VOTE FOR LEWIS

FIRST CHOICE OF OREGON DEMO-CRATS FOR SECOND PLACE.

Delegation From This State Will Go to Kansas City in a Pullman Car.

The Oregon delegates to the National Democratic Convention will vote for Col-onel Jim Ham Lewis for Vice-President. That is, their first vote will be cast that way, as a compilment to the Wash-ington man. After that the vote be-longs to the strongest man before the convention. Should David Bennett Hill develop stampeded strength and he should decide to do the Roosevelt act at Kansas City, then Colonel Jim Ham may not get a complimentary vote. In fact, if there are signs of a stampede in any direction and a nomination by acclamation, the vote of Oregon would likely fall in the line, forgetting that Colonel Lewis is a neighbor.

The delegation goes instructed for Bryan, and will vote for him to a finish. The Oregon Democrats will go to Kansas City in style. They have arranged for a Pullman car all to themselves. Of course, it will be shared with friends who are going from this section, and the Silver Republicans have arranged to go with them, but the car will be a Persay. ver Republicans have arranged to go with them, but the car will be a Bryan car, and the man who does not get a berth in it now may not be able to ride to Missouri with the Oregon delegation. The car will leave here Friday night, according to present plans, and there is room for only two or three now left. The route will be over the O. R. & N., Short Line Ric Grand Water, T. Line, Rio Grande Western, Denver & Rio Grande and the Rock Island. The Hio Grande and the Rock Island. The delegates who will be on the car are:
J. O. Booth, of Grant's Pass; Charles Nickell, of Jacksonville; R. M. Veatch, of Cottage Grove; M. A. Miller, of Lebanon; A. S. Bennett, of The Dalles, and N. A. Peery, of Portland.

Mr. Raley will stop in Ransas City and prepare the way for the others. The following alternates have also gone on ahead: D. J. Fry, of Salem: J. D. Mc-Kinnon, of La Grande, and W. F. Blurcher City. Mr. Raley will stop in Ransas City and Butcher, of Baker City.

It is not yet known who of the Silver Republican delegates will go, but all who do will be made to feel at home. Among the friends of the delegates who have taken berths in the sleeper are C. R. Thompson, of Astoria: William Poliman and Nat Cooper, of Baker City. Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hill, of Prineville, will also probably be in the party.

send, of Polk County, fills that place, and he is said to be willing, even anxious, to fill it for another term, but there are others who want the place. M. A. Miller s said to be putting forth some lively florts, and there are good Democrats in 'ortland who predict that he will be the next National committeeman from Orecon. It is said that he already has some pledges, and that enough are in sight to pull him through. In addition to these two candidates, there are several others who would be willing to undertake the work, and there will probably be some lively hustling done among the delegates when this selection comes up. It is not clear, from talking to the delegates what will be done in the way of platform making. When the state convention was in session a resolution was passed declaring for the Chicago platform in letter and in spirit, in whole and in part, and parentherically for the money plank of the state Democratic, Peoples party and Silver Republican party of 1998. It is to be supposed that the delegation will stick to this text unless swept off their feet by something

M. A. Miller, of Lebanon, said when questioned on the subject the other day:

Professors for the Consolidated Dental College.

A meeting was held last night at the Mulkey building to perfect plans for the consolidation of the Oregon College of ntistry and the North Pacific Dental College. The latter name is to be used by the new institution, and it will occupy the building at Fifteenth and Couch streets, which will accommodate a large number of students. The apparatus and paraphernalls of the schools will be com-bined, and also the faculties, which will double their teaching facilities and make a dental college which will be a credit

Both institutions were prosperous, and consolidation was not forced by any lack of patronage of either, but merely with the purpose in view of making one first-class college with largely increased opportunities for usefulness in every way. Because the North Pacific Dental College is a member of the National Ass ciation of Dental Faculties it was deemed expedient to make use of the standing it already has obtained, and to continue the new concern under that name

The laws of Oregon require that a person to practice dentistry in this state must have a certificate from a college which is a member of the National Ass ciation of Dental Faculties. The Oregon college had applied for membership in the National Association, and would have been admitted in another year, as it takes that time to get through under the rules after a faverable report. The North Pacific Dental College has been a mem-ber of the National Association for four years, and this explains why in the con solidation of the two colleges it was the better course to adopt that name. The standing of the North Pacific College is good, and has never in any manner beer good, and has never in any manner been questioned; in fact, its plant and appliances have been of the very best.

The faculty of the new institution will be as follows: J. W. Hickman, M. D., Tacoma; Norris R. Cox. D. D. S., B. Herbert C. Miller, M. D., D. D. S., S. J. Barber, D. D. S., Ernest F. Tucker, M. #### CLARK COUNTY PRUNES. Grower Says 40 Carloads Will Be Shipped This Year.

J. H. Fletcher, president of the Cured Fruits Association, was in Portland yesterday, from his home at Vancouver, Wash. He figures on 40 carloads as Clark County's quota of dried prunes this year, though if it were not for an unpropitious Spring the total would run up to 30 carloads. The prunes of Clark County, he says, are mostly of the Italian variety, very few Petites having been set out when the orchards were planted.

Mr. Fletcher says fully 75 per cent of the dried prune ortput of the Northwest has been pledged to the association this year, and that by next year he feels assured of 75 per cent of the land devoted to prunes being represented.

"When outside fruit men see how well the association gets along in marketing the product in large quantities," he said, "they will nearly all be willing to join us. Many prunegrowers are indifferent this year, as their crops have been badly damaged, and the saie of what is saved is of small consequence. These growers can afford to be independent of any united movement this season, but we hope for a full crop of Italian prunes next year throughout the Northwest, when their sale will mean a great deal more, to the individual and the community, than this year. The efforts of the association will be put forth with renewed energy during the Winter of 1900-1901."

MILLIONS IN OIL. Southern California Enthusiast

Talks of the Industry. People who own oil wells around Los Angeles need not thre whether it ever rains or not," said L. S. Rend, at the Hotel Perkins yesterday. Mr. Read was formerly a resident of Portland, but went to Los Angeles last year and invested a few thousand dollars in an oil pros-pect, he says, and now he can afford to take a trip back to his old home in to take a trip back to his old home in Baltimore via this city.

"Southern California," he declared, "Is set over a big lake of petroleum, and many of our people have become rich by tapping it at various points by weils of 109 to 500 feet in depth. All you have to do is get hold of the land, sink your well until the oil bursts forth, when you put a cap on the top of the casing and draw the crude oil off at your leisure, selling it on the ground for it a barrel; or if your company decides to sell out to the Standard Oil Company at a big figure you will find the great monopoly to be generous buyers. Many new wells are being bored and dericks are being put in position to drive others. I think the Los Angeles country will prove itself a richer and more permanent oil-producing locality than even the famous producing locality than even the famous oil region of Pennsylvania, when 49 years ago prodigious quantities of the illumi-mating oil were discovered in the depths of the earth and when hundreds of poor
