

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE

HANNA RE-ELECTED CHAIRMAN FOR NEXT FOUR YEARS.

New Members of Executive Committee Appointed—Platt on Roosevelt's Nomination.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The National committee met in the rooms back of the Convention Hall immediately after the adjournment of the convention. As soon as the committee was assembled, Chairman Hanna was nominated and re-elected chairman for the next four years.

Colonel Dick, of Ohio, was elected temporary secretary. On motion of Senator Roosevelt, of New York, George W. Sewell, of Milwaukee, was unanimously elected secretary-at-large of the National committee for four years.

Chairman Hanna left very soon after Mr. Griswold's headquarters home, saying that he would return to Philadelphia this afternoon. The headquarters of the National committee will be established at Chicago and New York, as in the campaign of 1896.

Chairman Hanna tonight announced the names of the members of the new executive committee of the National committee, as follows: Henry C. Payne, of Wisconsin; Joseph Manly, of Maine; N. Scott, of West Virginia; Harry D. New, of Indiana; and George L. Shoup, of Idaho.

WHAT PLATT SAID.

Roosevelt Will Be Stronger on the National Than on the State Ticket.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Senator Platt was seen at the Fifth Avenue Hotel tonight and asked what he thought of the ticket nominated by the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia.

DELEGATES HOMEWARD-BOUND.

Rush from Philadelphia Began as Soon as Convention Adjourned.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—As soon as the National convention adjourned this afternoon the rush of visitors to get out of town began.

McKinley Reconstituted Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—At 4 o'clock this afternoon the President wired the following congratulatory telegram to Governor Roosevelt:

Speaker Henderson's Views.

DURHAM, N. C., June 21.—Speaker Henderson said tonight:

THE IRISH EX-CONVICTS.

Mullet and Fitzharris Surprised at Their Treatment.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Joseph Mullet and James Fitzharris were today taken from Ellis Island to the immigration station in the harbor of New York.

ROUNDHOUSE BURNED.

BAKERFIELD, Cal., June 21.—The roundhouse at Bakerfield, Cal., was burned this afternoon, and the remains of Patrick Quinn and Byron Gilmore, employes, were found in the debris.

FOREIGNERS IN CHINA.

Statistics by American Consul at Peking.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Interesting statistics concerning foreigners in China are contained in a report on trade relations between China and the United States, just received at the State Department from Consul Fowler at Peking.

AMERICAN RESIDENTS IN CHINA.

AMERICAN RESIDENTS IN CHINA. Increase. American residents 2,555 27

BRITISH RESIDENTS IN CHINA. Increase. British residents 5,562 414

GERMAN RESIDENTS IN CHINA. Increase. German residents 1,174 41

FRENCH RESIDENTS IN CHINA. Increase. French residents 1,174 41

RUSSIAN RESIDENTS IN CHINA. Increase. Russian residents 1,623 1,643

ITALIAN RESIDENTS IN CHINA. Increase. Italian residents 124 41

JAPANESE RESIDENTS IN CHINA. Increase. Japanese residents 125 81

TOTAL NUMBER OF RESIDENTS IN CHINA. Increase. Total number of residents 11,188 872

TERrible Fate of Passengers on a British Guiana Steamer.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 15.—Particulars of the catastrophe which befell the river steamer Mabel and three other boats recently, when they were swept overboard in the Potaro river, British Guiana, have just been received here.

It appears that the Mabel left Potaro Landing in the gold-bearing district, for the landing at the mouth of the Potaro river, with three boats in tow.

It is reported that the Mabel left Potaro Landing in the gold-bearing district, for the landing at the mouth of the Potaro river, with three boats in tow.

Some of the passengers who were drowned by catching hold of a tree.

All hopes of saving the boat were now past. Amid the heart-rending screams of the passengers, they were swiftly swept to the bottom.

The cries of the passengers at this time were most awful. The angry waters carried many of them to their doom.

With the exception of Chairman Hanna, all the prominent leaders in the party have departed.

McKinley Reconstituted Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—At 4 o'clock this afternoon the President wired the following congratulatory telegram to Governor Roosevelt:

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—At the annual meeting today of the shareholders of the Bethlehem Steel Company, the announcement was made that the company proposes to bid for the contract for 35,000 tons of armor-plate for the Government from all steel companies.

Bethlehem Steel Company will bid for the entire contract, said a member, "and I may safely say the price specified will be lower than any we have ever offered."

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS was re-elected. President Listerman's report showed $60,000 paid out in dividends, and a surplus of $4,467,700.

RACES AT DENVER.

DENVER, June 21.—In the hurdle race at Overland Park today Jockeys Burns and Hunter were thrown from their horses.

Seven furlongs—R. Q. Pan won. Miss Richmond second, Cousin Letty third; time, 1:24.

Four furlongs—Eva Wilson won. Croker second, Joe Hart third; time, 1:17 1/2.

Two and a half furlongs—Ben Beach won. Pan Amist second, Sea Queen third; time, 1:02 1/2.

Hurdle, seven furlongs—Chicoot Pass won. Joe Bell second, Gloria II third; time, 1:40.

Four furlongs—Jas Ward won. Crator second, Ferdinand third; time, 1:05 1/2.

CHICAGO, June 21.—By an agreement entered into at the meeting of the presidents of the Western roads in this city, the Chicago and North Western will be operated entirely in the executive offices of the roads.

BRYAN'S RUNNING MATE.

DAVID B. HILL THE CHOICE OF A NEWSPAPER CANVASS.

Admiral Dewey Finds Little Favor—Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

FOREIGN TRADE IN MAY.

Excess of Exports Over Imports Continues Quite Heavy.

New York Journal of Commerce.

The imports of May were below those of January, March and April, but seen large compared with those of many months in the past few years of small importation.

The exports were larger than in May of any of the five preceding years; larger than in any month of 1898 and 1899, and have exceeded only 15 times in six years. The excess of exports over imports was nearly twice as great as in May of last year.

For 11 months the imports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

For 11 months the exports are considerably in excess of those of preceding years, though the excess over 11 months ending with May, 1898, is not very great.

THE TICKET MADE UP.

(Continued from Third Page.)

Admiral Dewey Finds Little Favor—Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

THE TICKET MADE UP.

(Continued from Third Page.)

Admiral Dewey Finds Little Favor—Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

The canvass shows a decided preference for David B. Hill, but no man has a clear majority. Another favorite is William R. Hearst, editor of the New York Journal and Admiral Dewey finds little favor. Carter, Harrison on Democracy's Prospects.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The North American will publish tomorrow morning the result of a canvass of the editors of prominent newspapers throughout the United States as to the logical running mate of Bryan, in view of the selection of Theodore Roosevelt by the Republican National Convention as the Vice-Presidential candidate.

VOTES PLEDGED TO BRYAN.

Only 620 Are Necessary, and He Already Has 750.

Brooklyn Eagle.

William J. Bryan is now assured of the nomination for President by the Democratic party. Enough votes are already pledged to him to make a practical certainty. Previous to yesterday afternoon had enough votes to make him the choice of the Democratic convention which will be held at St. Louis, Mo., on July 4, and yesterday afternoon he was given to his candidacy by the action of the Democratic State Conventions held in California, Missouri, Kentucky, Georgia and Arkansas.

All of these gatherings the delegates were instructed to vote for the Nebraska man who has more than enough pledges to make him the standard-bearer of the Democratic party.

There