Real Widow Brown" Draws Crowds

to Cordray's

A crowded holiday house witnessed the performance of "The Real Widow Brown" at Cordray's last night, and applause greeted the many ciever specialties, as well as the whole of the sparkling comedy. There was one continuous round of laughter and applause from curtain to curtain. The "Real Widow Brown" is one of the brightest and merriest of the comedies that have been seen at Cordray's

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

AVERAGE RUN OF FIRE.-But little is heard in regard to the salmon fishery of late, but from the best information to be obtained it is learned that the catch is about the same as at this time last year, and the pack to date ahead of that of last year. No flood of any magnitude is expected in the Columbia, and now this may affect the run of fish is uncertain. but this is the quiet part of the season, and large runs may be expected later. Considerable of the pack has been shipped Considerable of the pock has been shipped East, but no price appears to have been agreed upon as yet, and the fish are likely to go into warehouse for a time. If the cannerymen could only find out how the season's fishing is going to turn out, they might be able to fix a price for their product, but as this is something they are not likely to ascertain till near the end of the seeson, they will probably have to the seeson, they will probably have to make a guess at it and set a price soon CHILD KICKED BY A HORSE.-The 8-yearchild kicked by a Horse.—The 3-yearold son of William R. Glendenning, conductor on the O. R. & N., lies at St.

Vincent's Hospital in a very critical condition, the result of a kick from a horse at Sellwood list Sunday. Another boy was leading the animal slong the street,
but the horse was not inclined to follow,
and so the child picked up a stick to help the older boy. The horse let drive with both feet, one of which struck the child in the center of the forehead, the iron toein the center of the forehead, the iron toe calk crashing through the skull. When picked up the little fellow was in a ter-rible condition, both eyes having been almost knocked out of his head.

WATERS ARE ABATING.—June begins to-norow, and although there has been no on weather, it is generally believed that "June rise" of the Columbia is over done with. The water covered the r wharves along the city front for a days, but has been gradually recedand now the wharves are bare again and it is the general opinion that the water will not cover them again this sea-son. All reports from the upper country are to the effect that there is no snow to speak of in the mountains, and settiers along the rivers have set their minds at rest in regard to any danger from high

NEW ROAD PROJECTED .- A project is on New ROAD PROJECTED.—A project is on foot to have a road built along the summit of the hills west and south of Fulton to connect the Boone's Ferry road with the Riverside road at or near Fulton. This road will be a convenience to residents in that section, and will afford a circular drive from the Riverside road around by the number of the bills and back soul. the summit of the hile and back sgain. Two miles of new road are contemplated, and the circular drive will be about four miles in length, and will afford a view of some fine scenery. CHANGED HIS STEAMER, Captain H. L. CHARGED WITH STEALING PIPE.-Three CHARGED WITH STRAINS FIFE.—Infec-tons of water pipe were stolen from the city waterworks on the East Side lately, and the police have been shadowing the thief. Yesterday Detective Cordano and Officed Dubois arrested William Smith for the crime. Smith, it is alleged, hired an express wagon and had the pipe hauled away one lead after employ in a very away, one load after enother, in a very deliberate manner. The pipe was after-ward found in a junk store in North Port-land. His case will come up today.

STOLE A SADDLE.—Tom Jones is the name given by the puriother of a horse blanket from the Pacific Tent & Awning Company. He was arrested yesterday by Officers Cole and Sloan while trying to sell the cover to a second-hand dealer. A saddle was also found in his possession, and works the proper owner at the police staswaits the proper owner at the police sta-tion. COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"One Vadist" at Cordray's Theater. Commencing Next Sunday Night.

No other people in the world have sufferred so much for religious liberty as the Poles, not even unhappy Ireland. Down-trodden as they have been for centuries by the Russian Government, they have nevertheless clung to the Christian faith through all vicissitudes, and there is little wonder that a great suther like Sienkie-wicz should produce such a literary won-der as "Quo Vadis?" The word is taken from the Latin, and means "Whither goest thou?" It is supposed to have been spoken by the angels in passing from earth to their celestial abode. The deep religious feeling exhibited in "Quo Vadis?" breathes the spirit of suffering and forgiveness to our enemies, and teaches a lesson never to be forgotten. A splendid scenic produc-tion of this great play will be seen at Cordray's, beginning Sunday night.

Great interest attaches to the announcement that John Drew will be seen at the Murquam Grand Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, in the now famous day of next week, in the now famous comedy of temperament, by Haddon Chambers, "The Tyranny of Tears." The great success which attended both star and play in New York City during a run of several months at the Empire theater, and the discussion which was aroused by Mr. Chambers' theme, have made play-goere exceedingly anxious to see the comedy. exceedingly anxious to see the comedy, apart from their desire to welcome Mr. Drew. The play has been voted a delicious example of pure comedy writing, and it is healthy in tone, wholesome, clean and altogether refreshing in atmosphere, while having a story of deep interest. The cast and production will be in every way the same as during the New York run. Miss Isabel Irving, Ida Conquest, Georgie Mendum and Messrs. Arthur Byron, Harry Harwood and Frank E, Lamb are included in Mr. Drew's support. The sale of seats will begin Saturexceedingly anxious to see the comedy, port. EAST SIDE AFFAIRS.

Rev. G. A. Blair Home From the General Assembly-Notes.

Rev. G. A. Blair, pastor of the Pirst umberland Presbyterian Church, East I welfth street, arrived home Tuesday afternoon from Chattanooga, Tenn., where he attended the sessions of the General Assembly. He is considerably worn out with his double trip across the continent but considering that he was quite sick when he started East, he fared very well. He is getting rested up at his home, on East Twentisth street. Mr. Blair was not made superintendent of missions for the reason that another man was nominated for that place some time before the meet-ing of the General Assembly, and be-fore it was known in the East that he would accept. Had it been known a few days before that Mr. Bair was available days before that Mr. Biair was available for the place, he would have received the appointment. But the General Assembly had outlined some very important work, and Mr. Blair will be asked to take charge of some portion of it. At present his plans are not definitely settled. He will continue his work at the First Church until the time fixed in his resignation as pastor shall expire, which will be the middle of July. He will not accept any calls to be pastor that have come to him, on account of his health, which necessitates that he change his occupa-ion for a time. The First Church has yet taken no steps to secure a successor o Mr Blair, but a number of applicans have been received, and shortly a

When a dealer tells you that the virtue of his lenses lies in the peculiar material of which they are composed, don't helieve him. There are no "magnetic lenses" or "electric lenses" or "tainbow pebble" or "cooling lenses." These are all the creation of peddlers' brains. The chief value of a lens lies in its curves; in the varying thicknesses of its different parts; and in the exact focussing powers that are given to it by the skilled lensmaker. It must be made to conform to the peculiarities of the individual eye for which it is ground. The eye must be carefully measured and each defect in its adjustment or construction taken into consideration.
