.

These Middle-of-the-Roaders Will Issue an Interesting Address.

SALEM, Or., March 25.—The State Central Committee of the People's party today issued a call for a state convention to be held at Portland April 12. It was stated yesterday that the convention will be composed of 24 delegates. The call issued today shows that there will be 23 delegates. The apportionment is as follows:

Baker; Benton; Clackamas; Clatsop; Columbia; Coos; Crook; Curry; Douglas; Gilliam; Grant; Harney; Jackson; Joseph; Lincoln; Linn; Malheur; Marion; Morrow; Multnomah; Polk; Sherman; Tillamook; Umatilla; Union; Wasco; Wheeler County.

It is also recommended by the State Central Committee that precinct primaries be held on Saturday. The following delegates were chosen for the three precincts in this city and two suburban, the primaries in each of which were well attended:

Ward—E. C. Bellows, C. P. McCarty, C. D. Bowles, James Waggoner, J. W. D. Smith, J. H. Elwell, F. M. Butterfield.

Ward—C. A. Blarck, Milton Evans, J. C. Huston, Joseph Carter, George A. Joffile.

West Ward—Louis Sohn, W. W. McCord, W. H. Motz, W. H. Brewster, J. R. Harvey, M. S. Cohen, A. B. Eastham.

East Ward—L. J. Mills, H. R. Caples, M. B. Kley, A. L. Hathaway, C. E. Westerman, R. D. Mills, E. D. Hamilton, A. J. Proebster, Arthur Fletcher, J. F. Carson.

GLITTERING PRODUCT OF THE OSCAR CREEK PLACER MINE.
GRANT'S PASS, Or., March 25.—A great deal of attention is attracted by a display of gold nuggets from the Oscar Creek mine, owned by J. H. Moore, and the gold is in pieplate to the rim, and is all coarse and bright in color. The largest nugget is worth $24, while at least a dozen others run $5 to $75 each. The total value is over $1000. For the purpose of the clean-up of this mine, which has always been known for its large gold.

TO ADD FIFTEEN STAMPS.
BAKER CITY, Or., March 24.—The owners of the Gold Hill mine, in the Wheeler district, have decided to increase the capacity of their mill from 5 to 20 stamps this year. This decision was reached after extensive development work. Thousands of feet of tunneling and drifting had been done, which have fully demonstrated the existence of large bodies of rich ore. No further development will be done till the mill is ready for operation, as there is much ore in the mine, and it is necessary to prove the permanence of the ore bodies.

PROFIT IN SHEEP.
Cleared $82 50 on an Investment of $145 in 48 Days.

A Benton County man bought on a certain day in last January 25 head of sheep, and in 48 days he had 1000 lbs. of wool made off of them a clear profit of $82 50, or an average of nearly $3 per head. To be exact, his net profit per head was $1 66, or 66 cents per head, all in good condition. He paid for them $5 per head. During the 48 days, the increase was 35 lambs. Before the end of the 48 days the lambs were sold to the butcher at $1 per head, and the sheep were on pasture on the outfit, during the 48 days, he paid in all $5. He sold the original stock, 25 head of ewes, for the same price he paid for them, or $5 per head. He then figured up his account as follows:

Received for 35 head of ewes.....$140 00
Received for 35 head lambs..... 87 50
Total.....$227 50
Paid for 25 ewes.....$125 00
Paid for pasture..... 100 00
Net profits.....$102 50

Of course, sheep do not always yield such an abundant return as did this lot. Indeed, it is only on rare occasions that the transaction could, from the standpoint of profit, be duplicated. The dealer happened to strike the early market for Spring lambs, securing a price of $2 per head that later became only $1. His old stock, after disposing of the lambs, was in good condition, fit for the block, and hence

SEATTLE, March 25.—The police have in jail here L. Parker, alias "Kitty" Parker, one of the three men suspected of robbing the First National Bank of $5000 last Monday. Parker was arrested in Victoria, B. C., Saturday, being traced to that city by police detectives and Pinkerton men employed by the bank. His infatuation for a variety actress led to the discovery of his whereabouts. He denies his guilt.

Accomplice Gone to Arizona.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—The detectives who have been working on the case of the robbery of the First National Bank state that the accomplice of Robert Collins, now in the City Prison, and Parker, who was arrested in Victoria, B. C., was Jack McGrath, who is also thought to have aided Collins to secure $25 from the office of a money-broker on Montgomery street. McGrath has made his escape, but his sister has turned over to the police $400 which he gave her, out of $500 which she said he had with him when he visited her a day or two ago. There is reason to believe that McGrath has gone to Phoenix, Ariz. The detectives found the $400 had been turned over to the Curtis Lumber Company. Under the agreement heretofore made with them, this will be followed by a transfer of the land and eventually the establishment of the mill. The agreement is that the agreement on the track is now near. What will begin cannot be stated. Big bodies of ways move slowly.

The Proposed Lumber Mill.

The people of Albany have now done their part to secure the big mill. The subscription has been entirely made up, guaranteed by 17 responsible business men. It has been turned over to the Curtis Lumber Company. Under the agreement heretofore made with them, this will be followed by a transfer of the land and eventually the establishment of the mill. The agreement is that the agreement on the track is now near. What will begin cannot be stated. Big bodies of ways move slowly.

ISAC WRIGHT OF ATHENS.
BAKER CITY, Or., March 25.—The remains of Isaac Wright, who died at the hospital here of pneumonia, were conveyed to Adams this morning for interment. Mr. Wright was 60 years of age, and resided near Sumpter with his brother-in-law, T. Barto, and lived but a few days. Deceased was a prominent resident of Athens, a member of the A. O. U. W. He left a wife and three children.

WASHINGTON NOTES.
The Board of Commissioners of Chelan County are very busy these days getting ready to move into the new courthouse at Wenatchee.

A plant for extracting arsenic from the Monte Cristo ores is to be established at Everett. It is said these ores are one-third arsenic.

The explosion of a lamp in ex-Governor Foss' clothing store caused $1000 damage. The store is one of Anacortes' finest brick structures.

The men brought from up-bound points to replace the strikers at the Seattle Logging Company's camp at Port Crockett are being refused to go to work upon learning the story of the strike, and some have already returned home.

The Everett & Monte Cristo Railroad is to be rebuilt from Hartford Junction to Monte Cristo wherever it was damaged by floods and the rails will be in operation again by June 1. This is the part of the road not included in the purchase of the Northern Pacific.

A farmer named M. F. Brandon, who lives near Harvay, in Western Stevens County, has twice been visited and threatened by armed masked men, who accuse him of being a horse thief and who require him to leave the country. He has appealed to the authorities for protection.

H. E. McBride sold his 50-acre farm in the arctic belt to Hiram O. Blanken, recently out from the Alton gold fields, says the North Yakima Republic. He will sink an artesian well at once and build a $1000 house on the land. He has bought 1000 acres of property on the west side and will build a large town.

Oliver Corwell Wednesday shipped two carloads of fat beef cattle to Snohomish, says the Walla Walla Union. These cattle were fed upon alfalfa hay altogether, and made a gain of 250 pounds in three months. They averaged when shipped 1400 pounds each. The price per hundred was $4 85.

PEOPLE FEEL GOOD.
Gold Ledges and Lime Rock in the Town—Cleaning Up.

SUMPTER, Or., March 24.—There is much enthusiasm on account of recent developments here. Several recent discoveries of good appearing ledges have been made in the town, and in fact, some on platted ground. The well-known fact that the site upon which Sumpter stands has been the center of mining for many years, makes it no matter of surprise that ledges bearing fine gold should be found nearby, and it will be no more a matter of wonder if the discovery of a ledge little more than a mile from town a few weeks ago, prospecting has been the order near still. A few days ago another vein was discovered, and it is proposed to exploit the property enough to prove its value.

The latest discovery affecting the destiny of Sumpter is a ledge of rock, carrying 15 per cent lime, on block 34, on Warren Heights. This discovery, if it shall stand the test of development, will be all the more important, because of the immediate prospect of a ledge of limestone in June. Work has been commenced on the smelter.

The removal of stumps from the ground where it is to be erected, and the laying of the foundation walls. This will be the first brick hotel in the town, and is to be such a one as would be a credit to any city.

Just what the outcome of this case will be is hard to predict, but from reports it certainly looks as if Mr. Huffman had gotten his affairs, whether wantonly or through a complicated mess, and himself more than likely in a position where he will be amenable to the law.

GRANT'S PASS, Or., March 25.—A great deal of attention is attracted by a display of gold nuggets from the Oscar Creek mine, owned by J. H. Moore, and the gold is in pieplate to the rim, and is all coarse and bright in color. The largest nugget is worth $24, while at least a dozen others run $5 to $75 each. The total value is over $1000. For the purpose of the clean-up of this mine, which has always been known for its large gold.

TO ADD FIFTEEN STAMPS.
BAKER CITY, Or., March 24.—The owners of the Gold Hill mine, in the Wheeler district, have decided to increase the capacity of their mill from 5 to 20 stamps this year. This decision was reached after extensive development work. Thousands of feet of tunneling and drifting had been done, which have fully demonstrated the existence of large bodies of rich ore. No further development will be done till the mill is ready for operation, as there is much ore in the mine, and it is necessary to prove the permanence of the ore bodies.

PROFIT IN SHEEP.
Cleared $82 50 on an Investment of $145 in 48 Days.

A Benton County man bought on a certain day in last January 25 head of sheep, and in 48 days he had 1000 lbs. of wool made off of them a clear profit of $82 50, or an average of nearly $3 per head. To be exact, his net profit per head was $1 66, or 66 cents per head, all in good condition. He paid for them $5 per head. During the 48 days, the increase was 35 lambs. Before the end of
