urrects, under the auspices of Liberty Hose Company. It seemed that the chair-man had given forth the idea to straight Republicans that it was a straight Re-publican meeting, and the same assurance to some independents that they were to have right of way. The result was some apritted addresses by conflicting candi-dates and apenders, which, however, did not materialize into anything more se-rious. Both H. S. Rowe and Mayor Storey were invited to be present, but the latter only responded. Captain C. E. Mc-Donell, Republican candidate for Asses-sor, and Captain R. S. Greenleaf, Inde-

Captain Greenless was the next speaker. He devoted much of his time to an effort to belittle his opponent, Captain McDonell, whom he accumed was heapable of learning the duties of the Assessor's bie of learning the duties of the Assessor's coffice. The speaker also said Captain McDonell had done little as a solider.

This remark brought to his feet a former private in Company G, Second Oregon, Jess D. Bollam, who vehemently protested against any siurs on Captain McDonell's record. The saddier called attention to the unsurpassed faithfulness with which Captain McDonell always labored for his men, and the universal popularity for his men, and the universal popularity he enjoyed at all times throughout the regiment, as well as his own company. Captain McDonell then took the floor to answer some of the charges of the in-dependent opponent. He wanted to know if Cantain Greenied thought now that Mayor Storey started the ball with a characteristic address that was not complimentary in every respect to the straight theket. Naturally, supporters of the straight theket felt that the gruntlet had been thrown down, and they sailed in. Deputy City Atterney W. M. Davis followed in a manner that fold heavily on the independents. He hundled them without gloves, and was warming up to his work like a trained athlete, when Captain Greenleaf Interrupted with something about his being an independent. This did not change the tone of Davis arraignment, who thought independents were in poor business when they sought Republican meetings to get themselves before the public. At this juncture the chair had been invited, which, of course, entitled them to the courtesies of the meeting. Captain Greenleaf was the next speak-

BIG OPEN-AIR MEETING. Third Ward Republicans Will Be Out Saturday Night.

The Third Ward Republicans last night The Third Ward Republicans last night elected the following new officers?

President, S. C. Spencer; sice-president, Dr. H. F. McKay; secretary, W. W. Bank; treasurer, B. B. Rosenthal. The executive committee is composed of the four officers named and Otto Winfelder. The club will hold the first open-air meeting of the campaign Saturday night at the corner of Sixth and Stark streets. There will be fine music including a McDenell, and wanted to know if he would own up to giving expression to them, to which there was an affirmative reply. In the whole affair it was plain that the audience, probably numbering 50, was with Captain McDonell, for he was loudly cheered at every point. His defense by a private soldier from a company not his own was considered an excellent refutation of the insinuations believe made against him. WITH MODERN CANNON. Light Battery A Will Soon Be Properly Equipped.

A package containing 30 rounds A package containing a found of shrapnel was received by Adjutant-General Gantenbein yesterday, which is the preliminary shipment of the new battery equipment ordered some time ago. General Gantenbein also received a communication stating that the two field pieces had been shipped, together with the cals-sons, limbers, harness and other articles sons, imports, narness and constraints included in the battery requisition. The guns will be here in a day or two. They were sent from the Watervleit arsenal, in New York, where the 3.2-inch gun now used by the Army is stored. From Rock Island arsenal were sent two carriages with limbers, two calesons and limbers, two wheel harness and two lead harness. From the Frankfort arsenal, in Pennsyl-From the Frankfort arsenat, in Pennsylvania, were sent the 20 rounds of shrapnel, weighing 13% pounds each, all filled and fused. A few other shells will also arrive with the remainder of the outfit. Receipt of the fine new field pieces will be a great event in Light Battery A. For years the members of the battery have worked with nothing but the two brass Napoleons and two Gatlings. The Napoleons are both muzzle-loaders, the drill for which is quite different from handling modern breech-loaders. It is a common impression among military men that Battery A would have been taken to the tery A would have been taken to the Philippines, perhaps with the Second Ore-gon, if it had only been provided with gon, if it had only been provided with modern guns and equipment. This fact will greatly stimulate intending artiller-ists to join Light Battery A after the or-ganization is raised to the level of the best in the country. The "doughboyn," who still drill with the antiquated Spring-fields, will entertain a much higher con-sideration for the battery when they be-ets handling shrappel.
