Captain Davis Chosen.—Captain R. E. Davis, in the Adjutant-General's office, and formerly commander of Company E. Second Oregon Volunteers, was elected Lieutenant-Commander of the Oregon Battalion of the Naval Reserve yesterday. The selection of Captain Davis, who has no naval experience, was a surprise both to himself and others. He is an old Guardsman, and served in the volunteers from the time of organizing the Second Oregon until it was mustered out, includthe resignation of Lieutenant-Commander Sherman, of Astoria, who left the state for San Francisco. Several persons have been discussed as eligibles to fill the office, but thus far the division officers seem not to have decided upon any one willing to take it. This is the second vote taken. In the first, only five out of a possible ten were cast, and these were scattering. Yesterday Captain Davis received a maority, but his declination will necessitate

WAITING TILL AFTER MOVING DAY .- One hundred and twenty voters were registered yesterday, making a total of 13,339. A number of persons called who are going to move, and it will be necessary for these to come again. It is considerable trouble to change a residence, and if the elector registers before he moves he has to make another trip to have the correction made, or he can wait until he changes his residence and then register, making one job of it. Fifteen affidavits taken by notaries in country precincts were turned in yesterare not included in the figures here given. Nehrly all who called yesterday are residents of the city. Some per sons who came her under age and claim citizenship by virtue of the citizenship of their father, bring only their father's first papers as proof. This is not sufficient proof. The father must have been a full citizen at the time the son reached the age of 21 years to make the son a citizen, and the final papers of the father are and the man papers of the later and the man papers of the falled to obtain his final papers before the son became Il years old, then the son must take out citizenship papers for himself. The precincts most behind in registration are Holbrook, Reeders and Wil-lamette Slough, where there are a total of about 200 voters. Only a few have reg-

VETOED TWO ORDINANCES,-Mayor Storey has vetoed the ordinance providing for improving Madison street between the Park blocks. He gives as his reasons for so doing that this street is not a thoroughfare for any great amount of traffic, and that there are many much more traveled streets in worse condition. The improvement, if made, would have to be paid for out of the general fund, which is at rather a low ebb, and he believes if the public money is to be ex-pended for such improvements it should be expended where it would do the most good for the greatest number. He has also vetoed the ordinance authorizing the purchase of a dozen iron settees for the plaza blocks. He gives as his reasons for this action that the sidewalk on the Third screet side of the plaza blocks is in very bad condition, and has been so for a long time, and is of opinion that the public money would be better expend-ed in improving this sidewalk than in the purchase of settees, which can only be considered as luxuries. Doubtless many will agree with the Mayor on this subject, especially women pedestrians.

EX-GOVERNOR BOS TAYLOR SICK -- EX-Governor Robert L. Taylor, three times Governor of his native state, Tennessee, who has been booked for a course of lec-tures in Oregon on "The Fiddle and the Bow," arrived here last evening. He has just recovered from an attack of the grip. and the unusually miserable weather and raw wind brought on an attack of bronchitis, which has rendered it necessary for leaves this morning for Fort Worth, Tex., where his family has been spending the Winter. All over the South, Governor Taylor is known as "Our Bob" and the Governor Brooklyn, N. Y., banker, to be served at cancel all dates on the Coast. He Taylor is known as "Our Bob," and is a general favorite with all classes. The title to his lecture is really a misnomer, as it is a masterpiece of word-painting, a poem from beginning to end, and would better be styled "Love, Laughter and Song." Governor Taylor is very favorably im-pressed with this Coast, and says he will return next year and bring his family with him here to spend the Winter.

SUPPOSED STOLEN SILVERWARE - A oung man giving the name of Harry farion was arrested yesterday in the act of trying to sell sliverware to a second-hand dealer. He represented the stuff as being imitation, and offered to sell it very cheap, but the dealer at once pronounced it the solid silver itself. Marion was taken to the police station, and questioned closely, but gave the police no satisfaction in regard to where he had obtained the valuable ware. A heavy teapot, set of spoons, and a number of napkin rings were upon his person when arrested. The articles are being held for identification by the Chief of Police, who is also looking up Marion's record. The only silver plate was that of Rev. G. B. Van Waters, on East Twelfth street, last week, but this plate, the police think, may have been stolen in some other city and brought here

APRIL WEATHER. - Portland enfoyed more weather and more kinds of weather re sudden changes in less time than any day since the storm of January 9, 1880. Within the city limits there was snow, hall, rain and sunshine. There were minutes when the mercury dropped to 40, and these were succeeded by intervals of almost Summer warmth and brightness. There were times of very strong wind, and others of absolute stillness. What was remarkable was the suddenness with which rain ceased and the equal sudden-ness with which it came after intervals of sunshine. Whether fruit was seriously injured is not known

CRILD SCALDED TO DEATH.-Lydia, the 6-year-old daughter of Rev. Fung Chak, died at her home, 269 Ankeny street, yes-terday morning, from the effects of a severe scalding last Monday morning. She land been playing about the kitchen and accidentally fell into a boiler of hot water. The child's father is pastor of the Chinese Baptist Mission, in this city, and the fu-neral will be conducted under supervision of Rev. Dr. Blackburn. The interment will take place today at Lone Fir.

ARRESTED FOR POCKET-PICKING .- Grace Williams and Ida Harris, two colored women, were arrested last evening for robbing L. C. Seed, a Salem hostler, and William Jacobs, a Swedish sailor, of $55 and $80, respectively. The men had visited the cribs of the women in the North End and allege that while there they had their pockets picked of the amounts in gold.

South Portland W. C. T. U.—The regular meeting of the South Portland W. C. T. U. will be held this afternoon at the Immanuel Baptist Church, corner Meade and Second streets, at 3 o'clock. The union has been holding cottage prayer meetings during the week. The meeting on Friday will be at the home of Mrs.

Hale, on First street. DEATH OF THOMAS POPE.-George A. Steel has received a telegram from Quincy, Ill., announcing the death of Thomas Pope at that place. Mr. Pope was a ploneer of Oregon, having come to the territory in the time of Governor Abernethy, and resided here for some years. He and his brother, Charles Pope, were well known

A number of new songs, and many local hits, which were introduced for their benefit kept them applauding all the evening, and at the close of the performance a magnificent tableaux, arranged by Managers Cordray and Ward, was received with tremend applause. A deep forest scene was shown by moonlight, and among the trees sev-eral large and handsome elk were seen moving about, with all the appearance of life. The letters B. P. O. E., were woven in evergreen across thecenter of the stage. The tableau was a most beautiful one, and will be remembered by the Elks who saw it for many a long day.

> WANTS DAMAGES FROM THE CITY .-George H. Himes has filed a communica-tion for presentation to the Common Council, asking that the city pay him $200 on account of injuries to his horse and buggy, inflicted by a runaway team of one of the city sprinkling wagons. He states that his horse and buggy were hitched on Morrison street, near Fourth, when the runaway team ran into them with great force, practically ruining the buggy, a new one, and injuring his horse considerably He asks for damages to the extent of new buggy, the cost of veterinary treat-ment for his horse, and for loss of the use of his "rig," amounting to $200, and sug-gests the advisability of the matter being settled without his having to resort to legal proceedings.

REFUSES TO BE REMOVED .- H. C. Herren wanted in Portland for having issued sev eral bogus checks, has been arrested in Tacoma, but does not want to come. His counsel has instituted habeas corpus pro-ceedings to prevent Detective Cordano bringing him hither, and the case will be decided in Tacoma today. The Imperial Hotel holds $61 of Herren's checks, which it would gladly see cashed; the St. Charles Hotel has a piece of his dishonored paper; Moore, a saloon-keeper, has $20; G. I. Thompson, of the Hotel Perkins, has $8.50, and the elevator boy at the Perkins is out $5 on the same kind of an invest-ment. Herren, it is said, belongs in Moscow, Idaho. MAT BE TRIED FOR MANSLAUGHTER-Whether Dr. Paul Cromwell will be trie on a charge of manslaughter or not, is known only to Justice Kraemer, who has had the case under adent since the arguments heard in his court yesterday morning. Cromwell's counsel contended that the verdict of the jury in the Olaf Berg in quest does not accuse any one of man slaughter, nor even charge that such a crime was committed. If Justice Kraemer considers the grounds sufficient, the case will come up for preliminary hearing Fri-day, May 4. The charge against Cromwell of practicing medicine without a license will be investigated Friday, April 27. MEETING OPENED

ANNUAL CHAMPIONSHIP CONTESTS BEGUN.

Waverly Club Extends Hospitalities to Visitors from the North-The Preliminary Events.

This is golfers' week in Portland. The second annual championship meeting of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association began yesterday morning at the links of the Waverly Golf Club. The meeting will continue throughout the week, and all of the people of this city with a drop of golf blood in their veins have arranged to take a day off and witness some of the contests. The opening attendance was large, and proved conclusively that considerable in-terest is taken in the game in this city. In addition to the crowd of local players and spectators in attendance, a number of visitors from neighboring cities were on the grounds. Most of these came prepared to enter the contests that are booked for

The wind was strong, and at times biting cold, but the players faced it like heroes. grounds were in excellent shape, and all of the players remarked upon the splendid condition of the course. Cold showers of rain fell at intervals throughout the af-ternoon, with now and then a bit of hall but the true golfer never stops for wind or weather. When the sun shone out between showers, it seemed to lend enthu-siasm to the players. When the freezing wind and rain came again, each player drew his cloak about him and patiently waited his turn.

Inside the clubhouse fires were burning and those not engaged in play often sought the interior of the building. The decorations were charming, and the rooms were in marked contrast to the breezy gr outside. Dogwood, illacs, broom, wild iris, stocks and columbine had been wild iris, stocks and columnine had been tastefully placed about the rooms, giving them the appearance of a flower garder in Spring, while heaping log fires were ablaze. But with all this, the greater at tractions were outside, where the contests were going on, and had the day been from clouds and rain, few would have tarried long inside the building

Opening Contests. The first contest was the men's ope championship of the Northwest. There were 26 entries, and the playing from the first was spirited. Many brilliant plays were recorded during this hour.

At 10:30 the ladies' open championship began, with 22 entries, and was equally as interesting as that of the men. The contest between several of the players was sharp throughout, and was watched with keenest interest by the spectators and especially by the men, who had just Afternoon Work.

At noon a delicious lunch was served in the dining-rooms of the clubhouse by the steward of the Arlington Club.

At 1 o'clock the men's driving contest began. There were 22 entries, comprising the majority of the best players in attend ance. Some exceptionally fine work was done in this contest. Goldfinch, the British Columbia champion, won out with a 218-yard drive, and a general average of 139. R. Macleay, of Portland, was second, with a 20t-yard drive, and average of 195. There was a strong wind blowing at the time, which aided some of the players, while it helped to cut down the aver-

Following the driving contest came the men's and women's approaching contest. This was won by R. Madeay, of Portland, who holed out 40 yards in one shot. Captain Harry Taylor, of Seattle, made Putting Contest.

The putting contest began at 19 in the morning and finished at 5 in the afternoon. This was perhaps the most closely con-tested game of the day. It was won by Charles E. Ladd, with a score of 16 out of a possible 20. J. C. Williams and T. Kerr tied for second place, with a score of 14 each. Nearly all of the players took a hand in this contest, and at times the plays were exceedingly pretty.

New Players Developed. A number of new players have developed among the members of the Waverly Club since the meeting in Tacoma last year. These are being watched with especial interest, and one or two local players
