ORDRAY'S THEATER (Washington st METROPOLITAN THEATER (Third street)-

PREPARING FOR FIRST TROUT.—Fishermen are getting their tackie ready for next Sunday, when the trout fishing season begins in Oregon. They are glad they have no longer to go over to Washington o enjoy their favorite sport, for it has often turned out that they found more sork than sport. In going down to the Elokomin, or Skomokawa fishing they have to leave Portland on the night hear PREPARING FOR FIRST TROUT,-Fisherllokomin, or Skomokawa issuing they ave to leave Portland on the night boat, a order to save a day, and they are undied ashore at 3 or 4 o'clock in the norning in the dark. The old-timers prowes with an outfit which enes them to cook eggs and make a po coffee and those who are wise als carry along a bundle of kindlings, for it is no pleasant thing to rustle around for wood make a fire before daylight, when crything is as wet as water. The bot cakfast puts new life into them, and on a tramp of two or three to at or ten miles up to the fishing unds, and by daylight are ready to ben fishing. Some people would not con-ier this sort of thing as pleasure, but an enthusiastic fisherman it is nothg else, especially if the day proves fine of the trout bite well. When it rains il day and nary a trout is caught, even ng is not such great sport after all.

Bass and Pickerel.—A number of gen-ine small-mouth, black bass, of small the largest weighing less than a nd, and a number of small, snaky-lookpickerel, were received by a market this city yesterday. They came from kane, and were from a lake in that secn, where these fish were planted a few ars ago. A large number of persons upped to lock at the black base, prinoally persons who, in their youthful ye, had caught these fish in the streams different states east of the Rockles, ere has been a great deal of debate at and last as to the desirability of oducing black bass on this coast, but ussing the question any longer. The ss is a gamey fish and furnishes fine ort, but for eating it is a coarse fish. ad not to be compared with the troutn sections where there are no trout, and sike, pickerel, catfish, sunfish, suckers, , are the best the angler can find, the base passes for a good fish, but to ople who have been accustomed to trout and salmon all their lives, the fish men-ioned are nothing but coarse fish. It is to be hoped that the pickerel especially will lever be introduced into the streams of his state, as they are destructive to most ther kinds of fish.

WANT PATH TO JOHNSON CREEK.-The ourd of County Commissioners has repeived a petition from the Scott Improve-ment Club, signed by a considerable number of persons, who ask that a bleycle path be built from Johnson Creek, at Myers' mill, toward Portland, to connect with the Section Line road. Between the Section Line road and Lents they want a line path, and from Lents to Myers' nill a single path will do. It is stated in he petition that a great many people want to go from Portland to Johnson Creek or chic parties, and many of the residents that section have bicycles and pay axes thereon and think they are entitle to have a path out there. The Commis-sioners are in the bloycle-path building business, and say they will do the best they can for these petitioners. The cost of constructing bicycle paths is more than many would probably imagine, and aver-ages from $30 to $50 per mile, according to circumstances. In some places where much grading or cutting is to be done, the cost sometimes approaches $200 per

WANT AN ETESORE REMOVED. - The Board of School Directors offers for sale the old Holladay School building. Scaled olds for the purchase of the building will be received by School Clerk Allen up to moon April 10, and the successful bidder will be required to remove the building without 15 days from the date of sale. The new Holladay School building is partially finished and occupied, and the re-maining rooms are now being finished. The contractors promise to have this work done in a week or two, and then the classes still remaining in the old building will be still remaining in the old building will be tonight Mrs. A. Pallett Clifton will sing. The sermon will be by the pastor, Rev. comfort and satisfaction of all concerned.

Dr. Alexander Blackburn. as this removal takes place the Board of Directors wishes to have the old building removed from the grounds at once. This is why the old building is to be sold, and why the terms of sale specify that it shall be removed within 15 days of the time of sale.

FOR THE LOVE OF MUSIC.-The Louise Brehany ballad and opera company are being brought to Portland from California by the management of the Y. M. C. A. There is no thought nor desire on the part of the association to make money out of this venture, the only purpose being to give the membership and lovers of music an opportunity of hearing these artists that have received such an ovation where-ever they have gone during the past two seasons. The first half of the entertain ment to be given Saturday night will be a concert programme, in which Louise Brehany will sing some of the ballads that have made her famous. In the last half the company will present the second act of the grand opera, "Martha."

DELAYED BY RAINS. - Showery weather has been delaying the progress of laying wood-block pavement on Madison bridge, and this may cause delay in open-ing the bridge to team travel. The side walks will be finished in a few days, however, and so pedestrians can soon use the bridge without having to travel out in the readway. Wheelmen will have to pick their way past piles of wood blocks and along the planks which are to support these, for a while yet. The new houses for the gate-keepers are nearly finished, and are a considerable improvement over the old ones, as they afford better views of the approaching steamers, and thus enable the watchers to prepare for opening the draw without lose of time.

BIG BRICK PLANT,-Upper Albina is soon to have one of the finest and most exteneive brickmaking plants in this section. James Anderson, who has been in the brick business there for several years, last fall started to put in a steam plant, and will have it ready to operate in about a week. It is a Potts machine, having a capacity of 150,000 per day. The brick are molded from wet clay and then laid on sheds to dry before being burned, so that work goes on continuously during the summer, rain or shine.

Business Growing North.-Masons and parpenters are at work transforming the Kiernan brick warehouse, corner of Sixth and Glisan streets, into a store building. The dead walls are being pierced in order to insert plate-glass windows, and the Glisan-street front has been entirely torn out to give place to a modern entrance. This quarter of the city has begun to show many signs of improvement within the past year, and North Sixth street bids quite a retail thoroughfare in the near future.

STORY OF THE BACTERIA." - Members of the Woman's Club are invited with their friends to hear "The Story of the Bacteria," given by Dr. Albert E. Mackay, before the home department of the club In the Unitarian Chapel, tomorrow, at 4 P. M. The lecture promises to be of more than usual interest, bringing unseen neigh-bors for a visit to the human level.

HAND CRUSHED .- John Burke, a young man employed at the Portland Cigar-Box Factory, caught his hand in some belting yesterday evening, which resulted in both hones being broken above the wrist and three fingers badly crushed. He was re-moved to the Good Samaritan Hospital, where the fractures were reduced.

REMOVED.-L. Mayer & Co., to 148 Third, pear Morrison. All kinds of del'cacles. * FINEST TURKISH BATHS in the Northest, third floor Oregonian Building. L. MAYER & Co. have removed to 148 Third, near Morrison,

END OF LONG LITIGATION.—City Attorney Long has filed the mandate of the Su-preme Court in the matter of the delinpreme Court in the matter of the delin-quent assessments for the improvement of Sixth street. Some of the property-owners are tired of litigation, and have come in and paid their assessments, and others are getting ready to pay. After keeping the contractors out of their money for about eight years, the matter of get-ting ready to pay should not take up much time. City officials and the public generally will be relieved when the im-provement is paid for, and the whole tire-some business settiled, and the delinquents some business settled, and the delinquents will also probably be glad to get the matter off their hands. They have had a great deal of amusement out of the CHINESE LOAFER SENTENCED .- Lee Foy. a Chinese hobo, was sentenced to 50 days in the County Jail, by Judge Hennessy, yesterday, for trespass. He has been laying around doorways and in vacant houses, and refused to leave when told to "move and refused to leave when took to move on" by the police. His elseping apartment all winter has been a hallway in a brick building occupied by Celestials, at Second and Oak streets, and his countrymen set tired of seeing the loathsome Lee Foy around. Though six feet tail and of stalwart proportions. For will do no work, and being the only one of his lik in Portland, he cannot form a Coxey army all by himself. Chinese hobos are very rare, and the police think this one is out of his mind.

ASKING SCHOOL INFORMATION .- Reginald Balfour, connected with the Central Board of Education, of England, who is collect-ing information in regard to the school systems of this country, called on City Superintendent of Schools Rigier yester-day. He desires full information as to the system on which the free schools of Portland are run, and also a special re-port on the subject of gradation. He has port on the subject of gradation. He has learned that a special style in this matter prevails in the schools of this city, which was invented by Professor Rigier, and which has been in use three years, and has given good satisfaction.

SURE SIGNS OF SPRING .- Dealers in sportng goods are making great displays thes days of fishing tackle. Rods, reels and lines of all kinds and qualities, fishing baskets and fly books, artificial files of every kind, color and size, as well as plain hooks of every imaginable bend, are displayed in profusion. Pocket-flasks, large and small, have not been forgotten by the dealers, and are not likely to be forgotten by the fishesmen, for half the sport of fishing is the rest at noon in some com-fortable place, and a good swig from the flask and good lunch, and smoke after-

"IL TROVATORE" LAST NIGHT

Boston Lyric Opera Company Scored Another Success.

"Il Trovatore," as rendered by the Boston Lyric Opera Company, at Cordray's Theater, last night, was a musical and artistic treat. Colonel Thompson's comcity to compare in any way with last night's success. The grand opera cast with Signor Russo at the head is a stellar aggregation.
Russo last night was at his best, He seemed the very soul of the performance, and his acting as well as his singing was artistic and finished. At times his voice was of the tender, soft, musical Italian quality, always well-modulated, vibrant, while again the robust, virile tones would ring out like a clarion. Russo sang the role of Manrico, and his rendition will compare favorably with any heard here. The tower scene, with its "Miserere" and duet between Manrico and Leonora (Neille Andrews), received merited recognition from the hearers of a spontaneous recall."

The famous prison solo, as sung by Russo, was the climax of the evening, and dwells as the most pleasant of the winter's operatic memories. Nellie Andrews, as Leonora, displayed marked dramatic ability, and her singing of the florid passages taxed the limits of her voice, but her limpld and brill ant tones were equal to the task and won for her much applause and favorable com-ment. Maude Leekley, as Azucena, the gypsy, acted her part well, and sang the role with much dramatic fire and inten-sity. Frank Maslin, the baritone, as Ruiz. excelled himself. He has never sung in such good voice, and has never made such a favorable impression as his good work of last night warranted. Stuart Harold, as the Count di Luna, sang the bass role acceptably. Tonight the comedy people of the com-pany will appear in "La Mascotte," and Friday night "Il Trovatore" will be the

"La Mascotte," with its novelties, its superb Amazonian marches, topical songs and wealth of fun, combined with an overflowing score of delightful melodies, will be presented tonight by the Boston Lyric Opera Company. This is an opera in which the comedians Henderson and Kunkel are allowed an unlimited aphere of action, and that they take advantage of every opportunity goes without saying.

The cast is as follows: Prince LorenzoJohn Henderson Prince FrederickHenry Hallan Sergeant Fiametto "La Mascotte" will also be given Saturday afternoon and evening

JAMES F. MUSE MAKING TECHNICAL

Alleged Embezzler Says His Shortage

DEFENSE.

IN THE SEVERAL COURTS

Was Simply an Overdraft Covered by a Note.

A. King Wilson, attorney for James F. A. King Wilson, atterney for James F. Muse, is making a defense on teconical grounds. First, inat the little Guarantee & Trust Company was insured in an employers liability company, which is therefore the party in interest, and must be set forth as such in the indictment; second, that Muse, after going away on his vacation, acknowledged taking $600 and sent his note to the company, which was accepted in settlement, at least it was never returned to him; third, that in taking the money it was only an overdraft, ing the money it was only an overdraft, such as was frequently made by omicers and employes of the company.

The defense contends that Muse did not try to conceal himself, but traveled openly through Colorado and other states on some sort of a theatrical tour, registering by his proper name at numerous hotels, and writing to the officers of the com-pany voluntarily that he would not return to work, and had overdrawn. Further, that he inclosed his note for the amount. Muse will also endeavor to show that others would request various sums of money, varying from $5 to several hundreds of dollars, regardless of whether it exceeded their salary or not. The offi cers of the company deny that any such unbusinessike practice existed.

T. T. Burkhart, the assistant secre tary of the company, occupied the witness stand most of the day, and was subjected to a long cross-examination by defendant's counsel, and was afterwards called as a witness for the defendant. Some books were put in evidence, and Mr. Burkhart was asked in detail concerning many en-tries, some of which he explained. The object of counsel is to make it appear, if possible, that the books do not show that the defendant was short in his accounts. One entry was charged to "Suspense No. 2," and when asked what this meant, witness replied, "that is none of your busi-ness." A little later he said that these were private confidential accounts of the patrons of the company.

"Isn't it a fact," asked Mr. Wilson,
"that these books are so kept that nobody but the officers of the company can find out anything about them?"

"I have gone far enough into this mat-ter," answered the witness. Counsel continued to ask about many accounts, and finally obtained permission of the court to let Muse look over some of the books. The trial will be resumed
