Socialist Labor party nominces for State Senators-Frank M. Thompson, J. J. Sugarman, Charles Fertig, W. N. Robin-

The Socialist Labor party of Multnomah lounty has noministed four State Sena-ors and entered in the political arena for-the coming June election.

Section Portland held a county convention in the A. O. U. W. building, and reed their resolution not to put up a considered their resultant to be taket. It seems that the section here were about to place a full county and city ticket in the field at their semi-monthly meeting, two weeks ago, when they read the public statement of the Social Democrats in The Oregonian. As the chair beamorans in the two socialistic objects and aims of the two socialistic parties are about the same, although they do not affiliate and are not connected in any way, the members of the Socialist Labor party proposed hearily to support the nominees of the Social Democratic party, instead of nominating a ticket of their own. It seems that for some strange and retreated from their socialistic duty by not placing their ticket before the Section Portland of the Socialist Labor section Fortiand of the Socials party were very wroth at this action, and calmed that the leaders of the Social Democracy were secretly aiding the Culsens and Democratic movement by not condinating a ticket, as these parties could be injured by the heavy vote the social Democrats would poil. Section Portland then started in where Section Portiand their started in water they left off two weeks ago, to nominate a full ticket. The time being so short, the members took the view of W. N. Robin-son, who suggested that the party sim-ply nominate four State Senators and conntrate all their strength on these four candidates in order to secure the 2 per cent vote that would entitle the Socialist Labor party to an official standing on the ballot at the November election.

This idea met with general approval, but another difficulty presented itself in the way of eccuring candidates, as many of the members declined the nominations for fear of lowing their positions and various other records. ous other reasons.

considerable urging, Robinson, Fertig, Sugarman and Thompson consent-ed to sacrifice themselves on the altar of socialistic principles. Petitions for nomi-nations were then drawn up, and the number of signatures secured, which, together with the candidates' acceptances, were filed with Clerk of the County Court

The Senatorial nominees are strong So cialists. Frank M. Thompson is a painter by trade, and has resided in Portland for a number of years. He has been energetic in building up the socialist propaganda in Multnomah County, and is a prominent member of the Painters' and Decorators'

Charles Fertig is a clerk and has spent many years in the ranks of the Socialist Labor party in New York City, and on his arrival in Fortiand joined the local sec-of the Populist party in Oregon and helped to organize it, but when it fused with the Pennoyerites and Democrats he left it and entered into the ranke of the Socialist Labor party. His economic ar-ticles in the Appeal to Reason, Coming Nation and the People have received favorable mention from the Socialists.

my in Looking Policeward, it is the only solution for the wage-carner.

It is estimated by the members that the candidates will poll over 1500 votes. The Populists, Democrate, trade unionists, Social Democrats, allverites and other earnest sympathizers of the movement

ay swell it over that number. Section Portland is duly chartered by tenry Kuhn, rational secretary of the ocialist Labor party, and is duly authorized to do business. FRUITFUL CAMAS PRAIRIE

A. F. PARKER SPEAKS OF IDAHO COUNTY'S PROSPERITY.

Rich Region Awaiting the Advent of a Railroad-Naturally Tributary to Portland.

Hon. A. F. Parker, the well-known Idaho journalist, is in the city with his wife guests of the Imperial, and gave The Oregonian much information of interest concerning the growth of the section of Idaho in which be has for so many years Idaho in which he has for so many years been a resident and public-spirited citizen. Mr. Parker is the proprietor of the Free Press, which he has published at Grangeville, in Idaho County, for the past 15 years. This county has the distinction of being the largest county in the state and one of the largest in the United States, its surface area heing larger than that of the entire States of Massachuchusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Hampshire combined. It extends from the Oregon boundary on the west to Montana on the east, and is just as long as it is broad. Its present population is about 10,000, with 200 school children and a total vote in 1826 of 7448.

Idaho County embraces the largest un-about 10,000, with 2008 school children and a total vote in 1808 of 7448.

Idaho County embraces the largest unexplored area in the Northwest and offers exceptional inducements to immigrants, prospectors and fortune-seekers generally. The great Camas Prairie, where Mr. Parker is located, is the largest and best body of agricultural land in all Idaho, and is rapidly settling up with a thrifty class of immigration. This prairie lies on the low divide between the Salmon and Clearwater Rivers, & miles southeast of Lewiston. The opening of the Nex Percess Indian reservation to white settlement has added largely to its population and practically doubled the extent of its productive area. Taking advantage of its opportunity, the Northern Pacific Railroad Company has constructed a branch line, known as the Clearwater Short Line, from Lewiston, following the canyon of the Clearwater River to Stuart, 22 miles north of Grangeville, and last week it filed in the Learwater Rever to Stuarts canyon of the Clearwater River to Stu-art, 22 miles north of Grangeville, and last week it filed in the Lewiston land office plats of its survey for a further exten-sion from Stuart to Grangeville. The company, by the terms of its truce with the O. R. & N. system, is prohibited from further construction until August next, when it is confidently expected that the extension to Grangeville will be complet-of. The people of that section have waited ed. The people of that section have waited long and patiently for railroad transportation, and now that it is practically assured, they are naturally jubilant, as access to the markets of the world will world will be a stocked to the section of t vastly stimulate the productive capacity of that fertile section Mr. Parker is intimately acquainted with the resources of the Northwest, and expresses himself to the effect that, notwith the resources of the Northwest, and expresses himself to the effect that, not-withstanding its present is cation, no other locality offers more or better inducements to homseekers than this great Clearwater Basin. On account of the large extent of unoccupied Government agricultural lands and the opening of the contiguous Indian reservation, the price of improved farm lands is remarkably low, and the newcomer with small means will find it the best and most economical plan to purchase a home from those who have used their rights for speculative purposes. Many desirable farms in choice locations can thus be hought, together with the improvements thereon, for very little money. The climate is good, the temperature being materially modified by the warm air rising from the great river canyons which enclose it, while the warm breath of the never-falling chinook cause the open Winters, which makes it such an unercelled cattle-raising country. The past Winter was exceptionally mild, and the vast herds of cattle, which constitute a very considerable part of the taxable property of the county, came through it without feed and without the loss of a a very considerable part of the taxable property of the county, came through it without feed and without the loss of a single head. The principal industries are stockraising, farming and mining. Its society is good, the people being intelligent, orderly, hospitable to a fault and law-abiding in the extreme. A complete system of school and road districts is in operation, and the other refinements of civilization are being rapidly introduced, so that newcomers are no longer compelled. so that newcomers are no longer compelled to undergo the hardships and vicissitudes which have heretofore failen to the lot of the pioneer. With cheap lands, a cli-mate unsurpassed for healthfulness, Winmate unsurpassed for healthfumes, whiters short and mild and a uniform excellence of soil capable of growing an abundance of all the products of the farm and garden, abundance of timber, plenty of running water and never-failing springs and a background of undeveloped mineral and a background of undeveloped mineral wealth for future development, and affording a cash market for its surplus products. Camas Prairie is certainly worth the attention of those seeking homes in the great undeveloped interior of the Clearwater Basin, now on the eve of its expansion and development.

Stockraising and farming are the principal industries every farmer having

Stockraising and tarming are the prin-cipal industries, every farmer having more or less of horses and cattle which run on the range the year round without feed. The native grasses grow luxuri-antly, and cattle thrive upon them, while the bunchgrass of the adjacent canyons is reserved for Winter pasturage. The soil is wonderfully fertile, producing 1½ tons of timothy per acre on fields where the seed is simply scratched in with a harrow 30 years ago, while in the way of cereals 30 years ago, while in the way of cereals fabulous yields of wheat, oats, flax and barley have been produced year after year. All kinds of fruit thrive there, and the outlook this year is for the most abundant harvest of everything ever

Rich Mines.

Concerning the mining districts of Idah County, Mr. Parker is equally enthusias tic. In the past few years the old placer camps of Florence, Warrens and Elk City have taken on a renewed lease of life, through the introduction of dredges, hydraulic elevators and other improved modern methods, which have largely increased the gold preduction of the county. In quartz mining, too, there has been phenomenal development, and the quartz mines of old Florence, Warrens, Elk City, Dixle and, last but not least, Buf. mines of old Florence. Warrens, Elk City, Dixle and, last but not least, Buffalo Hump, will in the near future make this great country one of the largest gold-producers on the Coast. The recent sale of the Big Buffalo mine, on Buffalo Hump, to Charles Sweeney, of Spokane, for a cash consideration of $155,000 for the one-half interest not in litigation, has opened the eren of investors in mines anew to the fact that Idaho County is a big county, full of big things, and the result has been a large influx of mining men from cutside mining centers, who are already accomplishing great results. A good deal of development work has been carried on all Winter in Buffalo Hump, notably the Boston-Buffalo-Idaho Company, a Boston corporation, which owns extensive holdings in that camp, and which promises to become one of the great mining corporations of the West. Boston capitalists own this concern, and there seems no reason to doubt that they will soon succeed in making as great a success of their gold-mining operations as they have made in the past in the copper fields of Montana and Michigan.

"I have dwelt," continued Mr. Parker, "upon this section at such length because Portland, more than any other town or section in the Northwest, is vitally interested in its development upon natural lines, From far off in Dixie, Elk City, Florence, Buffalo Hump, Camas Pratrie, Grangeville and all the tributary country, with its score of towns on the newly opened Indian reservation, we have natural water grades all the way down the Cleared Indian reservation, we have natura ed Indian reservation, we have natural water grades all the way down the Clearwater, Snake and Columbia Rivers to Fortland, and unless something is done to give us railroad connections over these grades, the trading of this young but rapidly growing section will inevitably find its outlet and market over the Northern Pacific system to Spokane, Seattle or Eastern terminals. There was a time when Portland controlled the entire trade of that section, but the advent of the when Portland controlled the entire trade of that section, but the advent of the Nerthern Pacific up the Clearwater River will divert it more and more. As a business proposition, the Portland people could well afford to raise the necessary funds for the extension of the O. E. & N. system into the heart of that vigorous young giant which is rapidly growing up young giant which is rapidly growing up in the heart of Idaho."
