SHARKEY KNOCKED OUT

GUS RUBLIN DID IT IN THE FIF-TEENTH ROUND.

The Big Sailor Went Down to His First Defeat After a Desperate Struggle.

SEASIDE ATHLETIC CLAIB, Coney Island, June 26.—For the first time in his pugllistic career, Tom Sharkey went down decisive defeat tonight in the historic to decisive defeat tonight in the historic arena of the Seaside Athletic Club, and big Gus Ruhlin, the Ohlo pugilist, was the victor. It was a clean knock-out, after 15 rounds of fighting that made a memorable ring battle. Save in the matter of aggressiveness, Ruhlin led from the face off in every feature of the game, and at all times had the fight well in the face off in every feature of the game, and at all times had the fight well in hand. Sharkey did not give up his place in the line of first-class heavy-weights without a desperate struggle. No soldier ever gave more desperate battle, no man sinking to unconsciousness ever clung more determinedly to his vitality. Even at the end, when blinded by the blows of his newerful concepts and dulled by the blows of his newerful concepts and dulled. blows of his powerful opponent and dulled mentally by the battering of his foe, he clung instinctively to the massive frame of the man who was his master.

The decisive battle and unexpected reand unexpected re-mult were truly a surprise for the sport-ing public. No line of form that could be figured gave the Ohloan more than a one-to-two chance. Sharkey had met and at least stood off all of the leading heavy-weights now in the ring. He was known to be a giant in strength, courageous to a point beyond discretion and aggressive. Ruhlin, on the other hand, had never made a particularly good show-ing against any man of reputation, and was regarded as a second-rater. Hence, there was spathy as to the fight, and while there was some spirited betting. Ruhlin never showed better than 10 to 7, and it was even money that he would not last 10 rounds. The management, in fact, decided to put the general admission down to $1. There was a big crowd on hand, however, and they were treated to a rattling good fight, with surprising

Sharkey was the first man to come, and it was 19:06 P. M. when he appeared. The impatient crowd gave him a fair volley of applause, and was not especially enthusiastic when Rublin came in a min-ute later. Rublin showed to great advantage from a spectator's view point when the men stood up together. He had height, weight and reach, and looked big and muscular. His condition seemed per-fect, and his work as the battle prosed showed that it was. Sharkey was lacking in the matter of condition, either. At 10:15, when the men, answering the gong, came to the center, speculators went through the crowd offering 2 to 1 on Sharkey. At these figures there was a heavy play, and the talent did the pay-could be seen that Gus showed improved footwork, and greater eleverness in avoidlootwork, and greater deverness in avoid-ing punishment. Ability in that respect, coupled with his natural advantages, gave him a superiority which he never waived. He also showed fierce punishing power, and it was only Sharkey's superb vitality that kept him from defeat earlier in the battle. He used his right and left with equal facility, and made them beth count equal facility, and made them both count. He rather incked in aggressiveness, and if he had gone in could have finished the buttle much earlier than he did. He allowed Sharkey to make the pace, and ai-though he met him determinedly enough when he came in, he did not press all of his advantages. He used his right to excellent advantage, and time and again stepped in after the chunky Irishman had swung at him and made his blow

Sharkey, with that marvelous aggressiveness which has made and marked his pugilistic career, made the pace from the square-off until he was helpless. He had met his master, however, and defeat, aisquare-off until he was helpiess. He had met his master, however, and defeat, aithough slow, was inevitable. Each round brought him cloner to it. Ruhlin kept away from his wild swings and desperate leads, and kept hummering his left and right to the face and body. He cut the sallor's face until it was bathed in blood and marked his chest and sides where he planted his powerful punches. They clushed in descriptors and were swings. Both were resting at the ball.

struggled through the 18th round by des-perate effort, and was but little revived when he came up for the 15th. He made a wild try with his left, and when he missed, Ruhlin caught him on the jaw with his left. Ruhlin sprang in and beat the Irishman down to the floor with a volley of punches. The resolute fighter struggled to his feet, and when Ruhlin came in, clutched him around the waist. Ruhlin shook him off and dropped him again. A thousand men, frenzied in the exciteme surrounded the ring, and there was a din of hourse yells. Sharkey scrambled up again, and then staggered against the Ruhling seemed unable to finist him, and that would have been a charity. Sharkey went down for the third time, but with dosged determination staggered to his feet. He was blind and unsteady. and a punch put him down. The referee stepped in and ended the contest. Shar-key was helpless. Billy Madden sprang into the ring and kissed his protege, and then aided in carrying him from the ring. He was unmarked, while Sharkey bore a score of bruises.

It was exactly 10 o'clock when Sharkey entered the ring, attended by Tom O'Rourke, Jack Sullivan, Jimmy Buckley and George Dixon. The satior was clad as usual, in green trunks with the Ameri can flag as a sash. Rubiln entered a mo-ment later with Billy Madden, Kid Mc-Coy, Charlie Goff and Jim Corbett as his seconds. The men tossed for choice of corners, and Sharkey won, taking the corner he occupied when he met Jeffries. Both wore bandages and little time was lost in putting on the gloves. Both men looked to be in excellent condition, but looked to be in excellent co when they shook hands in the center of when they shook hands in the center of the ring. Rublin showed a remarkable ad-vantage in height over the more rugged sailor. Both were met with loud cheers when introduced. Referee Johnny White gave the men their instructions, and the gong rang for the fray.

The Fight by Rounds.

The Fight by Rounds.

Round i-Sharkey immediately assumed the aggressive, and rushed Gus to a neutral corner, where they clinched. Tom rushed and led aguin, sending both hands to the body. Gus was rattled, but soon collected himself and placed both hands to the body. Tom rushed again, put his right to the body, but was short for the head, and Gus nailed him with both hands on the head shaking Tom up, but he came back with a rush and was mixing it up when the bell rang.

he came back with a rush and was mixing it up when the bell rang.

Round 2-Tom rushed over to Ruhlin's corner and swung wildly for the head. Gus planted a right over the heart and a straight left to the face, but Tom would not go back, and, coming strong, slammed his left hard to the neck. Gus then took a hand and jabbed his left hard to the face, and followed with his right. Tom steadled himself and worked both hands to the body, and Gus landed his left and right to the head. The fighting was remarkably fast for big men, and the crowd was cheering wildly.

Round 3-Tom rushed, and Gus met him

Round 3-Tom rushed, and Gus met him with both hands to the head. "Hook low and wallop," yelled O'Rourke, but Tom was mad, and again rushed wildly. Gus slammed him with both hands, but could not keep him off. Tom then drove both hands to the body, and Gus countered with his left to the bead. Tom dropped to escape punishment. He was right up only to get both hands to the face and head from Gus. Tom was bleeding at the nose when the bell rang, and both were tired. Round 4—Gus danced about and rushed.

Round 8-Tom rushed again and joited his right to the body. Gus closed and landed his left and right to the face. Tom was still aggressive and rushed Gus across the ring. Again Gus jabbed and swung with a right across to the jaw. Tom dodged it. Tom rushed only to take a left on the face and a right on the jaw. Tom staggered and Gus rushed and banged with both hands to the jaw, and Tom went to the floor, taking the count, and only got to his feet as the bell rang. Round 9-Tom rushed and Gus met him with a straight left to the face that jarred him. Tom swung wildly, but his blows landed accound the neck, and Gus planted both hands to the body. Tom still came on, but Gus measured him and sent was still aggressive and rushed came on, but Gus measured him and sent a crashing right to the jaw. He could not keep the sailor away, but every time he came, Gus was ready for him and sent his left and right to the head with telling effect. Gus looked the best at the bell.

Round 10-Gus stood in his corner in crouching position, and when Tom came in sent him back with a short right on the jaw. Tom rushed back and sent a terrific left to the body. He tried to repeat the blow, but Gus blocked it and sent back a left to the head. Gus mixed it with him, and Tom made him wabble with a right on the law. Gus then swung a right to the body that could be heard throughout the building, but the sailor was good yet and was rushing again when the bell rang. Round II—Tom rushed and swung his left was bleeding badly from the eye and nose. Tom rushed to a clinch and pulled Gus across the ring. They broke, and Tom sent a hard right to Ruhlin's body. Gus shifted about the ring, but met Sharkey's rushes with left jabs. Neither man's blows were carrying any force. Round 13-Tom rushed, but Gus danced planted his powerful punches. They clashed in desperate clinches, and were broken time and again. Sharkey showed an inclination to rough it, and with wrestles in the clinches, and the unsympathetic crowd hissed and hooted at him. Cries of "foul" rang from the crowd, but the referee refused to interfere.

The finish was dramatic. Sharkey had struggled through the left round by four transport of the body, Gus jabbed his left to the face, and almost took Tom off his feet. Ruhlin now seemed stronger, and three times joited his right to the head. Tom was bad, and Gus banged him with both hands, playing heavily on the bead. I looked as if he would surely see. head. but by hanging on he managed to stay the round. Round 15-Tom was up first. He closed, but Gus sent him away with a short left and right jolt on the body. Tom looked tired and Gus followed him and jabbed his head back and crossed his right to the jaw. Tom staggered and Ruhlin stepped in and banged him with both hands until the sallor staggered to the floor. He was up at the count, but unable to make a defense, and again he went to the car pet from Ruhlin's blows. With bull-do pet from Ruhlin's blows. With bull-dog gameness he struggled again to his feet. Gus. by this time, was hardly able to use his hands. When Tom again regained his feet Gus staggered to the game sallor and sent short lefts and rights to the head that looked as if they would not hurt a child, but Tom was so badly done up that he again went down under them hurt a child, but Tom was so badly done up that he again went down under them. Again he rose blindly to his feet, and Gus walked to him. Tom tried to clinch, but Gus stepped back and put a straight left to the face and a right upper-cut to the jaw. Tom then toppled forward, all out, and Referee Johnny White waved Ruhlin to his corner, while the sallor purillist, seconds carried bits. pugilist's seconds carried him to his corner, where he gradually revived, and was soon able to leave the ring.

After the Fight.

When seen in his dressing-room, Ruhlin acted like a big child. "Well, what did you think of it?" was his greeting to the interviewers. "Didn't I do all right? I'm a big, slow fellow and can't fight, maybe; but I won, didn't I? Tom's a tough, game fellow, and gave me a good fight, but I had not any doubt as to the ending. I'm not hurt, and feel fine, and whatever Billy Madden says

Sharkey was much downhearted, but said he had no excuses to make. He was willing to meet his conquerer again, and had $10,000 to wager that there would be a different result on their next meeting. Jim Corbett was highly elated over Ruhlin's victory. He said Jeffries had done a lot of talking lately, and will now have to make good his bluff or quit.

The Contest to Be Desperate.
Chicago Tribune, Rep.
It is always the height of folly, and nowhere more so than in a political con-test, to underestimate the strength of the enemy. It is equally foolish to presume upon one's own strength, the excellence of principles, or the popularity of candi-dates. It will be wiser and safer for the managers of the Republican campaign managers of the Republican campaign to realize that they are confronted by a united, a resourceful, and an unscrupu-lous enemy, headed by a wily, plausible and dangerous leader. Unless that enemy shall commit some extraordinary blunder at Kansas City, Republicans must make up their minds they will have a desperate contest, and set accordingly. contest, and act accordingly.

the Vicercy of Yuman, saying that M. Francois, the French Consul, and those with him at Yuman Sen, started June M for Tonquin. The Vicercy, it was added, had a number of well-officered soldlers accompanying the party for protection over the entire route, and it was believed they would be able to leave the province without difficulty. The Minister also said he had received a dispatch saying the Europeans at Pekin on that date were well and safe, but its importance was lost, as it was not dated. Daily Treasury Statement.
