PAPAL ABBEGATE HERE

MONSIGNORE MARTINELLI ARRIVES IN PORTLAND.

He Will Confer the Pallium on Archbishop Christie Tomorrow—Several Social Functions.

Monsignore Martinelli, Papal delegate to the United States, and his secretary, Dr. Rooker, arrived in Portland on the steamer Reliance, from The Dalles, at 7 o'clock last night.

They were met at The Dalles by a committee from Portland, composed of delegates from Catholic societies and church dignitaries. The committee consisted of C. J. O'Reilly, Brigadier-General Daniel W. Burke, Mark O'Neill, John F. O'Shea, E. Dresser, R. M. Dooly, Joseph Jacobberger, J. P. O'Brien, John M. Gearin and Henry E. McGinn.

The trip from The Dalles was a very delightful one to Dr. Martinelli. He said that in all his travels he had never witnessed such beautiful scenery as that along the Columbia River. As the Reliance passed Vancouver, a salute was fired from the barracks in honor of the distinguished prelate.

On the arrival at Portland the party was welcomed by a large number of parishioners, and several Catholic societies, including the Catholic Order of Foresters, Catholic Knights of America and St. Joseph's German Catholic Society. The party was then driven up to Archbishop Christie's residence, escorted by the societies. The carriage containing Monsignore Martinelli was drawn by four white horses.

After a few minutes' rest and preparation, a procession was formed from the Archbishop's house to the Cathedral. It consisted of the Catholic societies, acolytes and the clergy. At the Cathedral, which was crowded to the utmost, there was a short, impressive ceremony, at which Dr. Martinelli officiated, assisted by Fathers Hughes and Prizybylski and a number of other priests. The ceremony ended with the benediction given by Dr. Martinelli.

Nothing of importance will be done today, as the Monsignore will want to rest from the fatigue of his journey. The bestowal of the pallium on Archbishop Christie will take place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, at St. Mary's Cathedral. The ceremony will be a grand one, and one which is seldom witnessed—this being the first time in the history of the Catholic Church in Oregon. His Excellency Monsignore Martinelli will celebrate the mass, assisted by a large number of priests. Right Rev. E. J. O'Dea, Bishop of Astoria, will preach the sermon. The choir will sing selections from the Imperial mass, No. 3, by Haydn, and the St. Cecilia mass, by Gounod. At the offertory, Schubert's favorite, "Ave Maria," will be rendered.

In the afternoon a banner will be presented to Archbishop Christie, his distinguished guest and other visiting prelates, on behalf of the clergy of the diocese. A reception will be given to Dr. Martinelli Friday afternoon, at St. Mary's Academy, which will be followed by the conferring of graduating honors on the large class. Owing to the number of graduates, the many pupils of the Academy, and the numerous clergy who will be in attendance, invitations have been restricted to the parents of the pupils and to the alumnae.

In the evening at 8 o'clock a reception will be given at the Hotel Portland, at the parlor of the Hotel Portland. As a conclusion to the festivities a banquet will be given by the laity, Monday evening, at the Portland.

ANOTHER BIG DAY.
Two Hundred and Fifty More Cape Nomers Buy Tickets.

Two hundred and fifty tickets were sold yesterday over the counter of the California & Oregon Coast Steamship Company to people going to Cape Nome. The previous day 300 were thus disposed of. There is a cool, determined look about these gringos that shows if there is gold to be obtained in paying quantities, they propose to have it. There is a difference between these men and those who swarmed to the Klondike. Most of the former had a heavy, indefinite idea as to how they should proceed. Without experience, without having formulated a plan of action, it was not strange that so many became stranded—that so many never came back, whose bones now whiten amid the Alaskan snows. Their experience, hardly earned, has borne fruit. Most of the men now going to Cape Nome are well supplied with means and provisions. As a class, they are people who have carefully calculated the chances and will be prepared for whatever comes.

The amount of mining machinery, the great dredgers and the other appliances which are being gotten ready for shipment, show the nature of the preparations now making to reap the golden harvest.

WILL CONFER THE PALLIUM.

MOST REVEREND SEBASTIAN MARTINELLI.
The distinguished guest of the Oregon diocese comes of a distinguished family in the Catholic Church, and himself is credited with a record that would make the ordinary churchman satisfied with honors. Most Reverend Sebastian Martinelli, ninety-ninth of the long line of illustrious Superiors-General of the Augustinian Order, was born August 20, 1843, in the Parish of Santa Anna, Lucca, Tuscany. He is the youngest of five children born to Costanza and Maddalena (Fardini) Martinelli. Two of his brothers became members of the Augustinian Order, the eldest, the late Cardinal Tommaso Maria Martinelli, and the third Father Anthonio Martinelli, who is now Director-General of the Pious Order. Most Rev. Sebastian Martinelli, after studying literature and classics in the Seminary of St. Michael's, Lucca, entered the Augustinian Order at Rome, December 8, 1863, after which he studied philosophy and theology in the College of St. Augustine, Rome. March 4, 1874, he was ordained priest in that city. At the Church of St. Maria, Rome, he was elected Prior-General of the Hermits of the Order of St. Augustine, at the General Chapter of the Augustinian Order, convened in 1880; and again in 1886 he was re-elected to the same position, which he then, as Delegate Apostolic to the United States, August 29, 1896, Dr. Martinelli was consecrated Archbishop of Ephesus. Before coming to this country as the Apostolic Delegate he had visited the United States as General of the Augustinians.

HEAD OF NAVAL RESERVE
CAPT. R. E. DAVIS ACCEPTS OFFICE OF LIEUT.-COMMANDER.
His Services in the Oregon National Guard and With the Fighting Second Oregon.

Commissions were issued yesterday to all officers recently elected in the Third and Fourth Regiments and the Separate Battalion, also to Captain R. E. Davis, as Lieutenant-commander of the Oregon Battalion Naval Reserve. The officers will receive them immediately, and assume their duties. The members of the Third Regiment will be at their posts today or tomorrow at the outside, and Colonel Everett will commence work by appointment of his staff.

Captain R. E. Davis has been prevailed upon to accept the office of Lieutenant-commander of the Oregon Battalion Naval Reserve. He has been in the line of officers of the Naval Battalion some time ago. At first he declined, as he had never been educated in the details of naval affairs, his experience on the water being confined to two trips across the Pacific in Army transports. The officers of the battalion represented to the captain that the principal duties he would be expected to perform were in perfecting the three divisions in the regular military maneuvers, such as they would be expected to perform on a landing expedition. The drills for this work are the same as the military work of the Army, in which Captain Davis has long been experienced. As company commander he was an old member of the Guard, and then was captain of Company E, Second Oregon, during the Spanish War and Filipino Insurrection. Thus he is eminently qualified to command a battalion in all land movements, including the use of the field pieces that go with the Naval Militia work. It was this experience with troops that impelled the officers of the Reserve to choose Captain Davis. For the greater part of the year they will work on land entirely, and when a cruise is taken the Naval Militia will be under the immediate control and direction of Naval officers who are thoroughly skilled in nautical affairs. These cruises are as much for the instruction of officers as men, and Captain Davis will have opportunity to qualify himself to the standard of Naval Militia officers.

CHINA MAY SEND US ORE

INQUIRY FROM SHANGHAI ABOUT PORTLAND SMELTER.
Chamber of Commerce Has Salem's Co-Operation in the Matter of an Open River.
At a regular meeting of the trustees of the Chamber of Commerce, held yesterday, a rather surprising communication was received from Shanghai, China, bearing on the establishment of a smelter in Portland, which reflects some of the remote results that might follow such an institution, that are not now even contemplated. This letter was written by Louis Spetzler, and is as follows:

Shanghai, April 4.—I notice in The Weekly Oregonian, issue February 16, the problem of having been submitted at Portland. If you will kindly refer the communication to Mr. Bradford, or whoever may have charge of the matter, I can put in his way various ores from this country that would be profitable to the company. The mining industry in this country is now developing, and such ores as galena, antimony, copper, and zinc, are being shipped for disposal, whereas it seems to me Portland would be the cheapest in expenses to ship to.

It was referred by the trustees to L. B. Cox, who is known to be in close touch with E. T. Bradford, in promoting the smelter. Alaskan ores had been counted on when the smelter proposition was first considered, but there is some one who suspected it would be possible to draw business from the distant Orient, and with it advantages to return commerce.
Salem Co-Operates.
All the trustees were put in excellent spirits by the letter received from H. E. Thibsen, secretary of the Salem Chamber of Commerce, in response to the communication sent that body by the committee recently appointed by the Portland Chamber of Commerce to promote work of opening the Columbia as far as Lewiston to navigation. The letter reads:

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of May 8, enclosing a copy of the report of your committee on organization for active effort, looking to the opening of the Columbia River at The Dalles.
I am instructed to say that the Salem Chamber of Commerce will heartily co-operate with you in the effort to accomplish this as well as any other good thing for the general good.
I am inclined to assist in this case, as they know from actual experience what a serious injury is wrought upon commerce by obstructions preventing otherwise navigable streams from being a controlling factor in the establishment of a port.
In the very able report of your committee, every argument looking to the opening of the Columbia is equally applicable to the opening of the Willamette by Governmental acquisition of the canal and the opening of the Willamette by the construction of new ones—as recommended in a recent report of a board of engineers on the subject.

Portland is equally interested in the opening of the Columbia basin will extend the same assistance to secure the opening of the Willamette River, that the Salem Chamber of Commerce and the Portland Chamber of Commerce will give to the effort to make the Columbia River free from Lewiston to the sea.
With such hearty assurances of co-operation from the Chamber of Commerce of accomplishing the desired end of opening the Columbia at the Dalles seemed nearer than before, and will encourage the Chamber of Commerce to proceed vigorously.
In response to an inquiry sent to the secretary of the Astoria Chamber of Commerce, a letter was received giving the present status of the quarantine station at the mouth of the Columbia. A clipping from the Astorian, recently published, explained that probably within 90 days the station would be ready for use.

Emergency Appropriation.
A dispatch from Senator McBride conveyed to the chamber the information that the Washington dispatch of yesterday's Oregonian concerning the amendment appropriating $50,000 for work at the mouth of the Columbia. The Senator's telegram was as follows:
Washington, May 14.—I obtained today from the Washington dispatch of yesterday's Oregonian concerning the amendment appropriating $50,000 for work at the mouth of the Columbia, and referred same to committee on appropriations for sundry civil bill. We shall have hearing before subcommittee on April 15th.

A GOOD COMPLEXION
Depends on Good Digestion.
This is almost an axiom, although usually we are apt to think that cosmetics, face powders, lotions, fancy soaps, etc., are the secrets for securing a clear complexion. But all these are simply superficial assistants.
It is impossible to have a good complexion unless the digestive organs perform their work properly, unless the stomach by properly digesting the food taken into it furnishes an abundance of pure blood, a good complexion is impossible.
This is the reason why many ladies are unable to keep their complexion clear, because they promptly cure any stomach trouble and they have found out that perfect digestion means a perfect complexion and that does not require cosmetics and powders to enhance its beauty.
Many ladies diet themselves or deny themselves many articles of food solely in order to keep their complexion clear. When Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are used no such dieting is necessary. Take these tablets and eat all the good, wholesome food you want, and you need have no fear of indigestion or the orchard fever, dull complexion which nine women out of 10 have, solely because they are suffering from some form of indigestion.
Bear in mind that beauty proceeds from good health, good health results from perfect digestion, and we have advanced the best argument to induce every man and woman to give this splendid remedy a trial.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found in drug stores, and cost but 50 cents per package.
If there is any derangement of the stomach or bowels which will remove it, and the resultant effects are good digestion, good health and a clear, bright complexion.

THE ANIMAL SHOW.
Norris & Rowe's Animal Actors Attract Big Crowds.
Again last night the big tents of Norris & Rowe's "trained animal show" contained a big crowd. The performance is one of those unique exhibitions that minister to the intellect as well as to the sense of pleasure. The perfect tractableness and discipline shown by the beautiful animals present are an interesting study for the philosopher and scientist.
Professor Norris has singular control over them, and such is the attention he pays to all his words and actions that the most discriminating student of psychology finds it impossible to draw his magic
