handing over their arms. All reports agree that the command was passed north very hurriedly May 14 and 15.

Oregon Delegation Working for River Improvements.

Every one is talking of Mafeking and the latest exploits of its defenders. Rumors continue to circulate that the place is a most formidable. There is considerable speculation as to what Colonel Baden-Powell will do with his 90 prisoners, and whether the victory has not so far narrowed the force to a small open to annihilation in the event of an open attack by superior Boer numbers.

WILL CARRY THE FIGHT IN SENATE

In the committee-room of the House of Commons this morning Sir James Kitson announced that Mafeking had been relieved. The War Office, however, is unable to confirm the announcement.

Proposed Amendments to the Alaska Code Bill to Settle the Nome Beach Question.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The House having passed the emergency river and harbor bill without amendment, Oregon gets those provisions which were enumerated in yesterday's dispatches, namely: the release of the Alaska appropriation and possibly $15,000 each for the Willamette and the Lower Columbia. An attempt will be made in the Senate to insert a provision for the survey and estimate of cost for a canal around the obstruction at the delta.

The Senate committee on appropriations has called upon General Wilson for a report on the contingencies existing at the mouth of the Columbia River, which Senator McBride's amendment proposes to remedy. Senators Simon and McBride and Representative Moody called on the Chief of Engineers this morning for the purpose of calling his attention to the reports of the emergency there, and urged him to set forth those facts in his reply to the committee. While General Wilson expressed himself as decidedly favorable to the project, he gave no assurance that he would recommend a large appropriation until the general project was adopted.

An attempt will be made in the House to amend the Alaskan law relating to placer mining on the Nome beach. As the bill now stands, conflicts are liable to arise over the lands lying between mean low and mean high tide, and it is proposed to remedy this by using the term "low tide" in lieu of "mean low tide" and "the edge of the tundra" in lieu of "mean high tide," as these two lines will always be distinctly marked.

An amendment will also be pressed allowing the Secretary of War to grant dredging privileges for working the sands off the shore, but it is not intended that he should have authority to issue exclusive permits, such as were attempted. In other respects, the bill is quite satisfactory to the committee, and will probably pass as it stands, with these changes.

Oregon Election and Philippine War.

Leaders of both political parties are looking with some little interest to the coming election in Oregon, to be held June 4, especially in view of the fact that this is the first state to elect members of Congress and a Legislature that will elect a Senator. But there is much more interest in this election, because of the bearing it will have upon the Philippine question. The Democrats are hoping for success, as they know that such a result would give encouragement to the insurgents in the Philippine Islands, who would construe Democratic supremacy as a vindication of their outbreak and resistance against American rule.

Anti-expansion Campaign. Anti-expansion is the Democratic slogan all over the East, and in certain sections of the South where it is popular. It is said that the course of the Philippine war, and the anti-expansion literature being circulated in Oregon by those who have charge of the campaign. The reason for this is that Oregon is in favor of expansion, in favor of the retention of the Philippines and does not desire that this country shall take any backward step. Oregon, California and Washington, being convinced of what expansion can do, it is felt that anti-expansion literature is not exactly profitable on the Pacific Coast. More than this, the Democrats believe, and Jones has already conceded, that the Pacific Coast will go to the Republicans on the expansion issue, and that the result will be there is just enough expansion talk in the Democratic party to make use of anything that could be construed as a victory for the Democratic party in Oregon.

CONGRESS AND ALASKA.

House Holds Up Bill for Safeguarding Northern Navigation. WASHINGTON, May 17.—Congress as a whole does not seem to have much interest in Alaska, and most members are inclined to the opinion if they get the great code bill off their hands at this session they are doing all that could be consistently expected of them. As a matter of fact, there is much that should be done for Alaska aside from the passage of this code, and the need of the crying needs of the coast, and rather protection of shipping plying up and down that coast. At best, this coast is none the safer for coasting vessels, and is encumbered with rocks, islands and all sorts of obstructions. And yet there is not a single lighthouse on Alaska soil, and the only things that serve as a warning to mariners are a few stray buoys that have been erected by private interests, and are absolutely worthless in rough weather or at night. The Senate bill in this matter, and after much persuasion was convinced of the necessity for a better protection of the coast, and passed a bill making an appropriation for the erection of ten lighthouses at some 15 points. When this bill got over to the House it was favorably reported on short notice, but was then held up by the party in power, and it is not likely to pass further at this time, although it will pass next session. In view of the fact that there will be a vast amount of sea traffic along the Alaskan Coast this season, it is very important that these lighthouses should be authorized at the earliest possible moment, but the House leaders cannot see it in that light, and look upon this bill as another unnecessary expenditure of good public money, and accordingly sit down on the whole scheme. Meanwhile there will probably be wrecks and accidents on the Alaskan Coast that could easily have been avoided if the proper safeguards were thrown out by the Government.

Cure of the Eyes.

Up to 40 years of age, bathe the eyes twice daily with cold water. Avoid reading when lying down, or when mentally and physically depressed. When the eyes are tired, rest them by looking at objects at a distance. Old persons should avoid reading much by artificial light; be guarded as to diet, and avoid sitting up late at night. Avoid stimulants and drugs which affect the nervous system, especially when they are known to exert an injurious influence. After 50 years of age, bathe the eyes morning and evening with water so hot that you will wonder how you would stand it; follow this with cold water and avoid sitting up late at night. Do not give up in despair when you are informed that a cataract is developing; remember that in these days of advancement it can be removed with little danger to the vision.—Up-to-date.

ACROSS THE VAAL.

Hunter and His Column Occupy Christiana. KROONSTAD, May 17.—Hunter has occupied Christiana without opposition, the enemy having retired to Klerksdorp under the impression that the latter was threatened by a portion of this force from Peka's. Rundle's force was close to Christiana yesterday evening. The country was clear of the enemy.

LORD ROBERTS' REPORT.

Progress of the Various British Columns. LONDON, May 17.—The War Office has received the following dispatches from Lord Roberts: "Kroonstad, May 16.—Rundle yesterday occupied Christiana, Nek and Modder Port without opposition. Hunter has entered the Transvaal, and has advanced within 10 miles of Christiana. Mebusen has reached a point 12 miles on the Hoopstad road, without seeing the enemy. Native and local whites have confirmed the previous reports of the disorganization of the Free States. The situation here is unchanged."

Day of Reckoning Coming.

YOKOHAMA, May 17.—Via Victoria, B. C., May 17.—Affairs in China are in a state of extraordinary quiescence, while forebodings of a coming storm are in the air. Russia has gained her points in Korea in the shape of a large tract of land bordering upon the magnificent harbor of Masampo. Much chagrin is felt by the Japanese, who everywhere surmised that the day of reckoning cannot be long delayed. But all foreign and other considerations seem to be set aside and superseded in the absorption of the national mind by the approaching wedding festivities.

A Royal Christening.

LONDON, May 17.—The son of the Duke and Duchess of York was christened in the private chapel of Windsor Castle today, in the presence of Queen Victoria, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, the Duke and Duchess of Fife, the Duke of Cambridge and other members of the royal family. Prince Albert of Prussia, regent of the Duchy of Brunswick, represented Emperor William of Germany, who was one of the infant's godfathers. Water brought from the River Jordan and contained in a gold font was used in the ceremony. The infant was handed to the Bishop of Winchester by the Queen, who gave the child's name as Henry William Frederick Albert.

WILL STARTLE THE WORLD

BORISGHEVINK PROMISES AN ASTONISHING STORY. He Will Report His Discoveries in the Antarctic on His Arrival at Sydney.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 17.—The steamer Aorangi brings from Australia advice as follows: The Antarctic steamer Southern Cross has reached Tasmania on her return from the Antarctic. The expedition, which was in good health on their return, and Explorer Borisghevink, who is at the head of the expedition, promised to publish, upon his arrival at Sydney, an account of his discoveries which would astonish the scientific world. He refused at Tasmania to give details of the expedition.

STREET-CAR STRIKE.

End of the Trouble in St. Louis is Not in Sight. ST. LOUIS, May 17.—The culmination of the prolonged struggle between the St. Louis Transit Company and its army of employees has not yet been reached. The conference held during the past week, shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon, the union grievance committee and the Transit Company officials again met at the Plummer Hotel and continued in session two hours, but the conference was without definite result. The difference between the two parties is a clause which calls for the complete reinstatement of all the old men. The railroad officials flatly stated that under no circumstances would the men employed by them be reinstated in their former positions.

LABOR COMBINATION.

Miners' Convention Favors the Union of All Organizations. DENVER, May 17.—The Western Federation of Miners' convention today adopted a resolution empowering the executive committee to take such action as they may deem proper to secure the union of all organized labor bodies, to take action looking toward the union of all organizations, and to take such action as they may deem proper to secure the union of all organizations, and to take such action as they may deem proper to secure the union of all organizations.

TRAGEDY AT SEA.

Bloody Work of One Man on a Norwegian Steamer. COPENHAGEN, May 17.—A telegram from Koping, Sweden, reports that the steamer Koping last night was passing the Prince Carl, a man sprang upon the deck of the latter vessel and shouted: "If any one comes near I will shoot." At the same moment a woman was seen hanging over the ship's side, shrieking for help. The man escaped in a boat.

MURDERER ARRESTED.

STOCKHOLM, May 17.—The police have tracked to Eskilstuna (57 miles west of this city) and arrested there the author of the Prince Carl tragedy. He is a man named Karson, who fell to the floor. The other three, Schneider, Konditor and Lindquist, burst open the door. Lindquist, who was the first to step through, received a bullet in his head. Regarding the wound, Karson after the assassin in the steering-room. The fugitive shouted down the speaking tube: "Full speed ahead." The engines were already at full speed, and the engineer replied: "Is that the Captain?" receiving the answer: "Certainly; drive her to the devil." The engineer put the engines at full speed, and the ship was driven down to the engine-room and threatened to shoot the engineer if he did not obey. The engineer barricaded the room. At that moment the Koping came along and the murderer fled in a boat.

FAMINE IN INDIA.

Million and a Half People Dependent in Central Provinces. LONDON, May 17.—Dealing with the famine in the central provinces of India, which have an area equal to that of Austria and a population of nearly 100,000,000, and which were formerly most prosperous, the Daily Chronicle correspondent at Bilaspur writes: "The demand for government assistance is unparalleled. In one district 40 per cent are dependent on the Sirdar for their daily bread; in two others the percentage is over 50. In the whole area there are 1,000,000 people with no other source of subsistence than government charity. In the eastern division, where the crop failure was the most complete, we have had the best opportunity of seeing the gigantic opportunity for grappling with the famine. The abomination of desolation is here. Not a tatter is seen in the fields. When the last rain failed, the trade peasantry saw the coming rain, and they shot the rice seed into the ground. They were left without resources, and the few silver ornaments which every Indian family possesses went at last. They are crowded the relief works by thousands of thousands."

Accompanied by the reception committee and a delegation from the South African Club, the delegates drove from the Hotel Manhattan to the City Hall, where the Mayor and the members of the Municipal Assembly were waiting them. In anticipation of their arrival, the customary large crowd around the City Hall was largely increased, and the services of a number of policemen were required to keep the people from the Mayor's office.
