DISTRIBUTION OF BLACK BASS,-A SPORTS n wishes to be informed as to how ely black bass are distributed throughout the Northwest and where they are caught, as he has beard that some of these fish have been on sale in the mar-kets of Portland. It is understood that those sold in the markets here came from some lake or likes near Spokane. It is mpossible to say how widely they are listributed. Some black bass were plant-ed a number of years ago in lakes or ponds near Tacoma by Captain J. C. Ainsworth, and a few were put in the Williamette at Oregon City by E. W. Bingham about a dozen years ago. It is said that base can be caught in the Williams. said that bass can be caught in the Will-amette just above Salem, and that there is a pand stocked with them near In-dependence. One was caught in a fish-wheel at the Cascades two years ago, but although a sharp lookout has been leter on some of the wheels there this year, not another bass has been seen. No special effort has been made to intro-duce the black bass into the waters of this section, as there have been obtenthis section, as there have been objec-tions made to the scheme by some sports-men, who say that they will destroy the trout, while others allege that the base will not thrive in the swift streams frequented by trout. It is quite certain that bass will escape from ponds in which they have been planted, and sooner or later will be found in all the waters of this region suited to them.

THE CHANGES IN TEACHERS,-In answer to several inquiries as to how many changes were made in the corps of teachers in the public schools, it may be stated that there were 13 vacancies filled. Two of these were filled by the election of of these were filled by the election of teachers who had been on leave of absence, viz., Amelia Ehlers, Central School, and Metia Brown, Park School. Two of the vacancies were filled by promotion from the pupil teacher class—Flora Le Roy, Park School, and Elizabeth Shofner, Sellwood School. Nine vacancies were filled by teachers not heretofore connected with the schools as follows: with the schools as follows: Charlotte Crawford and Agnes Plummer, Atkinson School; Eva H. Cole, Couch School; Emma Timms, North Central School; Nelles Dunne, Fulton School; Ma-bel Downs, Harrison-Street School; Arthur Breeze, High School; Lillie Mock, Midway School; Laura Myers, Thompson Every taxpayer in the city will be pleased to learn that eight of the nine new teachers are residents of Portland, as this shows that it is not necessary to import talent of this kind. The ninth new teacher is Miss Myers, of Scho, a sister of "Jeff" Myers, a well-known nalities.

ONE BARREL WAS EMPTY.-The barrels set at various prominent corners down town for donation of old rubber for the benefit of the woman's building at the Elks' flesta attract a good deal of atten-tion from all classes of pedestrians. The donations so far found in them suggest the wariety of uses to which caoutchous is put, as well as the curiosity of the average man, woman and child, who for the moment "rubbernecks" over the rim of the barrel. Old garden hose, bicycle tires and tubes, long-legged rubber boots, overshoes, rain coats, etc., frequently make quite a showing in the barrels, but in the one at the corner of Third and Alder yesterday afternoon the contribu-Ander yesternay atternoon the contribu-tion was so menger as to cause a smile on the part of those who stopped to peep in. Two solitary rubber rings, from the neck of some fruit jar, had been dropped in by some child, and the little donation was perhaps the best the wee one could do. That all sorts of old rubber is thank-fully received at this juncture goes with-out saying.

HAND BLOWN OFF.—Seeley M. Langdon, of 622 Williams avenue, is the first victim this year of a serious injury due directly to Fourth of July fireworks. While making a torpedo bomb for some children in the neighborhood on Tuesday evening, the various elements ignited and a terrific explosion took place, blowing off his right hand. The report was heard for blocks, and all the other fireworks and torpedoes were set off by the explosion, and the result was confusing. Langdon immediately secured assistance; his hand was bound up and he came over to the St. Vincent's Hospital, where the wound was dressed. All of the fingers of the right hand excepting one were severely injured by the explosion and had to be WANT AN EVENING OFF.-A number of the native-born Chinese boys who are members of the Chinese-American Evigade, are employed in various places where they have to work evenings. They are naturally very anxious, as every American citizen should be, to partici-pate in the celebration of the great and glorious Fourth, and are anxious to have their employers excuse them from duty on the evening of that day, in order that they may take in the whole "shooting match." Their employers will doubtless grant their desire readily, and thus help to increase the consumption of bombs and emckers on this occasion.

OFIUM AT AUCTION,-There is likely to be quite a lively competition among Chinese merchants for the purchase of the 100 five-tael cans of oplum seized by the customs officers, which are to be sold at the office of the Appraiser of Customs Saturday. The last lot of confiscated opium sold by the Collector of Customs brought a higher price then any ever before sold here, the price paid being $5 $5 per can stamped, the stamp being worth $2.45. There will be sold at the same time a lot of Japanese curios, clothing, a camera and a trunk, none of which is likely to be so eagerly sought after as the oplum.

Will Be ARRAIGNED TODAY.—Fay Severe, the 17-year-old negress arrested for the murder of Emma Golden, will be required by the court. Among the wit-nesses who will be heard today are Wal-ter Brown, Archie Hill, Annie Parker, "Dollar Hill" St. Clair, Morton Freeman and D. D. Green, most of whom gave damaging testimony against the defend-ant before the Coroner's inquest last Monday.

MANY PROPER AT NORTH BRACK-There nore people at the coast now than before at this time of year, says Frank Botefuhr, who returned from a week's stay at North Beach yesterday. The weather was delightful last week, but it rained Sunday, and it has been very warm since. Clams are plentiful, and all are enjoying themselves. Two boats run dafly between Astoria and Ilwaco, which is a great convenience to people visiting the coast. The unusual number of people at the shore is attributed to the up rates of fure.

No Short Chance.-The young ladies who will be in charge of the cigar stores and newsstands of Messrs. B. B. Rich and I. Sichel next Saturday will not ad-vance prices. Regular patrons will re-ceive their favorite brands at the usual price. The Elks and friends of the ladies will be served with the best goods in the market at ruling prices. BASEBALL!

LAST COMMISSIONERS' MERTING.—At the least regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners held yesterday all the regular June bills were allowed to go over to come before the new board. A petition for the Brodle road was read a second time and continued for consid-eration later. Commissioners Holbrook and Smith were clearing up their desks preparatory to retiring from office. Mr. Holbrook has been Commissioner for eight consecutive years, and also served a term from 1878 to 1886. Mr. Smith was appointed Commissioner by Governor Geer when the board was reorganized by act of Legislature and took his seat in November, 18%. Commissioner Steel holds over. SCHOOL OF EXPRESSION.—The annual re-cital of Mrs. Gillespie's School of Ex-pression was held last evening at the Grace M. E. Church. The restrum was Gence M. E. Church. The rostrum was decorated after the Greek fashion, tasisfully, yet severely, with pure white hangings and a few greens. Busts of several Greek orators called attention to the ideals of the school. All the students who took part showed ability and skill in the expression of their selections, both in the expression of their selections, but in voice and gesture. Intersperse through the programme were several striking groups, representing some clas-sical scenes in statuesque effect.

POTTER'S SUMMER RUN.-Arrangements are now being perfected to put the steamer T. J. Potter on the special Sum-mer run between Portland and Ilwaco. The Potter will probably make her first trip Saturday afternoon, leaving Portland at 1 o'clock. On week days she will leave this city at 9 in the morning, but on Saturdays she will not go until the afternoon to give the business men an oppor-tunity to go to the coast for Sunday. This boat will probably make three trips a week each way.

FANNEL BY INVESIGE BREEZE.—In a window of the Moyer Clothing Company is the figure of a boy dressed in his Sunday best and carrying an American flag. The fact that the flag is fluttering in a lively manner as if a strong breeze were blowing, causes many to stop and gaze curiously at the unusual spectacle. Many go in to inquire how the flag is made to flutter, but others at once conclude that there is an electric fan not far off, though nothing of the kind is visible.

PORTLAND MERCHANT DIES.—Wolf Rosenthal, one of Portland's old merchants, died yesterday afternoon at his home corner Park and College streets, at the age of 48. The deceased had been en-gaged in merchandising in Portland for 20 years. For the past 10 years he had been located at 30 North Third. He left a wife and eight children. He was a member of the Oregon Lodge, I. O. B. B The funeral will take place Friday at 1 P. M. from the residence.

Incomponents of the Pacific Navigation Company were filed in the County Clerk's office yeasteday. The capital stock is $50,000, and the incorporators are Samuel Elmore. Theodore B. Wilcox, L. A. Levis and Paul Schrader. The objects announced are the operation of a line of steamers between Portland, Astoria and Tillamook City and other points, particularly harbors in Oregon, California, Washington

REVIVAL SERVICES.-Rev. Ray Palmer preached to a large audience at the Sec-ond Baptist Church last evening, after which 12 converts were baptized. The pastor had contemplated taking his vacation the 1st of July, but the interest in the meetings has been so great that he has decided to conduct special services at the Second Baptist Church for two weeks, commencing next Thursday night, Langman Killish,—The Electric Line-men's Association received news yesterday of the terrible death of M. J. Quin lan at Vancouver, B. C. He was trans-ferring wires from an old to a new pole when the old pole gave way. He made a leap for the new pole, but his spurs broke and he fell to the ground, being in-stantly killied. Season at Cordray's.

"A Spring Chicken," the bright farce comedy which is now playing at Cor-dray's, will be the last attraction in the most successful season Portland has ever seen, and such is the magnetism of the play that it has been drawing hig houses every night this week. The advance sale for the remaining performances has been unusually large, and there is no doubt that given a preliminary examination this morning in the Municipal Court before Judge Hennessy. Half a dozen colored witnesses are now in the City Jaii, having been unable to accure the root of the season. The comedy is one that makes every one laugh, which is what every one wants to do this kind. Judge Hennessy. Half a dozen colored one that makes every one laugh, which witnesses are now in the City Jail, havis what every one wants to do this kind ing been unable to secure the $200 bonds of weather. The theater is thoroughly ventilated, and is the coolest place to spend an evening in Portland.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Kellar's New Deceits.

The sale of seats begins tomorrow morning for Magician Kellar, who is without question the greatest necromancer of modern times. He will appear in this city with an entertainment which promises to eclipse his former efforts in every detail. He deals this year in the mysteries of the Hindoo magicians, about whom so much has been written and whose exploits he fairly rivals. He will offer a dozen new illusions and a host of new tricks in small magic at the Marquam Grand next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

CHINESE TO TAKE PART

ONE BIG FEATURE OF FOURTH OF JULY PARADE.

First Thing of the Kind Ever Attempted on the Pacific Const-Meeting Tonight.

Portland has undertaken a big job in extending the Fourth of July celebration this year over a period of three days, but the citizens in charge of the flesta have made ample preparations to fill in the time with a variety of sports, con-certs, parades, illuminations and literary entertainments of there is no dancer entertainments, so there is no danger of surfeiting the pleasure-seeker with a monotony of fun. The official programme will be out in a few days, and the public will then see how each day will be devoted to a particular series. On the evening of the 3d a grand hip-podrome concert will be given in the park squares, which are being prepared for the occasion, bandsmands and Chi-nese lanterns being among the auxiliaries. On the night of the Fourth the great parade will take place, and this will be an event long to be remembered with plensure, judging from the number of people engaged in preparing floats and stirring scenes for it. The Chinese spec-nicle will be an effort never before attempted by the Celestials outside of China, as they have never been given such encouragement as they have in Port-The Celestials residing in Oregon have always been treated with courtesy, and as a consequence they are going to take part in this Fourth with enthu-Their big silk dragon will travel through the streets like an immense sea serpent, borne by 300 priests in costume, reaming over the land, as it is nearly a block long. The cost of getting this up, according to Seid Back, Jr., is nearly $2300. As the dragon is a sacred thing in China, its appearance on the streets of Portland is only another evidence of that people's good will. That their pertion of the parade will be paid as much respect as any other goes without saying. Eighteen civic societies are preparing to swell the procession with a full representation, and not less than 50 m will accompany each float, which will be symbolic of the society's efforts and re-suits. Many of the floats will be quite expensive. The Seventh Regulars, now at Van-couver, have accepted an invitation to take part in the military review, and the Second Oregon will also be out in force, while several companies of the Oregon National Guard are expected in the city from the interior. This has become a military age, and the anniversary of 1909 will possess strong military features. General Summers asks all members of the Second Oregon to meet him at room 600 Chamber of Commerce Saturday even-

All other veterans of the Spanish War are also cordially invited to take An important meeting of the promoters of the celebration will be held this evening at the headquarters of the committee, room 40. Y. P. C. U. CONVENTION

Excellent Programme Under Auspices of United Brethren Church.

The Y. P. C. U. branch state conven-ion of the Oregon conference of the tion of the Oregon conference of the United Brethren denomination convened in the First Church, on the corner of East Morrison and Fifteenth streets, yesterday morning. Premptly at 5 o'clock the convention was called to order by H. C. Shaffer, the president. Immediately at the close of the devotional services. Professor P. O. Bonebrake, of Philomath, was introduced. He responded with a short talk on "Young People and Education." talk on "Young People and Education. a hop on the spacious verandas Saturday, June 30. The hall has been refitted throughout. Rev. L. Harter. from Hopewell, next presented the subject, "Young People and Christian Stewardship." setting forth plainly the duties of the young people as well as the old with regard to the supplying of church fonds. He was followed by Bishon J. S. Mills. D. D., of Denver. by Bishop J. S. Mills, D. D., of Denver, Colo. The bishop took up the subject of "Young People and Social Conditions," and set forth his arguments in a remarkably forcible manner. He said in part; Bishop Mills' Address.

"As I understand the subject, it refers not to socials and parties, but to the relation of man to man and the moral condition of human kind. There are many different phases of the subject. We hear frequently of labor strikes and the troubles of wage-earners, but these, of course, do not constitute the whole sub-ject of sociology. The movements toward reform on these lines are characteristic of the day in which we live, and what they seek is a bettering of the social con-ditions.

"The church is now turning its attention to accialism. Its former attitude was only the saving of men's souls, so that they could get into heaven, and to my mind the aim was a selfish one. But churches are now striving to establish a better social condition; they wish to make the present situation a happier and better state, so that man will enjoy life and thank God for it. One of the greatest means toward this end is the betterment and Christianizing of the home, that fountain of all that is best in life. The true home illustrates what the great body of men would be if they were Christians. "Much of this reform work can be done by the young people. In the heart of youth there is always the great inspiration of hope. They can be enlisted in this service and by means of their hopefulness accomplish marvelous results. Amiles service and by means of their hopeful-ness accomplish marvelous results. Armies of young people must be drawn up for the conflict and taught to exert their in-fluence for the best that is in man."

At the close of the bishop's address the convention adjourned until 2 P. M., when the afternoon discussion was opened. The subject was, "Our Attitude Toward Re-form. The best ways of making reforms in literature, Sunday observance, religious life, courtship and marriage, were ably dislife, courtship and marriage, were ably dis cussed by the delegates.

At its conclusion reports from the various unions of the state were read, showing good work and much enthusiasm. Officers for the year were then voted upon, but, owing to the latences of the hour, the counting of the ballots was deferred.

The convention adjourned until 7:30 in the evening, when Bishop N. Castle, D. D., delivered a fine address on "The Desire of a Dying King and the Search of a Heathen Philosopher."
