SUSPICION DISTURBS THE "CITI-ZENS" NOMINEES.

Democrats Look for Knifing by the Mitchell-McBrideites-Campaign Poorly Managed.

Armed neutrality prevails in the Citizens camp. The Democratic nominees for the Legislature are suspicious of their Mitchell-McBride running mates, and both Mitchell-McBrideltes and Democrats complain bitterly of the slack management of the campaign by H. B. Adams, the Democratic county chairman. Mr. Adams lives at Mount Tabor, where politics is child's play, and Democrats say that what he does not know about making a fight in a big city like Portland would fill a book as big as the dictionary. He gives ready car to the fixers, always numerous at election time, who have thousands of votes up their sleeves, and is easy enough believe that the votes exist and can delivered to the hybrid ticket. The best of it is that Chairman Adams thinks he knows it all. Veteran campaigners shrug their shoulders when they examine his methods, and ask each other what process in the Democratic party evolved so eminent a politician. Adams is the product of a deal. John T. Milner, who presided over the Democratic city and county confor Joint Representative for Multnomah for Joint Representative for Multinomah and Clackamas Counties, wanted the chairmanship but could not muster up the necessary number of votes. William N. Gatens sought 'he secretaryship of the committee, partly for the prestige it would give him and partly as a vindication for his having bolted the nomination of John Muster for Muster 1988. Sections 1988. John Montag for Mayor in 1838. So Gatens and Adams formed a combination. They got away with the country members of the committee and corraled enough of the city members to win out.

How to apply the knife is the problem that confronts the Mitchell-McBridelles. They cannot make deals with the regular Republicans, for all their nominees are working for the straight ticket. The only course open to them is to sell out the Democratic Legislative nominees for voter for Mays, Smith, Hunt et al., the ex-Re-publicans, who are standing for the Sen-ate on the hybrid ticket. The Democratic nominees are keeping close watch upon the renegade Republicans and their managers, and when the kniffing begins, whether it be during the campaign or on election day, | Brooklyn May 25. there will be retaliation years ago the Mitchellites promise by all that was plous that they would support Montag for Mayor in return for Democratic votes for the anti-Simon Re-publican Legislative ticket. They kept up their protestations of friendship until the last week of the campaign, when they threw all else overboard, their own and the Democratic candidates for Representatives and Montag for Mayor in a desperate effort to elect Hume State Senator over Simon. Hup? knifed every nominee for county office on the anti-Simon ticket, and the others retaliated by cutting him. This year, when the Mitchell-McBrideites proosed a combination, the Democrats as-Mitchellites refrain from putting up a county ticket. The Mitchell-McBride people desired a ticket of their own, so that they could trade it off on election day. but the Democrats would not agree to the proposition. That is how it comes that such "lifelong" Republicans as Dr. Smith, Pierce Mays, Hunt the Police Commissioner, M. E. Thompson, Nottingham, and Judge O'Day's partner, Tarpley, are run-ning son an alleged reform ticket "without regard to previous party affiliations.

The Democrats pretend to place confidence in the Mitchell-McBride professions of sincerity. But they are easily convinced. The Mitchell-McBride men are using money in many parts of the state to defeat Republican nominees for the Legislature who will not pledge themselves to support McBrides candidace. selves to support McBride's candidacy. They will use money in Multnomah Cou ty on election day against the regul Republican nominees for the Legislature and for men running on the Citizens tick-et who represent their interests. They will throw their support and use their money for Mays. Smith, Hunt, Nottingham et al., but not a cent will be used in behalf of Bob Inman, Watson the restaurant man, Heltkemper the jeweler, Orton the pressman, Driscoll the butcher, "Jack" Knott, the relie of old decency, and the other Democratic candidates. The Democrats say they have a campaign fund of $3000, and that it was con fluited by the nominces on their ticket. The difficulty they had in filling up their ticket is evidence enough that the fund was not made up by their nominees. So much as $3000 could not be got out of the candidates in three campaigns. Their only candidates who are suspected of having a "little money" are Montag for Sheriff. Wilbelm for County Commissioner, and Wells for Mayor. They are not parting with their money for the small chance they have of election. Whatever pot the Democrats have was undoubtedly made up by the Mitchell-McBrideites.

Woolgrower Who Is Well Satisfied With a Deal.

John Q. Wilson, a Salem capitalist, who  has a large stock ranch in Morrow Coun-ty, was at the Perkins yesterday on his return from Heppner, where he was su-pervising the shearing of his sheep, which he just sold to Eastern buyers. He thinks he has closed out his band of 1890 at about the right time, as prices are not likely to go much higher. He obtained $3 a head for his 2-year-olds, $2.50 for ewes, and $2.55 for yearling wethers. Parties this he values the wood taken of Besides this, he values the wool taken off the sheeps' backs at $1.20 a head. Wool, however, is of slow sale, and none has changed hands so far this season, although four buyers have been making their headquarters at Heppner for several "They don't offer anything to speak of,

and so sheepmen are not anxious to let go," he said yesterday. "Think of 124 to 14 cents a pound being hinted at. These buyers don't realize that McKinley is President, I guess." Mr. Wilson's ranch lies on both sides of the Hinton fork of Willow Creek, some distance above Heppner, and he uses the place as Winter quarters for sheep pur-chased in the Fall. He expects to buy up lambs again, after the flocks have re-turned from the Blue Mountains next Fall, and will have them cared for until after lambing and shearing next Spring. Most of the sheep have already left the unch-grass prairies for the mountain pastures, and many thousands will again spend the Summer in the summits about the head of the John Day, notwithstanding the outcry raised against them by Grant County stockmen. "I don't blame the people of the John Day for ktoking." Mr. Wilson said "as they have been im-posed upon by careless herders, who have permitted the sheep in their charge

PLEASED WITH OREGON. Michigan Man Prefers It to California. G. L. Tucker, a prosperous farmer of Detroit, Mich., who was induced to visit San Jacinto, Cal., with a view to chang-ing location, was in Portland yesterday on his return home. After having spent several months in Southern California, he does not feel justified in making the change, as he said: "What could I do, farming in a country where a man has to pump water out of a well and spread it over the ground?" He says no rain heat failed to weak of in that region for has fallen to speak of in that region for the past five years, and that many of the fruit trees have died from lack of moisture. In a drive of a few miles around San Jacinto, he found hundreds of cords of first-class firewood made from fruit trees that had perished. Favor Mr. Bingham's Plan.

Mr. Ed Bingham's scheme of primary reform seems to be finding favor with the Republican nominees. Mr. Dresser, the Republican candidate for Joint-Representative from Multnomah and Chackamas, is reported to have beclared in favor of it, and to contemplate introducing a bill for direct primary nominations himself, if he is elected. Mr. George T. Myers and Mr. George L. Story, also candidates on the Legislative ticket, are reported in favor of the direct nomination system. One of the Senatorial candidates said, that while he favored primary reform, he would not specifically indorse Mr. Bingham's scheme. He has no doubt the Republicans favor primary reform, but if they have any measure to introduce or advocate, it will be their own measure, and not Mr. Bingham's.

TO ENFORCE GAME LAWS.

Red Men Must Do Their Hunting in Senson. Of late years, since efforts have been made in earnest to protect game in Ore-gon, there have been many complaints about wanton destruction of deer, etc., by Indians. They have always been ac-customed to going on a grand hunt in the Fall and killing all the game they sould, and drying the meat for Winter use, and they do not take kindly to any re-strictions placed on them by the game laws, which apply to Indians as well as

Last year Game Warden Quimby sent circulars to the various Indian agents throughout the State, requesting them to see that the Indians in their charge complied with the game laws, but no no tice was taken of those communications.
Mr. Quimby has expressed his determination to have a stop put to violations of the game laws by Indians this year, and, if the Indian agents do not show an in-clination to aid him in this, he will lay before the authorities in ington.

Mr. Quimby has received a letter in regard to this matter from O. C. Applegate, agent at the Klamath Indian reservation, who says:

"I am anxious to see the game and fish laws observed on this reservation, and I shall do everything possible, through the Indian police and others, to secure that result. I would be pleased to have you send me several of your cards containing, in brief, the essential features of our game laws. With regards, and the wish that under you efficient manegement the laws for the protection of game may be more generally enforced than they ever ave been before."
Mr. Quimby has written to Agent Apple
