THIRD WARD REPUBLICANS ON SIXTH AND STARK.

Music and Spenkers in the Open Air-Lively Time in Sixth Ward-Political Notes.

The Third Ward Republican Club will The Third Ward Republican Club will hold an open-air meeting this evening at the correr of Sixth and Stark streets, where a platform has been erected for speakers. This is the first big meeting of this club, and Colonel S. C. Spencer, president, looks to see every Republican in the city present. Music will be furnished by a first-class band, and the become quartet will for the sheding. Jregon quartet will do the singing. All the Republican candidates in the city have been invited by letter, and seats on the platform will be reserved for them. Among the speakers are: J. M. #### SIXTH WARD REPUBLICANS. Wallace McCamant and Others Address Big Meeting.

Another big meeting was held by the Sixth Ward stepublicans last evening at their hall, corner of First and Sheridan streets. George W. Stapieton was the first apeaker, and made a short address, which was well received. Wallace McCamant, the principal speaker of the evening, heid the attention of the audience for an hour on the subject of expansion and other National issues. He also paid his addresses to the independent candidates, "who represent no platform but their own selfish interests," and he answered the slurs cast upon Captain McDonell by R.

S. Greenical, the evening previous.
C. W. Gray, candidate for Representa-tive, followed Mr. McCamant, and gave an able discussion of the duties of a leg-

Roosevelt Club Goes Back on Its Promises.

The disaffection of the Roosevelt Club of the Eighth Ward of the East Side, has caused considerable comment in political circles, in view of the assurances given by President T. M. Edmunds, chief clerk of the Southern Pacific carshops, and the members of the organization, that it intended to stand for the straight Repub-lican ticket from top to bottom. It was organized some time before the primaries for the purpose, it was stated by Edfor the purpose, it was stated by Edmunds, of promoting harmony in the Eighth Ward. He asked for recognition in the councils of the Republican organization, and on assurances from him and the members of the club that they would prove loyal they were given full recognition with the Llysses S. Grant and the Sellwood Republican Clubs. In fact, before the primarios the organization was given more recognition than either of the given more recognition than either of the other clubs.

Conference committeds from the Grant and Roosevelt Clubs met and formulated an arrement as to the method of electing delegates and setting all differences that then existed. An agreement was drawn by R. E. Sewall, one of the Grant Club representatives, in which all present pledged their support to the primary ticket to be selected. It was further record as that time them. ent pledged their support to the primary ticket to be selected. It was further agreed at that time that all diffgrences should be adjusted by this committee should any arise. The agreement was unsalmously adopted, and the minutes adopted and placed in the possession of Cheorge Whittenden, a well-known resident, and it was then supposed that all difference in the ward was settled and that the batchet that had been wielded for that the hatchet that had been wielded for that the hatchet that had been wielded for so many years had been finally buried.

On this presumption the U. S. Grant and Selwood Republican Clubs worked with the Rossevett Club through the primary election, and there was but the one thoket, selected from all three clubs.
T. M. Edmunds was elected with the others, and went to the conventions.
All was accrete, and up to the meetwas serene, and up to the meeting held in Gruner's Hall the U. S. Grant and Sellwood Clubs were led to believe from the assurances repeatedly given by President Edmunds and the members of the Rocseveit Club, that they would prove loyal to their promises. On that occasion the statement made

BIG MEETING TONIGHT by Mr. Edmunds from the platform that the club would not support the entire Republican ticket was heard with annaly all who knew of the promises he had so often made. They could hardly believe that the organization would break away, but the statement was clearly made by President Edmunds and was heard by the large audience. He now says that he was authorized by the executive committee to make that statement and to invite the Independents to speak from the platform. It is known that he is supporting Storey and about all the Independents.

It may be said that Edmunds' record in politics in the Eighth Ward has been shifty. It is stated on good authority that six years ago he was a democrat, and that since then he has been on every side of the political fence. There are some who doubt whether he knows when he goes to bed at night what his political convictions will be in the morning, and his opinions cut no figure whatever, Socially and otherwise he is a good citi-zen, but he is fearfully and wonderfully mixed when it comes to politics. The club is now clear outside the Republican cinb is now clear outside the Republican ranks. It pretends to support certain men, but it is seeking to defeat Henry S. Rowe for Mayor, W. B. Chane for City Engineer, Captain McDonell for Assessor, Scott Brook for City Treasurer, and some of the other regular Republican candidates. There are some good Republicans in the club, who have been deceived, and who are filled with disgust. They cannot regard with any degree of patience the public violation of pledges, and it is not believed that the organization will succeed to any considerable extent in treacherously knifing these leading regular Republican candidates in the Eighth Ward. publican candidates in the Eighth Ward. It is now believed that the club was started in the first place to split up the Republicans of the Eighth Ward, and that President Edmunds is only acting a part assigned to him; but it will fall. The whole scheme has been exposed. The club is shorn of its power. It is done up. It is finished. There is not a single Republican speaker of prominence in the city who will address an audience under its auspices. publican candidates in the Eighth Ward.

D. Solis Cohen at Sunnyside. D. Soils Cohen will speak before the Sunnyside Republican Club this evening, which is under the direction of President will take place in Hunter's Hall, corner of East Thirty-fourth and Belmont streets. The time is 8 o'clock.

FAIR RUN OF SALMON. Commissioner Reed Talks of Fish-

pound by the cold-storage people since the first of the week, and are making good wages below the Cascadea. There are not so many men engaged in fishing as last year, only 550 gillnet liceuses having been year, only 560 gillnet licenses having been issued in the district, against 800 in 1899.
The men are not to be had," Mr. Reed said, yesterday, "as there is an unusual demand for laborers all over the country, and they drift into other occupations. The same falling off in the number of fishermen is noticeable on the Washington side of the river,"

Mr. Reed is a firm believer in the benefits of propagation, even though the re-

Mr. Reed is a firm believer in the benefits of propagation, even though the results may not be so apparent this year. "Our fishermen have been catching every maimon that has come into the river for the past few years," said he, "and therefore all the fish being caught now are a product of the hatcheries. If it were not for artificial propagation, the Columbia River would now be entirely devoid of salmon."

"How can the cold-storage people afford to pay so much for saimon?"
"They have a good market in the East, as the fish retails for 25 cents a pound. as the fish retails for 25 cents a pound. The canneries also have an excellent market, as there was a shortage last year. The price looks big to a person who can remember when a good-sized salmon brought the fisherman only 20 cents, while now the same weight of fish would bring him $5 50. Portland consumers may also think the retail price of salmon has taken it out of their reach, but they have been used to cheap fish, while the consumers of the Eeastern cities have always considered salmon a delicacy and have been obliged to pay well for it." .

Multnomah Driving Association Ad-

The Multnomah Driving Association and the Oregon Humane Society have called the attention of the Chief of Police to an ordinance, the rigorous enforcement of which will greatly benefit the horses of the city. The communications are as follows:

"Portland, Or., May 4, 1500.—D. M. Mc-Laughlan, Chief of Police. Dear Sir: The undersigned were, at the annual meeting of the Multnomah Driving Association, appointed a committee to call your attention to certain violations of the city ordinances, relating to casting rubbish in the streets, and to assist as far as we could in enforcing the ordinances relating thereto. Section 9 of Ordinance No. 2663 provides as follows:

Sec. 3. Any person who shall throw or de-posit in any street, sidewalk or footpath of the City of Portland any broken glass, bottles, mails, or any substance whatever, whereby the nalls, or any substance whatever, whereby the feet of horses, pedestrians or any beast of bur-den may be injured; or throw or deposit or sweep into or upon any street, sidewalk or footpath of the City of Fortland any paper, or other substance whatever, except snow and the dirt resulting from travel, shall, upon convic-tion in the Police Court, be fined not less than $5 nor more than $50. more than $50.

The Rev. W. G. Puddefoot, of Boston, is called the John B. Gough of the Congregational ministry. He is undoubtedly the most popular platform speaker in that denomination, and one of the most entertaining speakers that have graced the platform during the last half century. He is on his way to the Pacific Coast Congregational Congress, which is to be held in San Francisco. He will spend Sunday in Portland, and will speak at the First Congregational Church in the morning at 19:30. His wit and brilliancy is both consecrated and irresistible, and the citizens of Portland are to be congratulated in having this opporsity to hear him. He is a minister who believes that "laughing is as religious as crying,

Promoters Arranging for a Mass

Meeting at the Marquam, Tuesday Evening.

The early closing movement has embraced Saturday in its provisions, and the promoters are arranging for a mass meeting to be held at the Marquam Grand Theater Tuesday evening, May 15. The Woman's Club is co-operating with the Six O'clock Early Closing Association, and this meeting will be held under its auppices. The first-named association is out in a circular which reads:

pices. The first-named association is out in a circular which reads;

"To the women of Portland and Vicinity: To you as purchasers of wearing apparel and household supplies the following is respectfully submitted:

"In the retail stores, shops and markets of Portland, more than 3000 people are constantly employed, and in order that you may be well served, their duties are arduous and exacting. So much so that when the whistles of factories and mills have announced the close of a physically natural business day, they are not only wearled with their toil, and anxious for a few hours with their families, but need the physical and mental recuperation to be had in no other way.

'This large body of workers is an intelligent, uncomplaining class, but hon-telligent, uncomplaining class, but hon-estly believe that the time has arrived when the business hours of Portland can be changed from those of the village to the more humane and dignified hours of the city, without inconvenience to the public, and certainly with great mental, physical and social profit to themselves. "Employers and employed are alike interested in this movement, and by your consent this important change will be

and of so much consequence to the worker and his family is the length of his business day, that our Government long ago fixed the limit of a day's work for its postal employes, and added a penalty for its violation. The great public, seeing the advantages of so wise and just a measure, quickly adjusted itself to the condi-tion under which this great system is still conducted. Hence we deduge that, if our postal system (the greatest business in the world) is carried on in a satisfactory and successful manner with its fixed num-ber of hours, other lines of business can be as successfully conducted within the same humane limitations.

"In view of the existing conditions, an organization has been formed for the pur-pose of enlisting your co-operation in closing the retail business day at a o'clock, every day in the week. "In order to successfully carry out this plan, you are asked to make your pur-chases within the hours prescribed for those in the Government service; or in other words, conclude them by the hour of 6 in the evening. "The narrow alms and selfish purposes "The narrow aims and selfah purposes of some dealers will not permit them to unite with the majority in establishing this much-needed reform, and in order that such may not profit by their stubborn and unreasoning resistance, it is hoped that a sufficient number of Portland's 'charitably inclined' will refuse to make purchases after 6 o'clock, so that losses hours will be unreaffable to the longer hours will be unprofitable to the merchant with primitive ideas, and he be brought early to realize that the 'car of progress' will move along, even without

"His family, and the families of his employes, will repay you in gratitude for the assistance so kindly given, and instead of several thousand weary workers, includ-ing many young girls and boys, going to their homes at an hour too late for any change but sleep, there will be a grateful army of thrifty, industrious people going to their homes at an early hour, and adapting themselves to the afforded recreation; or, if it be on Saturday night, the needed rest after a week of toil, and in preparation for the religious observa-tion of their one day in the week.

'Then there are personal reasons why you should encourage this movement. One is that there may be members of your own household whom you would like to see released from their labors at an earlier hour; another is, you have no assurance that there will not be a time when some one in whom you are directly interested will be identified with the 'retail circle' of our city. Still another, the duty you owe to society, your church, and duty you owe to society, your church, and the great commonwealth of which you are a member, demands your co-operation in this matter of gravest importance to soci-ety, and of still greater importance to
