Mexicans Held Up Gambling-Honse day on the question of whether or not requisition papers shall be sent in for George W. Hull, the wealthy Arizona mineowner, under arrest in New York charged with perjury in this state. Coun-sel for Hull endeavored to show that the ulterior motive behind his prosecution was the desire of certain attorneys to get Hull here and secure new for security CHICAGO, April 16.-A special to the Chronicle from Phoenix, A. T., says: Jesus Garcia and another Mexican of the name of Flores held up a gambling house in Johnson, a mining camp 25 miles east of Benson, and killed Scott Withersby, a prominent mining man who they thought was attempting to prevent their Was the desire of certain attorneys to get Hull here and secure pay for services rendered. The hearing was held before the Governor at the Statehouse, and at its conclusion Governor Dyer announced that he would consult with the Attorneyescape.

Withersby was attracted to the saloon by the noise, and had just entered when one of the Mexicans fired. The ball entered above the right eye, killing him instantly. The bandits then fied, but be-fore they could get out of range one of them was shot and so badly wounded that his accomplice was obliged to support him as they dragged themselves to where their horses were standing. The pursuers followed them a short distance, but discovered the uselessness of attempt ing to capture them without horses, and they returned for mounts.

The bandits are well armed and have cod chances to escape.

No Danger of a Clash.

NEW YORK, April 16 .- A special to the Herald from Washington says:

Mail advices of an authoritative charac-ter, which have reached here from Tokio and Seoul announce that there is no dan-ger of a clash between Russia and Japan over the Masampo incident. It is true that CHICAGO, April 16.-Dr. W. C.
