

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Amusements Tonight. COBDRAY'S THEATER (Washington st.)—"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

NO SALE FOR HOME-MADE BUTTER.—Butter has been dear all the Spring, but now is cheap enough and there is no sale for any except the best quality. This is discouraging to the dairymen and the farmers, who keep up the old style of making butter "by hand."

WORK ON LOGGING RAILROAD.—The Deep River Logging Company, which is composed of S. Benson, Everding & Farwell, A. Olson and J. Olson, has commenced work on the construction of a railroad to their property on Deep River, and will be ready to begin hauling out logs in about 60 days.

TRAVELING MEN SAVE FURNITURE.—Fire broke out in the two-story dwelling of Mrs. Charles Freedner, 79 Market-street, yesterday afternoon, at 5:30, and before the firemen could get to the place the building was destroyed. Two commercial men, Frank Adams and C. W. Colby, who were passing at the time, rushed in and by their heroic actions saved a large quantity of Mrs. Freedner's furniture.

SUNDAY FIRE DRILLS.—Fire drill Sunday morning caused a great deal of excitement in the neighborhood of the practice to look around them for a conflagration, as the members of the department rush around with all the hurry displayed at a genuine blaze. Each block of the city has a Sunday morning to itself, so that too many companies may not be absent at once, in case of an emergency.

NEW QUESTION IN POLITICS.—The social fabric of Sellwood was shaken to its foundations last Summer by the cow question, the population being pretty evenly divided on the question as to whether cows should roam at will through the city or not. The trouble got into the Council, and the numerous delegations of both men and women who came down to the city hall to present their views were very noisy.

PLUMS FOR OREGON BOYS.—Political plums have fallen to the lot of two Corvallis boys, in the shape of clerkships in the census office at Washington. Burnet and H. Allen are the lucky ones. The former is well known in Portland, having for a number of years been one of the best men on the track team of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club. Mr. Allen, who is a brother of A. W. Allen, the Portland druggist, also has a host of acquaintances in the city, who will be glad to hear of his appointment.

WILL MAKE NO NOMINATIONS.—The Social Democrats, after a hot and stormy session last night, decided not to place any names in nomination for the coming election. There was a fair attendance at the branch meeting in the G. A. R. Hall, but the "no ticket" people won by a large majority. The meeting was opened promptly at 7 o'clock, and each member looked suspiciously at his neighbor as charges and counter charges were hurled through the air.

REPAIRING ELECTRIC SPRINKLER.—The electric sprinkler, for the use of which on the streets on which the City & Suburban Railway Company and the Portland Traction Company operate, has been repaired. The sprinkler was broken by a fire on Jefferson street, near Seventeenth, and expect 75 members to sign the roll at their first meeting yesterday. A reception exhibition will be given at the P. C. Congregational Church tonight, the subject being "The Two Princes." Admission will be free.

ARE YOU HUNGRY? If so, U. need a meal U can finish up with a dish of strawberries, with cream, or shortcake with cream for $5c. U. the Creamery, 737 Washington street.

CHICKENS GETTING CHEAP

Commanded a high price all Winter and Spring, but now the chickens are declining and there is a prospect that it will get so low that almost anybody can feast on fried chicken. This calculation is based on the fact that some 125 incubators have been ordered for the Willamette Valley during the past Winter. And it is natural to suppose that a vast amount of incubating has been done since the first of the season. And so the probability is that the price of chickens will get down to bedrock for a while. There is not much danger of the market being overstocked with "Spring chickens" early in the Spring, but the natural season for such fowls, when any old hen or cheap incubator can turn them out by the score, the supply is bound to exceed the demand. As the price goes down the demand increases in proportion, and so the chickens are not thrown away, but people who expect high prices for chickens must have them to sell when they are scarce. In this state, where the mild climate ought to make it easy for farmers to raise chickens and eggs cheaply, there is a strong tendency for both to be sold at extravagant prices a great part of the year.

EFFECTS OF POISON OAK.—Alfred Anderson, who has been suffering from a bad case of poison oak poisoning, is able to see the danger. The swelling of his face having subsided, he is now able to get his eyes open. He lives in Albina, and on his way to the cars follows a path across a vacant block, on which there is a large quantity of poison oak. He says he knows the plant and he never touched it and did not go within 40 feet of it, but it got there just the same, and he got a beautiful dose of it. Some persons who do not know the plant are harmed, while if others get within eight feet of it they are poisoned. Whenever it grows in the neighborhood of residences or passways it ought to be exterminated, but those who do not know it do not object to it and those who are poisoned by coming near it are not likely to undertake its extermination.

GOOD SHOOTING AT THE TRAPS.—The regular trap line, which has been in place yesterday and Saturday. CHURCH CORNER-STONE LAID.

An eloquent sermon by Rev. H. W. Kellogg on the East Side.

The corner-stone of the Swedish Methodist Church, on Bech and Borthwick streets, Albina, was laid yesterday afternoon, between the showers, with appropriate services. Rev. H. W. Kellogg, of the Taylor-Street Church, assisted by Rev. A. L. Hawley, of Trinity Methodist Church, conducted the exercises.

There was a considerable gathering of people around the corner where the stone was laid. The stone is a block of granite. Dr. Kellogg read the ritualistic ceremony with the pastor, the Rev. H. W. Kellogg, and delivered an address of great power and eloquence; in which he held that man is above creeds, systems of church or creed, and that the important thing is the salvation of the soul. He declared that men need not be alarmed for the reason that creeds and forms are being flung aside and that conditions are changing under the light of modern criticism.
