

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight. MARQUAM GRAND—"What Happened to Jones." CORDRAY'S THEATER (Washington Street)—"Swansea River." MADE PHYSICIANS LEGALLY.—Following is a list of those who passed the examination held by the State Board of Medical Examiners April 5 and 6, and to whom licenses have been issued: C. W. Bales, M. D., Centerville, Wash.; F. R. Bowersox, M. D., Salem; Frank E. Brown, A. B., M. D., Salem; Robert C. Coffey, M. D., Moscow, Idaho; John W. Dryborough, M. D., Milton, Ia.; John G. Fleener, M. D., Pleasant Plain, Ia.; K. H. Hartley, M. D., Portland; Harvey H. H. Hartley, M. D., Portland; James H. H. Hartley, M. D., Portland; W. H. Hartley, M. D., Portland; M. D. Goodland; Frank E. Hume, M. D., Lebanon, Or.; Edwin G. Kirby, M. D., Salem; Raymond W. Logan, M. D., The Dalles; James L. Miller, M. D., Butte, Mont.; Charles E. Morrill, M. D., Gold Hill, Or.; Frank D. Reames, M. D., Portland; J. Herbert Robnett, M. D., Halsey, Or.; Isaac N. Sanders, M. D., Salem; Louis A. Shand, M. D., Portland; Mary M. Stangor, M. D., San Francisco; William H. Vose, M. D., Humphrey, Neb.; Calvin S. White, M. D., Gervais; Joseph F. Wood, M. D., Portland. All the above were graduates in medicine. Two failed to pass a successful examination.

PAIR CATCH OF SALMON.—Reports of the catch of salmon are flattering, as is usual at the beginning of the season. The run, however, appears to be larger than in usual at the beginning of the season, although it is probable that a part of the catch credited to the opening day has been caught a day or two before. At the five seining grounds connected with the Millar Rock cannery, a fair number of salmon have been caught every day since the season opened, and they have more fish packed now than they had on May 1 last year. Some 800 pounds of fish had been sent up to this market from these seining grounds yesterday, and the prospects are fair for a good season for the seiners. The water was so high last year for such a long time that it very much injured the seining business, and also reduced the catch of the fish. There is no prospect of a long period of high water in the Columbia this year, and the owners of wheels and seining grounds are feeling happy.

DEATH OF HENRY DENLINGER.—Henry Denlinger, a pioneer of Oregon, died yesterday at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Deceased was born in Pennsylvania 46 years ago, and came to this state in 1854, yet a youth. Forty years ago he was proprietor and editor of the Jacksonville Sentinel, and later was a compositor on the Oregonian for about 20 years. In 1888 he moved to Yaguna Bay, where he had resided up till the time he was brought here for medical treatment. An operation was performed on him last Saturday, but he was too weak to stand the shock. In 1866 Mr. Denlinger married Eliza Humphrey, sister of Dr. T. C. Humphrey, of this city. He leaves one son, Henry Denlinger, Jr., who recently went to New Mexico.

SCORCHER MAKES A CHILD.—A 7-year-old boy, named Ahern, whose parents reside on Twenty-second street, between Northrup and Taylor streets, was scorching a wheelman last evening at 7 o'clock, and severely injured. The collision took place on the sidewalk at Marshall street, near Eighteenth. The child, in company with a sister, was walking toward, and as it was getting dark, the wheelman was not seen until upon him. The cyclist, who carried no light, did not stop to see what was done. The little boy was taken to Allen's drug store on Sixteenth street, where he was found to be suffering from an abrasion on the side of the head, and from a severe front teeth. The man who caused the mishap is not known.

HARRINGTON'S BODY TO ARRIVE TODAY.—The body of James Harrington, private of Company G, Second Oregon, killed near San Isidro, will arrive in Portland this morning at 9:15 o'clock, on the Southern Pacific train. General Summers and some of the Volunteers will meet the body at the depot and take charge of it for burial next Sunday. The arrangements for the funeral will be made during the week. The interment will be in the military plot in Riverside cemetery, where 12 other soldiers were buried a few weeks past.

WILL SHUT DOWN.—S. Pennoyer, after a long struggle, is getting his long-expected saw mill started up, notwithstanding that the terrible gold standard is still in effect. Yesterday he imparted to a friend the startling information that he had secured the necessary running all through the free-silver craze, has been shut down, and that it is not to be started again for a time, or a time and a half, or two times. The starting-up of the Pennoyer mill may have something to do with this.

BURGLARS IN A RECTORY.—Burglars entered the dwelling of Rev. G. B. Van Waters, rector of St. David's Episcopal Church, 140 East Twelfth street, some time Wednesday night, and stole a quantity of silverware, table linen and clothing. Mr. Van Waters was not at home at the time, and the house was occupied by his two sons and a Japanese servant. No noise was heard, and the first inkling of the house having been entered was in finding the back door open yesterday morning.

VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA.—Captain Robert McClelland, passing through Portland en route to Southern California, will be present at the Volunteers' meeting tonight, where he will sing and speak. The captain is a brother of Mrs. Captain Rogers, who, in conjunction with her husband, has just taken charge of the work in this city. Captain McClelland is a good speaker and singer. The public is invited to attend. The meeting will be held in their armory, 26 North Second street.

IMPOSTORS AHEAD.—Two men attired in clerical garb, representing themselves to be Catholic priests or brothers, are soliciting aid in Portland, ostensibly for charitable purposes. Archbishop Christie wishes to caution the public against them, as they are frauds. How successful these men have been in their efforts is not known, but they have not gone wholly unrewarded.

CHINESE REGISTERING.—Chinese citizens are having their names placed on the register of voters as rapidly as possible. Some 15 have already registered, and there are 10 or 15 more of these "native-born" to be heard from. One has been registered who was born in Sacramento 22 years ago, but the largest number are from 21 to 22 years of age.

PIONEER OF 1841.—Mrs. Hulda Potter, who died at Glencoe, Or., on Wednesday, resided in Portland, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. M. Williams, 245 Sixth street, during the past 10 years. Mrs. Potter was a pioneer of 1841. The remains were taken to The Dalles for burial beside others of the family.

DEATH OF MRS. LADRU ROYAL.—News was received yesterday of the death of Mrs. Ladru Royal, of several years a resident of Portland. Mrs. Royal went to Seattle to live about four years ago.

CHIMNEY FIRE.—A fire alarm from box 54, at 8 o'clock last evening, summoned the departments to Fourth and Ash streets, but there was no fire. A chimney burning out in a lodging-house, at Third and Ash, was the cause of the alarm.

FEDERATION MEETING.—A called meeting of the W. C. T. U. City Federation will be held at the Noon Rest this afternoon at 2:30. A full attendance of the various unions comprising the federation is desired.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.—The Oregon Historical Society rooms, top floor, City Hall, will be open today from 1 to 5 o'clock for the accompaniment of members and the general public.

SALSWOMAN FOR MUSH UNDERWEAR department wanted. Lipman, Wolfe & Co.

BASEBALL.—The second game of baseball in the interscholastic match for the Feidenheimer trophy will take place tomorrow between Portland Academy and Bishop Scott Academy. The game will be played on the grounds of the latter at 3 o'clock, and a good contest is looked for. The teams have not been matched against each other so far this season, but both have shown up well in practice games. The Portland High School will play the Vancouver High School this afternoon in Vancouver.

The annual meeting of the Multnomah Driving Association will be held at the rooms of C. & C. Cake, attorneys-at-law, Chamber of Commerce, Saturday evening, April 21, at 8 o'clock. Aside from routine business, the question of sprinkling the White House road this season will be considered.

SECOND WARD REPUBLICANS.—Tonight the Second Ward Republican Club will hold a meeting at 53 Glessan street, speaking and music have been provided by the executive committee. The Second Warders are in earnest, and intend to make an active campaign.

FOR ONE LAST EFFORT.

Enterprising Men Will Try to Keep White House Road in Order. The Multnomah Driving Association will hold its annual meeting tomorrow night, in the office of C. & C. Cake, in the Chamber of Commerce building, for the purpose of formulating plans for the coming season. The association is the agency for keeping up the beautiful White House drive, obtaining funds for the same by private contribution from those driving horses and other citizens who are interested in maintaining a suitable drive. During the last few years it has been possible to get enough money to employ for the sprinkling of the road, and the association feels very much discouraged. The leading volunteers believe that if the association might bet the road for one season by the time the next year came around they would have hundreds of horsemen, and horsemen as well, at their feet, begging them to take care of the road again. And this is just what these members intend doing if a sufficient amount of money cannot be easily raised.

In former years from $1500 to $2000 was usually spent on the road, and as well as being sprinkled two or three times a day the road was constantly being scraped and cleaned. It is not possible to get together, which was barely enough for sprinkling, and it was a short season at that.

The county has recently gravelled part of the road and later, it is expected, will put the road in a condition for the Driving Association to take hold of it. It costs about $300 a month for sprinkling, and as indications point toward a long, dry summer, a large sum of money will be needed for this purpose alone.

"PERPETUAL PALMS."

Hotel Portland has a lot of new interior decorations. The spacious interior office, dining-room and halls of the Hotel Portland have been decorated with numerous perpetual palms, all neatly set in ornamental vases, the young trees being as high as one's head, and the effect is very pleasing. These palms would pass for real living plants just from the Hawaiian Islands, if the attendants did not bring them out in dusting them. The trunks themselves are six inches in diameter at the base, and being wrapped in cocoanut fiber look very much like trunks of the Australian tree. Manager Bowers has secured these perpetual palms at considerable expense, as the branches had to be treated to a varnish painted by the head gardener of the Emperor of Germany.

HARRY CORSON CLARKE.

Popular Comedian in "What Happened to Jones" at the Marquam. The many friends of the ever-popular comedian, Harry Corson Clarke, will welcome him at the Marquam tonight in his greatest success, "What Happened to Jones." Mr. Clarke, who is always careful to surround himself with good people, has gathered together this season one of the strongest companies he has ever had, and will present the brilliant and splendid style. Mr. Clarke has many friends and admirers in Portland, and the advance sale at the theater shows that the house will be crowded tonight, tomorrow night and at the matinee to-morrow afternoon.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Barlow's Big Minstrels. The great Barlow white minstrels, composed of 40 artists, will appear at Cordray's theater for one week, commencing Sunday, April 22. That minstrelsy is still popular with funlovers is evident, and it is worthy of mention that while farces and melodrama come, and fall by the wayside, clean-cut minstrelsy will go on just the same; and while it has amused many in the past, it will continue to amuse a great many more, before the last bones have rattled into the dust, and the last tango has been shattered. This company is especially efficient in the comedy element, but its superiority musically has led to the organization the title of "magnificent." It contains nearly a score of excellent vocalists, many of the voices being phenomenal, while the orchestra is one of the best ever seen with a minstrel company. The feature this season are Harry Ward, the next president of minstrelsy; Coburn, a violinist, mandolin artist; Wilson and Leighton, buck and wing dancers; Charles Cartmell, comedian and singer; Newton, club expert; Bridges, king of the wheel; harmonic four singers and dancers and many others. The company will give a street parade Monday, with its two complete bands.

CROWDS AT THE DOG SHOW

CYCLOPAMA HALL WAS PACKED WITH ANIMALS ALL DAY.

Awarding of Prizes Going Forward Slowly—Many Fine Animals Exhibited.

All day yesterday and all last evening crowds of people thronged in and out of the dog show, passing in long lines before the cages of the princes of canine blood who are on parade. The pens of the prize winners are gray with the ribbons they have won, and those who themselves sit proudly behind their decorations, wearing an I-told-you-so expression that shows they knew they were going to win out when they entered.

The notice of the spectator on entering is at once attracted by the cage of a St. Bernard, a row of deep-mouthed St. Bernards, who are usually content to let one of their number express the welcome of all. A little further on is a series of Danes, while on the other side the show begins with an Italian greyhound, somewhat larger than a microbe, but not so healthy-looking. He is a nervous, bright-eyed little fellow, and he is manifestly proud of the notice he receives, for he plumes himself up with a mighty air when any one stops before his cage.

A little further on is a tiny Yorkshire terrier, nothing but a rag, a bone and a hank of hair, but a very interesting little fellow for all that, and one who is made much of by the spectators.

The hunting dogs, of which there is a large and remarkably fine assortment, occupy staterooms in the center of the hall. Among them is a mother dog, with a litter of five pups, who look and play with one another and yap at the spectators in evident ignorance of the necessity of being on their best behavior before company.
