BATTALION INSPECTION.

The quarterly inspection and muster of the First battalion, Third Regiment, Na-tional Guard, held at the Armory last evening, gave evidence of a high state of discipline and efficiency. The battalion was reviewed by General Beebe and Major R. Jubitz, in command. Previous to the maneurer in the mobile held of to the maneuvers in the public hall a shor drill was held in the company hall ad-joining. From here the battallon marched to position in the main hall, where it was drawn up in lines forming three sides of a hollow square. Major Jubitz announced that General Beebe was present and would address the battalion.

address the battalion.

The remarks of General Beebe were full of praise for the officers and men of the six companies present. He complimented them upon ther soldierly appearance, and expressed himself as pleased by the attention given to their work and their skill in drill and handling. in drill and handling of arms. "I am gratified," he said, "to note the full at-tendance present on this occasion, and the evidence of faithful drill exhibited in your before our former regiment was called to war, to see companies filling up their ranks, and the battalion growing into a full regiment. I am pleased to note the soldierly bearing of the men and their mastery of the details of drill. It is a cause of gratification to the people of the state that this interest in the guard is evinced by its members, and that many of those who were with us formerly have returned to our ranks from the field of battle. The value to your organization of their experience, acquired in actual warfare, is incalculable. They have made a record that has filled the state with pride."

General Beebe urged the men to continue the warm interest they have shown in their work, in order that the regiment may reach the high standard set by the former regiment, and become second to none in efficiency. The battalion, consisting of Companies E, F, G and I, and separate Companies B and M, then marched before the Genand M, then marched before the General and Major Jubitz, in review, their erect bearing and perfect execution of maneuvers calling forth loud applause from the spectators. The review was followed by a dress parade, at the conclusion of which the arms and equipment of each man were inspected by the Motor. man were inspected by the Major com-

MUSE ASKS TO BE DISCHARGED FROM CUSTODY.

His Lawyers Assert That the Verdict, Legally, Is an Acquittal-Notes of Litigation.

A. King Wilson and A. O'Neal, attorneys for James F. Muse, filed a petition in the Criminal Court asking that Muse be released from custody because the verdict of the jury is, in legal effect, a verdict of not guilty. The verdict rendered states: We, the jury in the above entitled case (State of Oregon vs. James F. Muse), find the defendant guilty of embezzlement, and Company. Embezzlement is punished as arceny. An amount over $25 is grand lar-ceny, and imprisonment in the penitentiary is the penalty. Where the sum of money or value of goods stolen is less than $15, it is petit larceny, and the extreme sentence is one year in the County Jail. The Muse verdict fixes the amount at less than $55, and does not specify the amount, and is said to, therefore, be an imperfect ver-dict. The trial ran into the fourth day, and the jury was out over 24 hours, standing all along six to six. The verdict was one of sympathy, the six for acquittal finally bringing over those who were for conviction to this sort of a compromise.

Amended Firemen's Complaint.

In the suit of M. M. Bloch against the City of Portland, involving firemen's ims, Judge Sears yesterday allowed James Gleason, attorney for the plaintiff, one week further time to file amendments to the complaint. The court some time ago held that it must be shown that these claims were presented to, and approved by the Board of Fire Commissioners, and payment refused by the city before the city can be sued to compel payment, or that the claims were presented and rejected by the Commissioners. In the Miter event, mandamus proceedings to force authorization and payment of the claims might prove necessary. The complaint will be altered to come within the ruling of the court, and the legal fight between the opposing attorneys will then he renewed. If the Supreme Court decis-ion in the Brauer case is good in this case, the city will doubtless finally have Answer Filed. H. Liebes & Co. yesterday filed an an-swer in the State Circuit Court to the uit of Fannie M. Oliver, in which they admit that she purchased a sealskin sacque for $300. They deny that it was of but little value, and allege that it was made of first-quality of realskin, and was reasonably worth the price paid for it. The defendants aver that she was shown sealskins of fine grade and quality, which were satisfactory to her, and were made into a coat. They admit that some weeks after the acceptance of the sacque Mrs. her money, which was refused, defendants offering to remedy any defects in the wear of the coat, which they again allege is worth the sum paid for it.

Transcript at County Expense. Counsel for Frank E. McDaniel yester day filed a motion asking Judge George to order the official court reporter to fur nish a transcript of the evidence adduced at the trial, at the expense of the county. The attorney desires to make up his bill of exceptions for an appeal to the Su-preme Court, and requires the reporter's notes of the exceptions, etc., in order to do so. It is stated by McDaniel in an acompanying affidavit that he is penniless having exhausted all of his means, and the attorney states that his client should not be deprived of his rights of appeal is such a serious case.
